Steam-Ironed Collars...

Have you noticed the pliable feature of the "Lackawanna finish," on collars and cuffs? It about does away with cracking. Steam-heated rolls on the ironing machine produce that flexibility which could never be obtained with gas.

As we practice it, laund-
drying is a fine art.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Godfrey are home from a week in New York City.

Walter M. Watson, of Dallas, Tex., spent yesterday with Ray C. Megarcel, of this city.

Miss Coppinger, of New York City, is the guest of her son, T. E. Coppinger, of 1012 Vine street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Tobey and family, of North Park, have returned from a visit with friends at Scranton.

The condition of Rev. J. J. Lansing, who has been confined to his home by illness for the past two weeks, was slightly improved yesterday. Rev. Mr. Stearns acted as supply for Dr. Lansing yesterday, preaching morning and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Burkhardt, of Aberdeen, entertained at Thanksgiving dinner. Those present were: Mrs. C. W. Curtis, M. Curtis, Mrs. Tolmie and daughters, Maybelle and Maude, of Elmhurst; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts and daughter, Mildred, of Peckville; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lewis, Belle and Selma Lewis, of Dunmore; Miss Fanny Curtis, of Clark's Green, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Davis, of Kingston, Pa.

FIRST FALL OF SNOW.

It began to snow yesterday afternoon shortly after 5 o'clock and it continued to snow until after 10 o'clock last night, by which time the whole city was enveloped in a garb of white. There was a perceptible drop in the temperature long towards midnight, which would seem to be an indication that there would be no more snow.

The snow which did fall was of that soft disagreeable kind known as "wet snow," the kind that forms into slush when it strikes the sidewalk and that makes walking anything but a delight.

TWO OUT-OF-TOWN LISTS.

Tribune's Junior Educational Contest Attracting Attention Everywhere.

The Tribune's Junior Educational Contest is becoming well known everywhere in Northeastern Pennsylvania. In the month since it was announced, a great many lists of words have been sent by bright young people who are anxious to match their ability and the keenness of their brains against others in an effort to win one of the twenty Christmas presents in cash offered to the score who make the largest list of words out of the phrase, "The Home Paper."

These contestants are not limited to the city of Scranton and its environs. On the contrary, more lists of words have been sent by young people residing outside the borders of the Electric City than from those within. Yesterday's additions were:

George Beetens, Moscow, Pa.
Florence Packard, Brooklyn, Pa.

ONE OF FROHMAN'S BEST.

That Is What "The Two Schools" Which Is Here Tonight Is.

When Mr. Charles Frohman visited Scranton recently with his magnificent new production of "Imprudence," he was very much impressed and gratified with the generous patronage extended, and the appreciation evidenced for high class productions at the Lyceum theater, and in return he promised to send all of his best attractions here this season. He is keeping that promise by sending us tomorrow night "The Two Schools," a new four-act comedy by Alfred Capes. This will be the same magnificent production and all-star cast which has just completed a brilliant run of three months at the Madison Square theater, New York.

Among the well-known artists who will appear tomorrow night are James Lee Finney, Ida Conquest, Jessie Buzley, M. A. Kennedy, Beatrice Morgan, Mitchell Smith, Ida Waterman and a number of the well-known people in the Frohman forces.

AWAITING THE DECISION.

Pittsburg Deeply Interested in Decision in Scranton Case.

Pittsburg is waiting a decision of the supreme court in the case from this city involving the question of a second class city's right to tax the gross receipts of existing public service corporations.

If the decision is in favor of the city, the Pittsburgh authorities propose to put a tax on the gross receipts of every street car, electric light, gas and other like companies. Ordinances granting franchises to the Pittsburgh Railways company for new lines in various parts of the city are now before the council.

They will be granted, the opinion in Pittsburgh seems to be only on condition that the company agrees to having its gross receipts taxed. There is no question, in the minds of the Pittsburgh authorities but that new companies can be thus taxed under the provisions of the new charter, but it is in question in the Scranton case now before the Supreme court as to the rights to impose such a tax on existing companies.

OPENING OF MISSIONS.

First Exercises Were Held Yesterday in St. Peter's Cathedral—This Week for Women.

Four members of the Passionist order began the conduct of a three weeks' mission at St. Peter's cathedral yesterday.

A solemn high mass was celebrated at 10:30 o'clock by Rev. Dr. J. J. Loughran, assisted by Rev. P. E. Lavette as deacon and Rev. P. Boland as sub-deacon. Rt. Rev. Bishop M. J. Hoban occupied his throne and was attended by Rev. J. A. O'Reilly and Rev. J. J. Griffin.

Immediately after the first gospel had been sung the acolytes formed in procession and marched to the main door of the cathedral, where they met the four Passionist fathers, all of whom were attired in their habits. Father Gregory bore aloft a large crucifix, and, followed by his fellow priests and the acolytes, he came up the center aisle chanting psalms.

When the sanctuary was reached the four priests knelt before the altar and offered a special prayer to the Holy Ghost, asking for recreation in their work and beseeching that success may crown their efforts. Father Gregory placed the crucifix on the main altar above the tabernacle and there it will remain until the mission is over. He then preached a sermon in which he dwelt particularly upon the opportunities which will be afforded for spiritual improvement during the next two weeks to those who have been like-warm in their practice of religion.

The coming week will be given over to the women and the first of a series of sermons designed especially for them was delivered last night by Father Gregory. There was also benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. There will be mission masses every morning this week at 8 and 8 o'clock, each to be followed by instructions, and benediction and sermon each night at 7:30 o'clock. The services next week will be for the men of the parish.

There were special instructions for the children yesterday afternoon and there will be continued today and tomorrow at 4 o'clock. The priests who are conducting the mission are Fathers Gregory and Eugene, of this city; Father Albert, of Cincinnati, and Father Norbert, of Baltimore.

PREPARING FOR THE HEARINGS

OPERATORS AND MINERS ARE HARD AT WORK.

Expert Accountants on Both Sides Going Over the Companies' Books with a View of Agreeing, as Far as Possible, on the Mathematics of the Wage Question—Commissioners to Reassemble Tomorrow and Have a Conference at Night. First Day May Be of Interest.

The mine strike commissioners will reassemble here tomorrow to proceed with the taking of testimony in the interrupted hearings. Commissioners, Watkins, Clark and Parker, comprising the sub-committee appointed to use the good offices of the commission in assisting as conciliators in bringing about an amicable adjustment are now in the city.

They do not expect to have any call on their "good offices" as conciliators. The other commissioners have reengaged their rooms at the Jermyn for an indefinite period, beginning tomorrow. A conference of the commissioners will take place at the Jermyn tomorrow night.

Vice President David Wilcox, of the Delaware and Hudson company is the only one of the out-of-town counsel for the coal companies who has arrived. He and James H. Torrey, of this city, local counsel for the Delaware and Hudson, have been conferring for the past few days on the evidence they company will present. The counsel of all the companies are to meet Thursday or Friday to confer about the presentation of their side of the case.

Have Daily Conferences.

President Mitchell, Attorney Darrow, Mr. Lloyd, Dr. Weyl and others of the miners' representatives before the commission, are in daily conference regarding the reopening of their case. The miners' expert accountants are going over the figures of the companies on the matter of wages in pursuance to the suggestion of the commission that such matters of mathematics as can be agreed upon shall be presented jointly, and without attendant controversy.

There is still a complete absence of any definite knowledge as to how long the sessions of the commission will last. Speculation as to how long the commission will be here taking the testimony, fixes the period at from three weeks to three months. Judging from the great mass of evidence the companies have prepared coupled with their determination to have every phase of the controversy thoroughly threshed out before the commissioners, makes the latter guess the more reasonable one.

Dr. Roberts' Testimony.

When the commission adjourned, Rev. Peter Roberts, Ph. D., was on the stand about to be cross-examined by John T. Lennahan, of counsel for the non-union miners.

If the commission takes up the work where it left off the first day of the second sitting of the commission will likely develop some interesting reading matter as Mr. Lennahan, it is understood, has some very pointed questions to put to the miners' witnesses regarding their views on the rights and wrongs of the non-unionist.

Proceedings in Book Form.

Recognizing the widespread interest taken all over the country in the testimony and argument before the Anthracite Strike Commission, the Tribune will print in convenient book form the reports appearing in its columns from day to day, and will offer a limited edition of copies for sale at $1 each. The volume will consist of several hundred pages, eight by eleven inches, and will appear as soon as the commissioners render their decision. The daily reports in the Tribune miss nothing of essential interest and are the fullest and most accurate reports printed in any newspaper. Orders should be sent to The Tribune now as the edition is liable to be exhausted.

KNELLER EXONERATED.

Fire Captain Declared Not Guilty by Court of Inquiry.

The findings of the court of inquiry appointed by Director of Public Safety Wormser to hear evidence regarding the charges preferred by former Permanent Man Frank Dombacher, against Captain Edward Kneller, of Hose company No. 6, were approved by Recorder Connell on Saturday and were made public.

SUES FORMER PARTNER.

Attorney Wilcox Wants Accounting from Attorney Patterson.

Attorney William A. Wilcox, who recently accepted a position as trust officer of the Title Guaranty and Trust company, has brought a suit in equity against his former law partner, Roswell H. Patterson. He asks that a receiver be appointed and that a general accounting of the firm's business be made and that all moneys due him, including 166 shares of stock of the Consolidated Water Supply company, of Carbondale, be paid over.

Attorneys Wilcox and Patterson entered into partnership on September 30, 1881, and remained as business associates until quite recently. Mr. Wilcox is represented by William, Warren & Knapp and Henry Hardlag.
