PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

AFFAIRS IN UTAH TERRITORY.

The telegraph from Independence, brings us important intelligence from the new Territory of Utah. With the meagre details before us, it is hard to understand the causes which have virtually dissolved the Government constituted for that Territory, but there seems to have been bad faith on part of the Governor in the disbursement of the public funds, and the Judicial officers suffered such treatment as compelled them to leave for the States. There is, we believe, no military post within that Territory, and no appeal could be had in that direction, or to the few persons doing business there and not belonging to the Mormon Church, for protection. Gov. Young is head of that church, and unquestionably has great influence, for good or for evil, among them We had hoped, as the President had placed so much confidence in him as to give him the chief office in the Territorial Government, that he would discharge his duties in an acceptable manner, both to the people and the Government. This he seems not to have done, and it may become necessary to put men there who will respect laws and protect the people. As soon as the mail is received, we shall have, we presume, a full solution of all the difficulties which have taken place, and be better prepared to suggest a remedy.

The territory of Utah and that of New Mexico, it will be found, require peculiar legislation. They are in an anomalous condition. Utah territory is populated almost exclusively by Mormons, and their religious faith attaches them strongly to their leaders in the Church. One of the principal reasons for the appointment of Brigham Young as Governor, it may be presumed, consisted in the confidence which the people seemed to repose in him, and assurances that he would exercise his influence to give them a good government, so far as the execution of the laws was connected. In this expectation, if the news which we have received be true, he has disappointed the appointing power, and other measures will have to be resorted to, to preserve the authority of the United States there. Congress will, no doubt, advise some plan for this purpose at an early day.

But the Territory of New Mexico is in even a worse condition. There two recent murders have been committed by Mexicans upon American citizens, under circumstances of great atrocity. It is charged, that the Governor has taken part with the Mexicans, and that in the recent election he exercised all his influence to secure the success of his candidate, and that he did not perform his duty when informed of the first murder, and manifested still greater and culpable indifference when told of the last outrage. We do not know how to reconcile such things with the conduct of a good citizen, and when such dereliction of duty is charged upon the chief officer of the Territory, it demands investigation. It may be, that the form of government is not adopted to the peculiar condition of New Mexico—that it is too much in advance of the social condition of the native population, and that additional restrictions ought to be devised. As the matter now stands, the native population—with little education, and accustomed to rely upon particular individuals for their guidance in political as well as other matters—have already discovered the extent of their power, and they have in many cases, so far exercised it as to put no Mexican in office. It is not likely that they will forego the exercise of his power, and bad men will always be found to avail themselves of it Already this condition of things is producing the usual fruits, in the array of the Americans, who are the weaker party in number, against the Mexicans A war of castes is always to be avoided; and hence it is our opinion that Congress should see about adapting its legislation to the peculiar condition of the people of New Mexico Both classes of population should be protected in their rights and their persons; but this, it is found cannot be done, unless some radical change is made in the existing Government.—St. Louis Republican.

ROUSSEL'S UNRIVALLED SHAVING CREAM is now universally acknowledged superior to any Shaving Cream in the United States or Europe—The delightful preparation is unequalled for purity, beauty and fragrance, though somewhat analagous to Gerhardt's Ambrosial Cream, and other similar compounds, it far surpasses them all by the exhilirant purity consistency of its lather, which so softens the beard as to render shaving pleasant and easy; it possesses great advantages over the imported article, in being freshly prepared from the best materials, with the greatest skill, and is not only the best, but also the cheapest article for shaving. The increasing sales of this article during the last twelve years, and the several gold and silver medals awarded for it, strongly attest the high estimation in which it is held by the community For sale wholesale and retail by sep28 R.
