

HOME MATTERS.

BALTIMORE MANSION HOUSE.—The subscriber has the honor of erecting New Market House in the Diamond, met in Philadelphia last night—Judge Jones in the Chair, and Wm. A. Hill, Esq., acting as Secretary.

After a lengthened discussion, it was resolved that the plan drafted by Professor Moore be adopted.

The meeting was then adjourned this present day that we decided upon additional to-day expenses. The plan, so adopted, will now be submitted to the Council.

NEW RUE.—The Honor Judges Forward and Williams of the District Court yesterday adopted two new rules.

One provided that after the Council of public safety of a city shall voted to writing those portions of the charge of the Council to which they object, which their honors shall then seal.

The other declares that in all cases where evidence may be objected to, it shall be the duty of the council to reduce their objections to writing.

THE HARRISON FAMILY.—Our readers will learn with pleasure that the Hutchinson Family will give concert in the city on Thursday or Friday next. They are undoubtedly the most celebrated band of vocalists in America. States, and the concert doubtless be received by an immense audience. We trust we can assure them of a cordial welcome to Pittsburgh.

PROGRESS OF INTELLIGENCE.—We are indebted to Messrs. Wegener, Buschuer & Mueller for a beautifully lithographed representation of the various stages of interment. It is executed in the most style of the art, and reflects great credit to the talents of the artist Mr. A. Wegener.

THE DANCERS.—These singular performers attracted a large audience at L. S. Jaffray's Hall yesterday. The dancer who performed most successfully was of the most singular, yet pleasing character, and gave great pleasure to those who heard her. Our readers should remember that they will give their last concert to-night, when advise them to attend, since they may never have a similar opportunity.

THE CENTRAL ASSOCIATION.—The Central Association of the Friends of Hungry, and in the session room of the Fifth Presbyterian Church, yesterday evening, George W. Jackson, Esq., in the chair, and Mr. Lawrence Eggen acting as Secretary in the absence of J. Heron Foster. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Nathaniel West, after which Doctor J. W. King delivered a very able and appropriate address.

Several other speeches were delivered, and a quantity of material aid received. On motion, it was resolved that Colonel Samuel W. Black be invited to address the Association on the next night of meeting. After the transaction of some other business of no general importance, the Association adjourned.

BRISBANE.—We are pleased to learn that Mr. S. Hardinge, formerly reporter for the New York press, in this our city, has been appointed a director of the Bank of short hand, which he has taught in the East with much success. We have examined it, and it is well worth the price. It is now in general use, and is infinitely superior to the phonographic system. The principles are explained in a few pages, and can be carried out by any one who has become familiar with their use.

We advise all who wish to become acquainted with the system to call on Mr. Hardinge, at the City Hotel. He may be seen at eleven o'clock every day.

Heavy Grief.—During heavy gales of wind and rain, the house, previously on the stem cabin of many of the steamers paged. The steamer Keystone State was blown against the pier of the Monongahela Bridge yesterday, and the ship, all hands, were lost. The vessel was not damaged, and was afterwards taken down to her old port, by a tow boat.

Mr. CANAL.—The water had not reached the basin when we last left up at the Canal yesterday, but it was thought that it would flow in during the night.

Since that was written, the water has come in, and business will doubtless be commenced in this morning.

Brown Dove.—A small station house, for the accommodation of passengers on the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad, at Sewickley, was blown down yesterday by a severe gale of wind.

Sixty-six and One.—His honor, Mayor Fleming of Allegheny, yesterday committed Joseph Sprawl to prison, charged on oath of his wife with adultery.

DIXON'S CONSPIRACY.—Police officer Daugherty arrested a woman named Mary Seward, who had crept into the house of Edward Allen, alias Alexander Buckmaster, committed her to prison for thirty days.

Citizen Garrison.—The right of the street Commissioners were in full force yesterday, and made a desperate onslaught on the mud. The enemy has grown strong by their neglect, and they will have considerable difficulty in subduing it.

AMAZON AND BATTEN.—Peter Lowe, yesterday laid an information before the grand jury, charging that the Amazon, which he had chartered to the steamer, should be condemned of committing an assault and battery upon him. Peter gave bail for his appearance.

THE PHOENIX.—Under this name an extensive steam water craft is now building at Cincinatti. It is intended for the great steamship company of Spalding & Rogers, and will be used for the conveyance of coal and merchandise. It will contain two tiers of decks, the first fitted up arm-chairs, and will be made to accommodate 1,200 passengers. The cost $45,000.

A committee has been organized to raise a sum of $100,000 for the ship, the amount of which will be placed upon the boat, as the means of dispensing sweet relief to the dependents of the sailors, who are now in the service of the Union. The money will be given in connection with the "Palace," a little steamer, 35 feet long and 7 feet beam, called the Humming Bird, which is described as being the largest steam launch of the huge rudge.—Louisville Journal.

AN ORATORS MARCH.—It is often a source of great pleasure to the people of New York, to see an orator, who has not been educated, but still perfectly logical. The party was Mr. Samuel Stetler and Miss Sarah Abbott. The orators are thus described in a brief speech, Mr. Stetler took his turn by the hand, and said:

"The present speakers are persons, I believe, who are my wife, making no promise of continued affection, but having, I trust, the best of motives, to be in each other's faith and affectionate husband and wife during our life."

They then signed a paper with their names, and the couple present signed a certificate as witness to the ceremony, and thus they became husband and wife.

SALT LAKE EXPEDITION.—To those uninitiated in the workings of the Mormon fanatics, the name of the emigrants to the Salt Lake must prove a master of confounding astonishment. Several hundred thousand families are now in St. Louis preparing to embark to this "place of rest." Now, however, we find that the Mormons have sold out, and are leaving that the emigration to the Salt Lake valley this season will not fall short of 500,000 men, women and children. The number of part of the emigration, however, will travel the north side of Plateau—a route that has always claimed preference with their people.

In the Pennsylvania Institution for the Blind, the first year of the present year, there were 107 inmates. We condense the following statistics from the Report: Number reported last year, 107; number reported this year, 107; number during the year, 27 remaining in Institution. 107. Of these, 76 are from Pennsylvania; 76, Maryland; 12, New Jersey; 11, Delaware; 8, Connecticut; 19, New York; 10, Rhode Island; 10, Massachusetts; 10, Vermont; 10, New Hampshire; 10, Maine; 10, and 6 are from other states.

WARS AND HEAVEN.—A Paris letter of the Washington Republic says:

M. Payre, member of the Academy of Sciences, is giving a course of Lectures on the History of the Universe, and the Earth and Man, to the students of the University of Paris, a large portion of the scientifically disputed population of the city.

The last lecture of these lectures, given on Saturday, was on the relation between water and the health of the inhabitants of any locality. I give you a résumé of the more interesting points.

There is a gas known, exists in the air, and it is its presence in the air which renders it respirable. Ordinarily invisible, it manifests itself in the form of a luminous globe. What it fails to do is globules it is never pure, for it carries to the earth with it a portion of the organic and inorganic elements of the atmosphere. An example of this is the case of the sun, which is the source of the vicinity of the sun contains, though in very small quantities, all the substances found in water, and even the water of the sun itself. Such is the case in the water of the Seine, of its salinity. It is a fact that the water of the Seine is more saline than the water of the Rhine, and the water of the Rhine is more saline than the water of the Loire.

Another case—A woman named Lafitte was poisoned to death last evening, supposed to be due to her husband:

Louisville.—Tuesday March 15.

The steamer Eclipse left for Louisville on the 22d inst., with a river length of 300 feet, with 9 feet beam, being the largest boat now on the river.

HORRIBLE MURDER.—Derby, Mass. Mar. 14.

A shooting murder was committed in this city at night, near the residence of the Ballou depot. A woman named Burnhoe was shot through the head. She was first discovered by her husband, who came into the room, and found his wife lying on the floor, with $20 in money taken. An alarm was immediately raised, and tracks were traced to the residence of the deceased, and the murderer was captured.
