H GAZETTE.

ULD MARRY

FRANKLIN.

...ic, a farmer, or a follow-
...by which you expect to ...d family, and get rich if you
...f the utmost importance that
...y a woman capable of assisting
...rts. She should, therefore, be ...sense, goodness and industrious
...habits. Do not, therefore, suffer
...to be dazzled by a fusty dress, or fall
...love with a pretty face, or run crazy after ...accomplishments, though none are to be de...spised, when accompanied by solid sense and ...useful acquirements. Suppose now, as you are ...just beginning life, you marry a young pretty ...creature, who knows nothing of house keeping
...or plain sewing. You must immediately hire
...one or more servants, and your wife will not be ...able to direct them, or even decide whether they ...are prudent and capable. Whereas, if you have ...the right kind of a woman, she will take pleasure
...in doing the little work which is required by two ...persons, and will always be neat and cheerful
...at the same time. Thus you will save the ...wages, the board, and the waste of a hired girl,
...who in so small a family is a useless and trouble...some supernumerary. Your wife will be more ...healthy and cheerful, for the light labor and care
...of her little household; and depend upon it an ...inexperienced wife does better than an inexpe...rienced servant. So take a woman's advice,
...every man of you who earns his living by the ...labor of his head or hands and expect of your ...wife the performance of the little labors of your ...household. It will not injure her health or im...pair her beauty, but will save her from a thou...sand foolish imaginings; it will prevent her ...pouring her soul with the vile trash of the nov...elist, with which idleness is fain to "skim" the ...precious hours of existence; it will prevent her
...becoming a gadder and a scandal monger, it ...will keep disorder and waste from your kitchen,
...and sorrow and shame from your soul. By the ...time that an increase in your family renders
...help necessary, your wife will be well qualified ...to oversee and direct, and will know what her ...expenses ought to be, and be able to judge what ...proportion of labor a woman is able to perform.—
...Her habits of industry and management will be ...a help to you as long as you both live. Mean...time it will be your duty to make her your con...fidant in all things. Tell her of your success,
...her joy will make it doubly precious to you—
...Tell her of your trials, rebuffs and disappoint...ments; her sweet sympathy and gentle words of ...hope and cheer, will take all pain and bitter...ness from your heart. Every sorrow thus shared
...will strengthen the bond of love, and knit ...your hearts more intimately together, and in the ...perfect confidence of such a blessed union, you
...lean upon each other, and know no fear, no
...bitter grief.

...Suffer no ridiculous prids to indugce you to as...sume the appearance of wealth which you do not ...possess. Prove your independence and true no...bility by living within your means and letting ...the world know it. If you know a girl who will ...be to you such a wife as I have been recom...mending, you need not fear to marry at once.
...You will find the expenses of your household
...less than you pay for the cold and solitary com...forts of bachelorship. And there are plenty of ...girls who, notwithstanding false educational ...theories, will feel happy and honored to fill this ...true woman's sphere at your side. Active duty
...is ever agreeable when it has a worthy object.
...To enjoy self-respect, a sense of our own use...fulness in the world, and an inward approbation in ...the discharge of our duty, which when crowned
...by the loving approval of our dearest friends,
...constitutes the most perfect happiness. There...fore, if you would desire to have your wife good ...and happy, make her your confident and assist...ant, and be assured you will soon find yourself
...prosperous, and possessing a fullness of content,
...which is far better than passionate and fluctu-
...sting happiness.

...Can there be anything more deplorable, more
...contemptible, than the too common hypocritical ...misery of keeping up appearances? And how ...many are condemned to this constant struggle,
...deception, and fear, by assuming a false posi...tion at commencement. And what did these ...persons ever gain by their abject slavery to caste?
...Merely the passing notice of a few fashionables,
...who doubtless sneered at the pretensions which ...they tolerated. By daring to appear what you ...really are, you may command the respect of all ...classes. By assuming to be what you are not,
...you will bring upon yourself the hatred of those ...whose society you affect.

...Is it not the extreme of folly to sacrifice inde...pendence, self-respect, and home comfort, that ...you may be called on by fashionably dressed per...sons, and by such recognized in the street, when
...by this course you forfeit the respect of every ...sensible person. It is really distressing to see ...a care-worn man toiling all day and deep into ...night, that his wife and daughters may be fash...ionably attired and live in genteel idleness.

...This kindof disjugal happiness is confined
...exclusively to cities and little upstart villages.
...In the country people live rationally. When a ...girl becomes a wife, she expects to keep her hus...band's house and assist him in getting a living.
...And country parents are in no haste to have ...their girls married, because they are the beau...ty, the sunshine of their home, and valuable as...sistants in all the labors of life. Now boys, I am ...not going to say do not marry out of your sphere
...or class. Classes do not make people, though ...they form habits. If you know an agreeable,
...sensible, and amiable girl, who is willing to ...be your helpmate for life, and accommodate ...herself to such a mode of life as your income
...warrants, take her and be happy; but beware
...how you deceive. If you woo her under false
...colors, if you permit her to deem you that which ...you are not, and promise what you are not able ...to perform, and so win her deceitfully, you will ...surely deserve and receive the misery that will follow.
...When you see your wife disappointed and weep...ing; when you hear her complaints and upbraid...ings, and feel that she despises you as a fool de...ceiver, what can you reply? A woman will for...give a man almost any sin but deception. A
...deceiver she can neither honor, trust, nor love.
...Therefore use no concealments. If a young ...lady refuses to marry you on account of your ...pecuniary circumstances, let her go; she does ...not love you. Surely you would not deceive
...such an one into becoming your wife! If you ...do, and live miserably, or drudge yourself to ...death to maintain the appearance of her accus...tomed wealth, why you are a poor poltroon, a slave,
...a very fool, and it is your own fault.

...Never marry a girl who is ashamed to be seen
...engaged in any useful and suitable employment.
...Flee from the girl who sits toying in the parlor,
...while her mother drudges in the kitchen, as you ...would from the leprosy. She has neither heart
...nor soul. She will never care how hard you toil
...to support her and her idleness. Once more I ...implore you, if you must make your own fortune
...by mental or manual labor, seek a wife who will ...assist you by cheerful labor, her gentle sympa...thy and judicious advice. If you cannot find ...such an one live an old bachelor, and be as sur-
...ly as you please! Better so than be burdened ...with a proud, silly, and unreasonable wife, and ...children of her training—So says a woman.

A History of Pittsburgh.

BY NEVILLE B. CRAIG.—A History of Pittsburgh, from the earliest period that it was visited by white men, down to the close of the last century, with notices of the first establishment of many of the important manufactories and various works of internal improvement, up to the present time. To which is added a chapter upon the advantages of our position for manufacturing and commercial purposes, with a summary of the surprising amount of business transacted, and improvements upon our rivers, canals, and slackwater improvements.
There is no point in the list of books so many inquiri-ent events and occurrences of historical interest have been so prepared within no large a period of time, as in the country around the head of the Ohio. To collect together and preserve in a connected order these valuable records, and to proclaim the advantages of our position, as inducements for capitalists to settle here, is the object of the present work.

Beware of Counterfeits.

TO GUARD AGAINST IMPOSITION, READ THE FOL-LOWING CERTIFICATE:
The Public are respectfully cautioned against a base Counterfeit which has lately made its appearance, and is offered by the ignorant and unprincipled, as being the same as Lightfoot. This is a dark rose Pencil and upon close examination will be found to be of a very inferior quality.
Let no particular notice be given to the name Lightfoot, for it is the exact appearance of the wrapper and the HIGHEST number of years, for the genuine article.
Fac-Simile of Perrott's Signature from the wrapper.
Perrott's Patent Pencils are manufactured by Joseph Lightfoot, and are the genuine article. Any one wishing the genuine article will observe the name of Joseph Lightfoot, Liverpool, Perrott's Patent, on the wrapper.
Sold by all Stationers.
Agents wanted in every Town, County and Republic in the United States, in which none is now established.
Address to Joseph Perrott, Patentee, Liverpool, England, for certificates, responsibility, &c.

For private reasons to manufacturers of Steel Pens, Pencil Cases and Gold Pens, Joseph Perrott, Patentee, Liverpool, England, will supply them with the Patent Nibs and Pencils at a cheaper rate than they can be made for.

Although these works are distinguished by the publication of original matter, they are not confined to the exclusive advocacy of the views of any party, but are conducted as dedicated to political science. Into their literary department is admitted only that which is of value, and in their selections for the miscellaneous portions of their pages, the best productions of the most popular writers of the day are chosen, constituting the utmost celebrity, and in this form, constantly adding new, from the world of letters, and the best engravings that the world can furnish, and first appearing in its columns both in England and America, the Living Age and Littell's Museum, each furnishes to its subscribers the cream of the literature published in the world, in the most convenient, economical and elegant form.
Each of these works is published weekly, each number containing sixty-four pages, forming three large volumes a year, of 768 pages each, making at the end of the year three volumes containing nearly 2,300 pages of reading matter, at the cost of three dollars.
Littell's Museum is published by Littell, Son & Co.,
Philadelphia, and the Living Age by E. Littell & Co., Boston.
Clubbing.—Littell's Museum and Living Age will be furnished to clubs at the following rates:
Two copies of the four numbers, $ 5 00
Five copies of the four numbers, 10 00
Ten copies of the four numbers, 20 00
Any additional number at the same rate.
Money can be remitted at our risk by mail, in bills of any specie paying bank.
Postage.—The postage on the Museum and Living Age is but 1½ cents per number, or 6 cents a month, to be paid by the receiver at the office where received.
Specimen numbers will be sent gratis to those wishing to examine the work before subscribing.
Back numbers can be supplied from the commencement of the present volumes.
Subscriptions may commence with any number.
Remittances and communications should be addressed (post paid) to the publishers.
