HOME MATTERS.

The Lecture on the American mind, by Mr. WHIPPLE, at the Washington Hall, last evening, was attended by a large and intelligent audience, whose fixed attention manifested their interest in his masterly delineation of American Mind and Character. Many of his thoughts were new and striking, and we think every one who heard him was impressed with their truthfulness. This evening his subject is "The English Mind."

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A little girl named Annie Lehr, about ten years of age, the daughter of a widow lady residing in Birmingham, was killed on Christmas, by being run over by an omnibus belonging to Naser's Lawrenceville line.

From the evidence adduced before the Coroner's Inquest, it appeared that John Griffin, the driver, was racing with another omnibus, and that his horses were at a full gallop, when the deceased was knocked down, and the wheels passed over her body. She was at once taken to Doctor Reichelm's office on Penn street, but only survived a few moments.

The jury returned the following verdict:

"Annie Lehr came to her death in consequence of injuries received by being run over by the horses attached to an omnibus, and by the passing over her body of the wheel of said omnibus; and that the cause of said passing over was the inordinate driving of the driver, John Griffin."

Griffin was at once arrested and committed to prison to answer the offence.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Coroner Arthurs held an inquest, on Christmas, on the body of John Dougherty, who was found dead in his bed.—The deceased resided on Grant street, between Second and Third, and the jury returned a verdict to the effect that he died from a disease of the heart.

WILKINS HALL.—This hall is nightly crowded with the admirers of "Horns Wells and Briggs' band of Sable Harmonists." They are undoubtedly the best band that have ever visited Pittsburgh. Go early if you wish to secure a seat.

THE LATE FAIR.—We are pleased to learn that between two and three thousand dollars were made at the late fair for the benefit of the Mercy Hospital.

MANCHESTER.—The citizens, without distinction of party, met in the old brick school house, on Tuesday evening, and selected the following candidates for the various borough offices, at the election to be held on the second Tuesday of January next: Burgess, Dr. Charles L. Armstrong. Town Council, John B. Kennedy, Henry M'Cune, James K Speer, John Mussler, and David Luther. School Directors, Dr. John Callahan and James Wardrop. Assessor, Wm. B Russ; Assistants, Moses Sharpe and John Mussler. Inspector of Election: Henry McCune and Nathaniel McClinton; Judge, Major John Downing; Overseers of the poor: Moses Sharpe and Thomas Tackaberry. Constable: Samuel Falkner.

DISAPPEARED.—A man named Andrew Bush, whose family resides on 2d street, Allegheny, on last Wednesday evening left the house of a friend, on Pike street, and has not been heard from since. Any person knowing anything of his whereabouts will do a kindness to a dependent family by giving them the information.

To the eastward the weather was more intensely cold than in any other section of the country. An exchange says—

Wednesday was the coldest December day in New England, since 1835. The thermometer was below zero at Boston; at Shirley and Concord it was 17 degrees below; at Manchester, N. H., 16 below; at Lawrence, 14 below; at Waltham, 12 below; at Groton, Newton, and North Andover, 8 below; and at Somerville, 9 below.

INTERVENTION.—The National Intelligencer of Washington contains a very long article upon Kossuth, in which non-intervention in the politics of Europe is included, and in which the people are warned to beware of the tempter. We know how to understand the political speculations of the political newspapers in Washington, and estimate them accordingly. Thus at present, the Union is silent; which, being interpreted, means that, the future relations of Kossuth and Kossuthism with the Democratic party are not yet determined, and therefore support or opposition would be premature. The Republic denounces Kossuth's idea of future harmony between the United States or Britian which, translated into English means that such harmony would interfere with a modification of the tariff. The Intelligencer, no longer the especial organ of either the Whig or Democratic parties, but the organ, so far as newspaper in Washington can be such, of the great bankers and loan-contractors of Europe, and consequently the advocate of the borrowing governments, opposes Kossuth and Kossuthism, and every other democratic ism of Europe, because all such things are antagonist to those great borrowing governments. Then the Intelligencer has long been a semi-favorite of the Diplomatic corps at Washington, because it has long spoken its views, so far as could be expected from an American newspaper. Those acquainted with life at Washington well know the power of social influences over the press, and the great control of the Diplomatic corps over social influences. Among the Diplomatic corps, the Russian minister is always pre-eminent. Who, of all Washington, occupies the largest, house, gives the best dinners and the most splendid balls, entertains most frequently and agreeably? The Russian minister. And this applies especially to the present Russian minister, who has been long in the country, is married to an American, is well qualified for his responsible trust, and has popular and conciliating manners. The sagacious statesmen of Russia always know how to choose their foreign agents; and through their present representative at Washington, they exercise predominant social, and therefore some political influence outside of the American cabinet. Hence we have found, and shall probably continue to find, defences of Russian and Austrian policy against free institutions in Europe, in quarters where some readers would be astonished to find them. We are not surprised.—Phil. Ledger.

☞If any man doubts that H. G. Farrell's Arabian Liniment is the greatest benefactor of the age, let him look around and he will find abundant evidence to scatter his skepticism to the winds; he will find that as an external application in the diseases of both man and beast, no medicine ever discovered has effected as many and so remarkable cures. [See advertisement.]

☞DR. MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS.—This great remedy for diseases of the liver, is of much older date than its introduction to the public. Its discoverer, one of the first physicians in this country, used it for years in his practice, before he ever announced it to the world. The existence of so many quack remedies, heralded as possessing the most marvelous qualities for healing all diseases, dispersed as compounded and self educated physicians, who naturally felt some dread of being confounded with the crowd of pretenders to the medical art, whose mysteries were paraded in every newspaper as sovereign remedies for all the ills their flesh is heir to. The representations of these to whom his pills had given relief; however, and the urgent solicitations by physicians with whom he had associated in his practice, and who had witnessed the wonderful cures effected by his remedy, at length induced him to make it public.

Testimonials as to their efficacy can be seen in our store from all parts of the States.

To be had of all the principal druggists.

AFFAIRS IN FRANCE.

The news from France continued to engross public attention. No new or striking incidents have occurred, excepting that several additional Departments have been placed in a state of siege, and a large number of the Mountain party had fled to the country.

Several legions of the National Guard have been dismissed for disaffection.

The vote of the army, as far as heard from, is 65,000 in favor of Napoleon, and 35 against. A few disturbances had taken place, though to a limited extent. The arrests made amount to about 1800.

M. Thiers has been again arrested, and sent to the Prussian frontiers. Girardin has resigned the editorship of the La Presse, and is about to depart for America.

The Socialists, during their short ascendency at Nivero, burnt the registers and archives, and destroyed much property.

The Compt de Chambrod, Henry V., had sought an interview with Prince Schwartzenburg at Vienna, and was told that Napoleon must receive the countenance of all monarchical cabinets.

Seventy-three newspapers have been suppressed in France.

ENGLAND.

The customs reform movement is progressing vigorously.

DENMARK.

The most violent agitation in all the Capitals of Europe has been consequent upon the critical affairs in France.

The negotiations respecting the dispute between the Duchies had been suddenly resumed with no disposition to bring matters to a settlement.

Breadstuffs—Flour is quiet, and buyers are cautious. Prices have receded 6d ₱ bbl. Wheat is inactive, and prices in favor of buyers. Sales have been limited at one penny decline. Corn is in good demand at a slight advance.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26

SENATE.—Mr. Fitch rose and said, that as there was no quorum present, he would move an adjournment.

Mr. Bradbury said he hoped the Senate would wait a few minutes, and perhaps a quorum would appear. He thought something ought to be done towards an investigation as to the cause of the fire in the Library.

Mr. Fitch then withdrew his motion.

Mr. Mangum moved that when the Senate adjourn, it shall be until Monday next.

The Chair decided the motion out of order, as, when there was less than a quorum present, the Senate could only adjourn from day to day.

Mr. Mangum then moved that the Senate adjourn, which was lost—ayes 10, nays 10.

After a short interval, Mr. Mangum renewed his motion, and being then agreed to, the Senate adjourned until to-morrow.

HOUSE.—The Speaker announced the following, as a select committee on the Bounty Land bill—Messrs. Dunham, Stephens of Georgia, Harris of Tennessee, Tuck and Bissell.

The Speaker laid before the House a communication from the Librarian of Congress, stating the loss of the Library by fire on Wednesday morning last, in a manner unaccountable to him, as no fire had been had in the apartment for a long period; and neither fire nor lights burning at any time since it has been under his charge. The loss of the books was about 35,000 volumes; and 20,000 volumes were saved, being in an adjoining room. He expressed the hope that a searching investigation would be made as to the cause of the conflagration, so that a like calamity should not occur in future.

Mr. Stanton, of Kentucky, by unanimous consent, introduced a resolution instructing the joint committee on public buildings and grounds, to enquire into the origin of the fire; and also as to the extent of the injury to the buildings, and the best mode of reconstructing the library room, so as to guard against a similar destruction in future.

Mr. Stanton of Ky., also introduced a bill, which was passed, making an appropriatin of $5,000, to be expended for the discharge of the expenses incurred for the late fire; removing the rubbish, the preservation of the books saved, and the construction of a temporary building for this purpose.

The House then adjourned until Tuesday next.

THE TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS of the great Arabian Remedy for Man and Beast,

H. G. Farrell's

CELEBRATED ARABIAN LINIMENT,

IS CAUSING CONSTERNEFITS to spring up all over the country, exposing their threefold influence over the land, robbing the pockets of the honest and unsuspecting, to impose upon them a worthless and pernicious trash, for the genuine H. G. Farrell's Arabian Liniment. Fellow Citizens, look at Farrell's Arabian, and see that the label of the bottle has the letters "H. G. FARRELL" on it, and if it has not, it is a counterfeit. The label around each bottle of all and genuine H. G. Farrell's celebrated Arabian Liniment, is the signature in writing of the proprietor, and the engraving on the glass bottle—"H. G. Farrell's Arabian Liniment, Pittsburgh."

This truly great medicine still goes on, conquering disease, and triumphing over every opposing power, with the same fixity of purpose, unbroken success, and unabated energy that it has ever done since it first made its appearance before the public. Thousands have been palsied by rheumatism, and the agonizing power of Rheumatism, and affections of the spine and spleen have proved their victims by hundreds, and the use of Farrell's Arabian Liniment, Liver and Kidney Pills, in a short time, has restored the sufferer to health and vigor. Disease of the stomach, Costiveness, Irritability, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Flatulence or Wind, and all Diseases emplaining from a disordered state of the liver, and the Hypochondriac or Blue Devils, are cured with each box.
