DEFENDERS DEFEAT THE CENTRALS, OF PATERSON, N. J. Visitors Were Not in the Best of Form, Showing the Effects of Their Hard Game at North Scranton, Friday Night—Centrals Returned to Their Home Yesterday Afternoon—President James Hawck Entertained the Members of the Round X Club—Short Notes.

Another game of basket ball was played on Saturday night, between the Defenders and the Centrals, of Paterson, N. J. The game was not as interesting as the one played on Thanksgiving. The visitors were somewhat out of form and showed the effects of their game with the North Scranton Crackerjacks the night before. Nevertheless, they played a plucky, uphill game throughout and only the desperate efforts of Kane, Holand and Tighe prevented them from scoring several times.

The home team played with more vim and energy than in the first game, and went after the ball with such determination that the first two baskets were thrown in less than five minutes. At the end of the first half the score was 6-1 in favor of the Defenders. In the second half, five more baskets were made, when the game was called a few minutes before time, as Ramsey, of the Centrals, received a bad smash over the eye, which prevented him seeing the ball. The final score was 16-1 for the home team, the visitors gaining their only point on a foul.

Round X Club in Session. Another pleasant social session of the Round X club took place yesterday afternoon at the club's headquarters, when nearly every member was in attendance. The affair was in commemoration of the birthday of the president, James Hawck, and a pleasant afternoon was spent by the members.

The World's Medicine.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Are the Best and Safest Family Medicine

This assertion is made very seriously, and after duly weighing all the reasons that lead to the conclusion. If BEECHAM'S PILLS were novel, untried, and experimental, like so many modern advertised compounds, such a positive statement could not be put forward. But everyone knows for a fact that BEECHAM'S PILLS have stood the searching test of over fifty years' continuously advancing popularity, until to-day the demand for this specific in all parts of the world is greater than ever.

WHY? Because those who once try BEECHAM'S PILLS are naturally impelled to inform others of the benefits to be derived therefrom. This is perhaps a slow, but it is certainly an honest and a powerful process, and in this way the confidence and esteem of the public have been lastingly secured.

No other Medicine in the World can claim so many Regular Users

Thousands of families always keep a box of BEECHAM'S PILLS in the house so that on the first sign of any irregularity of the system a timely dose may be administered and further trouble and suffering averted. Nine-tenths of the BEECHAM'S PILLS sold are purchased by those who HAVE USED THEM BEFORE and have found them indispensable as

A Family Medicine.

Griscorn and Keppold. Not many years ago King Leopold of Belgium was one day holding court in Brussels. Among those waiting to be presented were Clement Anton Griscorn and Mrs. Griscorn and the United States minister to Belgium, Mrs. Griscorn had never met the queen. The minister, recently appointed, had just arrived in Brussels, and stood directly in front of the Griscorns. When he was presented the king greeted him in his hearty way, welcomed him to Belgium, and then, suddenly breaking off, said:

"By the way, have you ever met Griscorn, Clement A. Griscorn? No! Well, you should! He is a rare good fellow and a great friend of mine," and the king went on with as sincere and honest a eulogy as ever man uttered. He had not noticed Mr. Griscorn. All at once he caught sight of him.

"Why, hello Griscorn!" he cried, his face beaming with pleasure; "what are you doing here?" And he shook his hand, an act quite beyond the pale of court etiquette—Lawrence Perry, in the World's Work.
