The Children's Favorite.
One of the greatest difficulties encountered when children are ill, is the objection they have to taking medicine. The remedy must be pleasant or the patience of the parent is exhausted before it is successfully administered. Mr. G. G. Wagner, of Spring Grove, Pa., overcomes this annoyance by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says his little boy always asks for it whenever he catches cold. This remedy has become the children's favorite. It is pleasant to take and it always cures and cures quickly. For sale by druggists.

THEATRICAL.

Children's Matinee This Afternoon.
At the Lyceum this afternoon a special children's matinee of "The Tom's Cabin" will be given. While the play has been shamefully abused by barnstorming companies, it has also been placed on a scale of magnificence by the Lyceum, which has astonished the theater-going world. The special prices will prevail for the matinee to-day are 10, 20 and 30 cents; night, 10, 20 and 30 cents. A grand street parade will be given this morning.

Large Sale for John Drew.
Everything now indicates that the audience which will greet John Drew at the Lyceum Monday night will be one of the largest and most brilliant which has gathered at the popular play house in years. Mr. Drew has just closed the most successful engagement of his career at the Empire Theater, New York, in his new play "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," which he will present with the most careful and most satisfactory preparation at the Lyceum. It is an undeniable fact that Mr. Drew has never had a more satisfactory venue in his career than at the Lyceum under the management of Charles Frohman. The role of Lord Lumley, the scientist, deeply engrossed in his researches, and the part of the scientist's artistic methods, it gives him opportunity for the best comedy work in which he excels, while there are stronger situations that bring out his dramatic power to its fullest extent. At the ending of the third act, the scene between Mr. Drew and Guy Standing has made a deep impression on the audience and was received with many curtain calls at every performance. Miss Margaret Dale, now in her first season as Mr. Drew's leading woman, has given complete satisfaction, while Lionel Barrymore has made a distinct individual hit as the Italian. The cast of characters is as follows:
Lord Lumley..... Guy Standing
Commander Lord Ronalds, R. N..... Lewis Baker
Guy Standing..... Lionel Barrymore
John Lumley..... Reginald Carrington
Markham..... Robert Schable
Thomas..... David Henderson
Clara..... Marie Heliconson
Mrs. Ruth Thornton..... Marie Heliconson
Cummings..... Constance Bell
Seats on sale. The management has decided to sell the complete four rows in the gallery on Monday night from 7 until 7:30 o'clock. First come, first served. These reserved seats tickets for the gallery will be sold at the box office for 50 cents, and purchasers will be admitted through the main entrance.

"When Knighthood Was in Flower."
Frank L. Peiler's star, Eric Ellsler, will appear at the Lyceum Wednesday night in Julius Maitland's production, "When Knighthood Was in Flower." The company recently played an engagement in Philadelphia. The house was sold out before the company arrived and standing room was at a premium, many people brought camp chairs with them, and the house was sold out at $2.00 per seat. After the performance the entire company were given a banquet at the New Hotel Astor. Seats on sale this morning at 9.

"The Major and the Judge."
At the Lyceum Wednesday night, "The Major and the Judge," will be presented at the Lyceum. The company is a very large and capable one, including Mr. Lewis and Sam J. Ryan, and Maud Huth, who are supported by the well known Doherty Sisters, Charles Pussey, Billy Pratt, May Peterson, Edna Wood, and other equally known artists. "The Major and the Judge" as a scenic production, cannot be surpassed. Larchmont, of Long Island Sound, is one of the most picturesque places in the United States, hundreds of New York business men live there all the year round, going to their places in the morning and returning in the afternoon. A pictorial presentation of this beautiful spot, is given in "The Major and the Judge." Seats on sale Monday at 9 a. m.

"A Ragged Hero."
Yesterday's stars seemed to increase rather than decrease the attendance at the Academy of Music, for two good sized audiences witnessed the excellent farce and comedy, "A Ragged Hero." The final performance will be given this afternoon and evening.
Newsboys' Benefit Monday.
Of the many new productions this season, "The Ragged Hero" is a striking story of actual life by Hal Reid, which will appeal to all classes of people, and which serves to introduce to the public as a new and original play, the work of the artist which will be given its first production in this city at the Academy of Music the first three days of next week, commencing with a special Monday matinee. The proceeds of which will be given to provide a Christmas dinner for the newsboys of Scranton.
The play itself is a story of parental love, outraged by the infatuation of a son for a woman socially his superior, and which leads to complications of a most dramatic nature. The play is taken from the cut and dried incidents employed in the usual run of comedy drama. Mr. Welch is given full scope for depicting the character of the father, and the performance will no doubt be a pleasant one. Seats on sale.
