By this road Pittsburgh is at least 570 miles from New York City. Is it possible that Phil adelphia is jealous of a road of that length? If so, we assure the people of that city that the nanifestation of that jealousy will operate wast y more to her own disadvantage, in every way han ever our six foot read could do.

But, as we said in the beginning, the letter of the law, whatever may have been its inten-tion, appears to exempt this road from its operation. Again : this law. so far as this road is provisions, is nothing more than a police regulation; a violation of which cannot be made to forbide the passage of laws expost facto in their asse convinces us still more that the law in questhink, therefore, that our friends may dismiss all fears in regard to this law, and go on with the

GOV. KOSSUTH VINDICATED.

The New York Courser and Enquirer introduce ing Gov. Kossuru, written from the calone' of Paris, with the caption of "The Finishing Stroke!" The vindication has followed rapidly concerned, (which was chartered before the on the beels of the assault, although the vindicator was not aware of the attack. This letter is case convinces us still more that the law in ques-tion was not intended to apply to this road. We think, therefore, that our friends may dismiss press are shackled. From that letter we find the following interesting and important extract, copied into the New York Tribune, relating to will make it necessary for a County Convention to be called at some day previous. There is no time to be lost, therefore, in calling such a convention. Will the Chairman of the last County Convention see to this?

We take pleasure in referring our readers to the notice of a Free Lecture, by the Rev. Lean Plitate, of Paris. Mr. Plitate is a gentleman of the highest character for ability, piety, and carnestness in the noble cause in which he is engaged. The orangelical Christans of France are laboring under immense difficulties, and we hope the Protestants of Fitzburgh will give their faprisentative as full house.

Priveduant and Battimore are now brought within twenty-two hears of each other, by, means of the Pennylvanis central road, and the Baltimore and Susquehanna road. This is now decidedly, the best route to Baltimore, and is a quick and very agreeable means of communication between the two cities. See advertisement.

A RARE TREAT.—On Treeday next, Professor Locke, of Cincinnati, will commence a course of six lectures, before the Mercantile Library Association, at Lefayette Hall, where citizens generally are invited to attend, adu the tickets are placed so low, as to bring the opportunity within the reach of all. The lectures will be eminently practical, and illustrated by experiments. See advertisement.

Kossuth alone can tell all the motives which had does not not respect for law, our antiplithy for untried political theories, our attachment to traditional customs, and our pride in the history of an accountry, are no obstacle to, but rather guarantees, and even conditions of, a republic, which is to be national and enduring. It would be indeed an unprecedented event irribatory if stands of the seady and relenties hostility of Gorgey, who had the command of the Army, and who was more important to the cause than any other man-the embarrasuments which ensured and fence had to wage six bloody wars against it dynasty.

It is not my tast to appear as a personal advocate, and I wish, therefore to advert only to one point of his attack, which may seem to be based on facts. The noble Count asserts that Kossuth has attained to power by doubtfal means. I am amazed at this assertion, knowing, as I do, that Kossuth as attained to power by doubtfal means. I am amazed at this assertion, knowing, as I do, that Kossuth as attained by the King with the universal applace of the nation, to the Ministry of Finance. avors the new constitution promulgated by the Dictator of France. It says: Dictator of France. It says:

A political organization to be complete and effective must include of course the elements of the national mind and interests as they exist. It is not expected to include such as belong to other nations and do not belong to the nation for whose welfare it is specially instituted. Thus the introduction of political elements and forms drawn from English or American institutions into the framework of a French system would involve absurdities and engender confusion.

The wise and good administration of the system which [Louis Naturators has established in France will constitute not only the best recom-

tem which Louis Natolkon has catablished in France will constitute not only the heat recommendation of it, but the responsible condition, we may presume, upon which he can reasonably hope to render it permanent. If it invests supreme power in his hands, the investiture of such power must be logged somewhere—since it is indispensable to the efficiency of any Government in France. PEWNSYLVANIA RAILROAD,
