A DIME DEPOSIT BANK FOR CARBONDALE

Business Men of This City Organize and Subscribe Stock to the Amount of $100,000-James Rutherford Temporary Chairman-Charter to Be Applied for After the Holidays-The Project a Success.

A new bank in this city is in procanvass of the merchants of the town, explained the project and met with such an enthusiastic reception that by noon $50,000 of the proposed $100,000 stock were subscribed for. Within twenty-four hours, the remaining half of the stock will have been subscribed for. This was stated positively to the Tribune last night by those most active in the latest financial move which has caused quite a flurry of excitement in the financial and commercial life of the city.

The name of the new banking institution will be the Dime Deposit and Discount Company. This feature of bank savings has met with unexpected success throughout the country and it is believed there is a good field here. The idea of doing a trust business was also considered, but has not been decided upon. There is a legal consideration that will have to be inquired into before it can be determined whether the trust company can be incorporated with the dime savings institution, While there is a temporary organization, no steps to make it permanent can be taken until after the rush the holidays, as almost all of the subscribers are business men. The appli-cation for the charter will then be made, but it will be a couple of months before the bank will be ready for busi-

The stock has been apportioned in shares of $50 each, making two thousand shares. Large blocks of stock could have been sold to individuals, but this was discouraged rather than encouraged, as it was the purpose to divide the interests among as many as possible. Nine-tenths, it is claimed, of the business men not interested in either of the two banks in Carbondale have subscribed for stock in the new

The Tribune can state authoritatively that no Scranton men are interested in the project. It will be a strictly Carbondale institution; no stock will go to outsiders. There was a story that Casey Bros., of Scranton, were to have something to do with the proposed bank. This is not true, however. Their name was asosciated with the project in the beginning, but they have no connection with the organization. As mentioned, the stock has all been applied for by Carbondalians. This rumor of Scranton interests gave rise to the belief that there were to be two banks. This is not even liketablished certainty. Any outsiders contemplating another concern would find the money interests of the city fully represented in the two banks already here and the one in process.

The new bank project is an indication that Carbondale is going forward with steady strides, and is a splendid advertisement for the town among our

FUNERAL SERVICES OVER J. P. A. TINGLEY

The Solemn Service of the Dead at Trinity Episcopal Church-Rev. R. A. Sawyer Observes Impressive Ritual-Surpliced Choir Assists. Deceased to Be Taken to Foster for Burial Today.

Sadly impressive obsequies marked the funeral yesterday afternoon of the fate J. P. A. Tingley, the pharmacist. whose sudden summons to depart this life has been a topic of keenest regret throughout the city the past few days. The last part of his journey to the grave was followed amid all the tokens of respect due him as an upright citizeh, an honest man in his business relations, an esteemed member of the Masonic lodge and a faithful member of Trinity Episcopal church. The evi-dences of his high standing among his different associates in life were of a character to be comforting and edifying to the dear ones who will miss him

The procession which left the residence on Washington street shortly before 4 o'clock for Trinity church, was headed by a uniformed escort of honor from Palestine commandery, Knights of Templar, of this city, in which the deceased had been an active member, and a past eminent commander. Conspicuous in the procession were numerous business men, the druggists of the town and physicians from Carbondale and vicinity who had been closely associated with the deceased.

At Trinity church, the solemn office of the dead was recited. Rev. R. A. Sawyer, the pastor, officiated. George C. Hart was the lay reader. The surpliced choir sang the psalms with a feeling that added to the sad impres-siveness of the service. The choir sang "Lead Kindly Light," as the anthem, and for the closing hymn, "Near-er. My God to Thee." In accordance with the custom of the church, there was no eulogy. Mr. Tingley, however, required no eulogy; his life was filled with kind deeds that will be a lasting eloquent testimony of his splendid character.

The deceased remained in the church forenoon, via the 11.21 Delaware and the 1.05 p. m. Lackawanna train to Foster, where interment will take place. The pallbearers yesterday were from the vestrymen of Trinity and were as B. S. Clark, J. H. Orchard, N. bard, C. W. Perkins, W. R. Morss, H.

The flower bearers were: J. A. Lunny, H. F. Clarke, J. J. Rounds, Dr.

The beautiful floral offerings were contributed as follows: Palestine commandery, Knights Templar, green vestry of Trinity church, Woman's Relief board of Emergency hospital, Mrs. C. R. Manville, Dr. and quets; Mrs. Tingley Walters, cross of and brothers of the deceased, wreaths. | music in the church work.

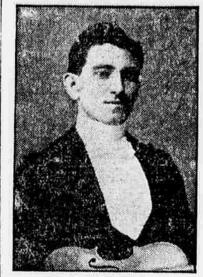

The funeral today will be in charge of Palestine commandery, Knights Templar. The following escort will accompany the deceased and conduct the Masonic ceremonies: Past Eminent Commanders Davis, of Jermyn, W. D. Evans, John O. Miles, John M. Stewart; Eminent Commander J. B. Shannon; Sir Knights W. A. Spencer, A. E. Tiffany, P. J. Foster.

TWO YOUNG MUSICIAN'S OF GROWING WORTH

Carbondale has always had reason to feel proud of its musical talent. The inclination and interest of our people in this art have been happily demonstrated time and time again. The big musical events in Scranton, in which this country's artists and those from abroad have participated, always attracted a patronage from this city, which was more than ordinarily creditable to a town of this size. Then we have had a musical organization in this city for years which has enjoyed an exceptionally high reputation abroad as well as at home. This is the Mozart band and orchestra, and now we have a symphony orchestra which is sure to develop latent musical talent and wit increased prestige and laurels for thi who is hewing out for himself a reputation in the musical world hereabouts that is attracting a great deal of attention. Mr. Lynott's rise is all the more creditable, since only a few years ago he was faring no better than hundreds of other young men at the toilsome work of the mine. He was inclined to music and showing a taste and talent for the violin he began a course of instruction under Prof. Carl Hessler, who was at that time the director of the Mozart orchestra. He developed his talent and when Director Frank Rumsby left Carbondale three years ago, Mr. Lynott succeeded him, continuing until his present high standing.

He is likewise the director of the Mo zart band, of which the city is proud. The somewhat limited opportunities of study which were at Mr. Lynott's command make his advancement more a matter of satisfaction and pride to himself and to his townspeople. Men of prominence and prestige in the musical world have recognized Mr. Lynott's talent. An instance of this was last summer, when Prof. Ernest Thiele, of Scranton, selected Mr. Lynott to conduct a large orchestra at one of the celebrated mountain resorts in Virginia, It was no small compliment to Mr. Lynott to be director of musicians, the majority of whom were considerably older than himself in years and experience. Mr. Lynott's lack of egotism and self-sufficiency will be a factor in his continued progress, in which he has the heartfelt wishes of his home people. Llewellyn E. Jones, of Scranton, whose efficient directing of music at Trinity Episcopal church is pleasantly manifested in the increased efficiency of the choir and has won him so many compliments from among the congregation and visitors at the church services, comes from not only a musical family, but from a race, the Cambrians, whose home in Wales is a nation of song.

Several years back, when a lad, his voice was heard in the national musical festival of his forefather's home, the eistedfodd, winning prizes which would be incentive to any one of his ability. His musical talent was not in one direction alone. With study and practice he became proficient in piano forte and organ playing and now fills the double position of chorister and organist, The deceased remained in the church Scarcely an eistedfold has taken place over last night, and will be taken this hereabouts in recent years without Mr. Jones being conspicuous as an accom-Hudson train to Scranton; thence by panist. How he was recognized in Scranton, among so many older musi cians, and of larger study and experience, can be appreciated by mention ing that he was assistant organist and chorister at St. Luke's church, under F. Hiller, R. H. Reynolds, Frank Hub- Prof. J. W. Conant. Later he was chosen as chorister and organist and chorister at St. Mark's church, Dunmore, and when Charles Doersam, also of Scranton, resigned from Trinity. about a year ago, to take a conservatory course, Mr. Jones came to Carbondale, where he has been given addition al opportunities for the exercise of his powers. The programmes which he has prepared and directed during his brief time in Carbondale have found the Mrs. W. J. Lowry, P. V. NEW COAL BREAKER FOR CARBONDALE

Pittston Men to Erect Colliery at Estimated Cost of $75,000 on Tract Bought from 'Squire Williams at Prynn. No. 4-Breaker to Be Erected Within a Year.

The rumors of the past two months relative to the erection of a new breakr in this city, have at last taken tangible form, by the execution of a contract for said work. The new breaker will be located northeast of this city, Honesdale branch. The breaker, when completed, will cost, according to the contract for same, something in the eighborhood of $75,000, and must be capable of producing 1,000 tons of prepared coal daily.

It is a fact well known to many herebouts that the tract of land in question have been opened years ago but that, at their Dunmore offices. none of the offers were large enough to Williams, Justice of the peace, has at last received a very flattering offer from dies, nuts, oranges, in fact the great-Messrs, P. J. Manley and Peter McElhe has accepted. Work to commence immediately. Mr. McEleney is very well known to many in Lackawanna valley as an expert miner, having for years been mine foreman for the Hillside Coal and Iron company at the Erie John Forschner. breaker at Mayfield, Pa.

The mines in and near this city are already over-crowded, and the opening of a new mine, of this size, will prove possible, and the coming summer will see it completed. The working of this breaker will, in a gréat measure, relieve the new coal breaker on the North Side and allow the miners of the North Side to make much better time.
