SUDDEN DEATH
OF J. P. A. TINGLEY

One of the Most Conspicuous Men in Carbondale, a Man with Numerous Fraternal Connections, a Mason of the Highest Standing Hereabouts and a Vestryman of Trinity Episcopal Church, Stricken with Hemorrhages of the Stomach and Dies Several Hours Later—Sketch of His Career.

An announcement that produced a painful shock throughout the community yesterday, was the sad news of the death of J. P. A. Tingley, proprietor of the old Dr. Fowler pharmacy on North Main street.

The sudden summons came about 7:30 yesterday, without the least intimation that dissolution was at hand, though several hours before he was in a weak condition from hemorrhages of the stomach, which began early Monday afternoon. Mr. Tingley was in ordinary health and showed his wonted urbanity and cheerfulness up to the time he was stricken. Friday night he participated in the installation ceremony of Carbondale lodge, Free and Accepted Masons. Sunday night he attended services at Trinity Episcopal church, where he was a vestryman. Monday morning, he was about his residence, No. 31 Washington street, but towards noon he became suddenly ill and phoned, himself, to the pharmacy not to expect him during the day. About 1:30 o'clock he was taken with a severe hemorrhage of the stomach, and grew so weak that Dr. W. J. Leary was summoned. There was a frequent recurrence of the hemorrhages, and Dr. H. C. Wheeler was called in consultation. Towards morning, Mr. Tingley was terribly depleted, and at 7:30 o'clock he suddenly expired, after suffering intensely the last few hours. He had arranged to leave this week for Mr. Clemens, Mich., to follow a course of treatment at the mineral springs there for the relief of indigestion, the only ailment he appeared to have.

Julius Peter Avery Tingley, son of Warren Tingley, was born in Lenox township, Susquehanna county, October 25, 1854. He was, therefore, in his forty-ninth year. After a drug store experience since his early youth, he became a qualified druggist, opening a pharmacy at Foster, which he conducted for nine years. Receiving the appointment of railway mail clerk, he left business activities and continued a mail clerk for nine years, his route being on the Lackawanna line from Binghamton, N. Y., to Hoboken, N. J. The first six years of this period he lived at Foster; the remainder at Binghamton. He resigned eight years ago, and coming to Carbondale he formed a partnership with W. F. McCartney, which came into possession of the pharmacy established by the late Dr. C. Fowler, one of the oldest hereabouts. It was only a brief period until Mr. Tingley became the sole owner, continuing until his death.

With the passing of Mr. Tingley, a wide circle of friends will be sorely touched, the business community loses an important factor in its life—a man of unimpeachable honesty. The social and fraternal life of the city will be bereft of one whose active influence left its impress. Trinity Episcopal church will almost be bereft of the loss of a zealous, devoted and active communicant and vestryman, and Carbondale will lose a citizen of high civic virtues, whose pride and interest in Carbondale and public affairs were never flagged or tainted with selfishness. His going, it can be truly said, will be a cause of mourning in many ways.

Mr. Tingley's life was full of activity. He was a staunch Democrat and an earnest worker in his party's behalf. He was recognized for his work during one of the Cleveland campaigns by being made a member of the state Democratic committee. He had a wide and intimate acquaintance with national leaders of this party. He was an earnest believer and advocate of municipal ownership of public utilities and during the municipal water campaign he lent his endeavors to its success. During last spring he was elected president of the Municipal league, organized to bring about municipal ownership.

Mr. Tingley was variously connected with social and fraternal organizations, and was attracted to them solely by the spirit of fellowship. Besides his connection with Masonic orders, he belonged to Post No. 1, S. E. M. S. R. A. association, the Lackawanna Pharmaceutical association, and the Carbondale Cycle club. He was also an honorary member of the Columbia Hose company.

Mr. Tingley's greatest activity and influence were in Masonic circles, where he was one of the most conspicuous figures in this section. He was past high priest of Bureka chapter, No. 179; past eminent commander of Palestine commandery, No. 14, Knights Templar, and a member of Carbondale lodge, No. 249, Free and Accepted Masons.

Mr. Tingley was elected to the vestry of Trinity Episcopal church three years ago, and was always relied upon for his counsel and activity in parish work. He was a man of high refinement, affable and interesting by reason of his wide reading of choice literature, and always gentle and courteous. These qualities surrounded him with friends and made his society to be sought after by his acquaintances.

Mr. Tingley is survived by his wife, to whom he was married in 1876, and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Alice Shook, of Indiana; Mrs. Kate Smith, of Tingley, Susquehanna county; Mrs. May Howard, of Pittsburgh; Morris, of Lenox; Albert, of Scranton; Charles, of Great Bend, and Frank, of Tingley.

The funeral will take place Thursday. The procession will leave the residence, 31 Washington street, at 3:30 in the afternoon. The service of the dead will be conducted in Trinity church by the pastor, Rev. R. A. Sawyer, beginning about 4 o'clock. After the services the deceased will rest in the church over night, and on Friday forenoon will be taken on the 11:21 Delaware and Hudson train to Scranton, thence to Foster. Services will be in the church at Foster in the afternoon, and burial will be in the Hopborton cemetery.

The Masonic ritual will be observed at the grave, and the arrangements of the Masons. The pall-bearers on Thursday, from the residence to the church, will be from the vestry of Trinity church; the bearers on Friday, from the Masons.

NO PILING OF SNOW
OR SPRINKLING OF SALT

An Ordinance Introduced in Select Council Last Night Regulating the Cleaning of Sidewalks After a Snowfall, Forbidding the Piling of Snow in the Roadway and Prohibiting the Sprinkling of Salt Along Street Car Tracks—A Penalty Provided.

An ordinance introduced by Mr. Barrett, and introduced in select council at last night's meeting, aims at abolishing a long-standing abuse in this city, namely, the sprinkling of salt along street car tracks after a snow fall, as an aid to melting the accumulations of ice and snow. A penalty is provided of not more than $50 nor less than $25, and in default of the fine imposed, to an imprisonment in the county jail of not more than thirty days.

This provision of the ordinance will be gratefully received by horse owners throughout the city. They have protested year after year against the practice, which has been a positive injury to either the hoofs or throats of horses. The Tribune, last season, at the request of horse owners, called attention to this neglected condition, and complaints were received since the recent snowfall from owners whose animals were sufferers from this unrestrained practice.

The ordinance also provides for and regulates the cleaning of sidewalks, and, perhaps of more importance, since this was already provided for, it prohibits the piling up of snow on the roadway, the condition that follows when the trolley company clears its rails after a snow storm. The snow, under the provisions of the new ordinance, must be leveled to a uniform height over the roadway. The same penalty is provided in this case.

The ordinance, which was reported upon favorably, and ordered printed, is as follows:

File of select council, No. 12, 1902-1903, introduced by T. F. Barrett. An ordinance providing for the removal of snow from the sidewalks and preventing the obstruction of roadways by depositing and piling up the snow thereon.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the select and common councils of the city of Carbondale, that all occupants of property abutting on streets having sidewalks, and where there are no occupants, all owners of property on said streets shall, within twelve hours after any snow storm, remove from the sidewalks all snow and ice and shall also keep the gutters clean and walk free from snow and ice, so as to allow the water to flow freely thereon.

Section 2. That the snow that accumulates on the roadway upon which those streets upon which the street cars are operated shall not be removed from the tracks and deposited on the side of the roadway in such a manner as to obstruct the roadway or make the passage of the same dangerous; but said snow shall be graded to a uniform depth; and if in the side of the street, the snow shall be removed from the street car tracks shall be taken and removed by the owner or operator of said street car line from the street and at the cost and expense of

A HANDKERCHIEF FROM
PRES. MITCHELL'S WIFE

One of the Prized Exhibits at the Bazaar of Young Lady Workers of the Methodist Church—Sale Closes Today.

If seekers after dainty, artistic holiday gifts have not as yet visited the bazaar of the Young Lady Workers of the First Methodist church, in progress at the Palace creamery, Salem avenue and Church street, it behooves them to make this a mission of today, as the sale will conclude this evening.

Though the display comprises many artistic creations of lace in handkerchiefs, the one in which the greatest interest centers and is the most highly prized, is a dainty hand-made lace handkerchief, which comes from Mrs. John Mitchell, wife of the Mine Workers' president.

The handkerchiefs displayed present a study in geography, for they come from all over the world, splendid products of the handwork of artistic and skilled workers. Among the products Chinese women is one of pure silk, daintily embroidered with soft flower designs. This is the most exquisite in the display. There are handkerchiefs also from "Chinese Widows" and Chinese students, gifts from friends of the workers. Some cash donations were received in response to requests for handkerchiefs. It is suggested by the workers that if any intending contributor overlooked his donation he or she can send cash which will be accepted.

The women in charge cordially invite the public to the bazaar, which offers numerous attractions of interest and opportunities of purchasing suitable Christmas gifts.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF TYPHOID

Miss Carrie Brunig, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brunig, Succumbs, After Three Weeks' Attack.

Miss Carrie Brunig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brunig, died last night at 10:30 at the residence, 28 South Main street, after a three weeks' illness of typhoid fever. Miss Brunig's case, after it developed, became desperate and the past two or three days the end was apprehended. Monday she was extremely low, but she rallied and made an encouraging showing of vitality. Yesterday afternoon the hopes that were raised fell before the collapse of the patient last evening. She sank rapidly until the summons came.

The death of Miss Brunig will be a shock to the numerous friends she happily claimed, as it is but a few weeks since she was among them with her sunshine and womanly qualities, which endeared her to all her associates. The family was quite unprepared for the sorrow that has so suddenly afflicted
