RARELY BEAUTIFUL AFTERNOON NUPTIALS

Miss Isabelle Freeman, Youngest Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace Watt, and Thomas Sayre Atherton, of Scranton, Wedded at First Presbyterian Church—A Fashionable Event in Which Society Was Greatly Interested—The Beautiful Artistic Details.

An event in which the interest and anticipation of society in Carbondale centered for weeks was solemnized yesterday afternoon in the fashionable wedding at the First Presbyterian church of Miss Isabelle Freeman Watt, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace Watt and Thomas Sayre Atherton, son of Mr. Henry Atherton, of North Main avenue, Scranton.

The bride is the daughter of one of the oldest families of Carbondale, with whom there is associated the early development of the Pioneer City and its subsequent commercial progress. The groom's family is likewise conspicuous among the early families in the Lackawanna valley.

The wedding ceremony was beautiful and artistic. Though there was a charming simplicity throughout, there was a richness of effect that was most impressive. Though it was an afternoon wedding, the late afternoon hour of the December day gave it all the appearance of a night ceremony, with all its beautiful light and colors.

The bride, radiant in bridal robe of white, came last, accompanied by her father, William Wallace Watt. The groom and his best man, his brother, John Atherton, walked from the vestry, meeting the bride, as the party was disposing of itself before the altar, which was hidden behind a bank of palms. Streamers of evergreen ran up to the freestone and back in a continuous line.

wise pink, as well as the chiffon suit she carried.

The dainty, becoming gowns of the bridesmaids were white silk tissue over white silk. They wore pink hats and carried pink chiffon muffs.

The reception followed the ceremony at the Watt residence, Church street and Lincoln avenue. The bride and groom received in the parlor before a bower of white and pink roses.

The wedding collation, served by Hanley, of Scranton, followed the reception with its felicitations.

The rooms of the Watt residence were transformed by the handwork of Trumbull, the florist. The scheme of decoration in the reception and drawing rooms was pink and white.

The decorations at the church were by Wade. The Mozart orchestra gave a programme of selections at the church for an hour before the ceremony.

The wedding gifts comprised an array of valuable offerings. Completion among these remembrances was a mahogany chest of silver, which was the gift of the groomsmen, John Atherton.

SHOW IS CANCELED.

Manager Byrne Wouldn't Stand for "Major and the Judge."

Manager Byrne, of the Grand, has canceled to-night's attraction, "The Major and the Judge."

This attraction was represented to Mr. Byrne as a high class musical comedy, and the fact that San Ryan, Tom Lewis and Maud Huth headed the cast went to confirm the belief that the company, in the language of the day, could "deliver the goods."

The first intimation that Mr. Byrne had that the show was on the N. G. class was when he read the severe though just criticism in the Tribune yesterday.

He forthwith decided that what was not good enough for Scranton theater-goers who desire and pay for refined presentations, could not be foisted on the patrons of the Grand. Accordingly he immediately ordered the sale of seats to be stopped and going to a telephone booth he engaged in an exchange of compliments with the "Major and Judge" company, who were in Wilkes-Barre, where the company played last night.

The conversation ended with the cancellation of the Carbondale engagement. The action of Manager Byrne in thus protecting the patrons of his play house will be generally commended. In consequence of this term of affairs, there will be no attraction at the Grand until Monday night, when "York State Folks," a splendid pastoral play will be produced.

AMUSEMENTS.

Edie Ellisler's Artistic Work.

It was regrettable that the weather conditions militated against the attendance at the Grand last night, where an audience of much smaller proportions than was deserved enjoyed the artistic work of Edie Ellisler in "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

The Best of All. Of "York State Folks," which will be at the Grand Monday night, and which is to play next week at the Lyceum, Scranton, next week, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat says:

"As a work of dramatic art 'York State Folks' is superior to 'Way Down East,' 'The Old Homestead,' 'David Harum,' 'Eben Holden,' 'The Dairy Farm' and many other pastoral plays that might be mentioned. It is a picture of life in a remote village—the 'David Harum' country, where the author, Arthur Sidman, was born. It is an idyllic picture that he has painted with such skill. There is plenty of comedy and plenty of unadorned simplicity in the painting, but the play has also its serious side. One wonders after he has reached the sidewalk why he became so thoroughly interested in the very ordinary and very natural troubles growing out of a little disagreement between two old men. Then he realizes that it has been an excellent combination in art—the art of the playwright and the art of the actor—that has made these simple, everyday affairs of such absorbing interest."

K. OF C. ELECTION.

Report Shows Local Council in Gratifying Circumstances.

Carbondale council, No. 329, Knights of Columbus, elected officers in the new club house for the first time, the result being as follows:

Grand Knight, R. H. Kerwin; deputy grand knight, F. R. Dever; grand councillor, T. A. Kirkwood; recorder, John Hart; financial secretary, T. L. Gilmartin; treasurer, G. W. Keene; warden, William Peel; advocate, John O'Rourke; lecturer, J. V. DeLaney; inside guard, M. E. Walsh; outside guard, P. J. Boylan; trustee, John Brennan; representative to state council, which will be held at Philadelphia, May 5, 1903, Grand Knight R. H. Kerwin.

The council is now in the most prosperous condition since its institution. This is equally true of its financial and numerical strength. The membership is now 150, with evidences of continued growth, additional propositions being received at every meeting. With the growth of membership the influence of the council in the civic and social life of the community spreads and becomes more and more an important factor. The new club house on South Main street, which has been the council's home since last fall, is creditable not only to the council but the city as well.

BACTERIOLOGIST COMING.

Examination of Milk and the Water Supply to Commence at Once.

The assistant bacteriologist, when the state board agreed to send to Carbondale to establish whether or not the milk and water supply of this city is a factor in the spread of typhoid fever in this vicinity, is expected to arrive today.

The board of health secretary, Russell J. Shepherd, has received a communication from the state board official, whose home is at Germantown, in which he said he would start for this city today. He has made a request for a deal of information, and his letter would indicate that he will carry on his investigations here and determine their results without leaving the city. He will not only make bacteriological tests of water and of milk, but will inspect the sources of supply, the reservoirs and the dairies, and see to what an extent are the surroundings a factor in the possible contamination.

SMOTHER A COUGH.

You can smother a cough with your hand but you can't cure it that way. Some medicines only smother coughs.

Scott's Emulsion cures them. Old coughs and deep-rooted coughs can't be cured until the inflammation which causes them has been replaced by healthy tissue.

That is exactly the kind of thorough work Scott's Emulsion does. It changes the entire nature of the throat and lungs so that there is nothing to cough about.
