A very able article from "Pascat," one o our most esteemed correspondents, will appear to-marrow morning

LECTURES OF REVD. JOHN LORD .- This dis tinguished lecturer has been engaged by the "Young Men's Library Association," to deliver a course of Lectures in our city, commencing to-night. It is hardly necessary for us to inform our readers who Mr. Lord is. His wide spread reputation is doubtless familiar to most of them. He is without doubt one of the most accomp-He is winout doubt one of the most accump-liahed and interesting Lecturers of the day; and wherever he has been, both in England and in found delight, by crowded audiences. At New York a like one was adversity, President King of the Columbia College, and by all the principal clergy of the city; and at Philadelphia by Bishop Potter, Revd. Joel Parker, and a large number of the principal oltizens At Washington a like request was made from Daniel Webster, Gen. Cass, Gen. Scott, Senators Douglass, Sumner, Houston, Stockton, and a large number of well known names. We can therefore assure our Protestant friends that they will enjoy a treat in Mr. Lord's Lectures, rarely to be met with. Our thanks are greatly due to the enterprizing association who have displayed such good taste well as energy in the selection of this dis-tinguished Lecturer, and we trust they will meet young gentlemen composing the Society, to adster to their pleasure and benefit, and to induce them to go on in their good work.

inch. Mr. Dewey remarks—

"The water of the springs is unsurpassed by ray in the world; and that of the river is always perfeculy fresh, except at high spring tides when it becomes rather brackish. The water of the river is exceedingly muddy, but at low tides springs of water as pure as crystal may be seen gashing from the sands. Although some distant districts are silluted to a great extent with fever and ague, no place can be found which enjoys a greater excemption from diseases than the city of Para and the surrounding country, and there is perhaps no place having a greater exceptionity of temperature."

Although the heat, as indicated by the thermometer, is not as intense as it is some days in the northern States of the Union, yet it is extremely enervating to a northern constitution; although that city may, as Mr. Dewey mays, be ily, when we confidently assure will not be disspecialted. to that which was made a pretext for demanding his own resignation.

Ending his explanation here, Lord Paimerston wound up by pointing out that "firebrind" as he was according to his opponents, he had during the singular long period of his administration of the foreign affairs of England preserved peace, and that he now left ofhee without a single point of contention being open with any foreign power. At the same time, he especially congratulated himself that the relations between England and the United States were upon a more cordial footing than it had ever before existed. Concluding his review of the pasition in which we now stand with all civilized towernments, he added: "I think I may say that in quitting office," I have handed over the foreign relations of the country to my successor with Nos. 455, 4554, and 457 Broadway, New York
