ALLEGHERY VALLEY BAILBOAD. We learn that vigorous steps are to be immediately taken to commence this work, which we regard as one of the most important projecteroads in the country. It will constitute the great avenue through which the city of Pitts bursh will communicate with New York. burgh will communicate with New New England. It is a work neces

New England. It is a work necessary to the mainteanne of the important position now bold by that city. For New York and the Eastern States, it opens a direct route to the head of navigation on the Ohlo, without going through Philadelphia, a matter of no small moment, when we consider that that city may again repeat the presedent of refusing to forward over the Central road, marchandize purchased classwhere. It is highly important that New York should be able to reach the Ohio Tirer by a convenient and commoditous route, without suffering from the exactions of her rival. The Albany and Suequehama road will, in connection ing from the exactions of her rival. The Albany and Suuquehanna road will, in connection with the Allegheny Valley road, open a very direct route from Boaton and other eastern cities to the highest points of western navigable waters. There can be no doubt that the Genesee Valley road will reach the Krie road at Olean long before the Allegheny road can be completed, so that a short and direct route, will be opened between Pittsburgh and Lake Ontario. The last named road will traverse one of the most productive iron regions in the world, and will supply western New York and the lakes with these important articles.

and will supply western New York and the lakes with these important articles.

The value of the Allegheny Valley road to this city will be fally appreciated here, and it will be likely to receive substantial sid, so soon as it shall be in a position to demand it. Our people will eagerly embrace a project that promises to give us a free access to the West. If would undoubtedly secure to us a very large trade from Pittsburgh, which is now almost entarety monspolized by Philadelphis. We have good reason to suppose that the companies constructing roads west of Pittsburgh, are well disposed toward New York, which has furnished the means for their work. Pittsburgh can disposed toward New York, which has furnished the means for their work. Pittsburgh cannot fail to be very largely benefitted by having access at all times to the New York market, as this will secure to her much better treatment from the Philadelphia interests. In every point of view, the Allegheny road is a most important work, and we hope to see it pushed forward to the results involved in it demands.—American Railroad Journal.

The above article shows that the impertan of this road is rightly appreciated in New York and its advantages, both local and general, un ierstood. The Pennsylvania Railroad Compan gave great umbrage to the merchants and people of New York by discriminating against mer-chandise purchased in New York, and in favor of that purchased in Philadelphia, during the winter and early spring months, when it was the only avenue open to the West, and the quntity winter and early spring months, when it was the only avenue open to the West, and the quantity of goods offering was greater than could be convayed. Hence the hostill spirit manifested in the article before us towards Philadelphia. Without pretending to determine whether that discrimination could be could not be justified, we cooperatulate the friends of the Allechopy.

Mr. Dawson (of Georgia) said he should not the representation of the proportion of the pr ocal trade than upon its becoming a great thoroughfare between the North-east and South west. Passing, as It will, through a rich and extensive field of coal, which will find an everncreasing market in Western New York, and through the richest iron region of Pennsylva-nis, which renders that country so important and so intimately connected in interest with this city, it will have a local trade to an exten

But the great flood, which now rolls past us with desolating fury, has furnished another strong argument in favor of this road. It is es timated that lumber to the value of one hu dred thousand dollars has been swept off and lost by this freshet. Now if the lumbermen had a railroad on which to carry their lumber to market, instead of the impersons and dan gerous streams which are now their only means of conveyance, they would not be imbject these heavy losses from floods; on the other hand, their commodity would reach market not only safely, but so clean and dry that the dif-ference in value between it and rafted lumber would far more than pay the difference in the expense of transportation. Another great ad-vantage of a railroad is, that lumber could be cent to market at any time, and at very short WHEELIEG BRIDGE. -We have just learned from a gentleman who arrived on Monday night, on board of the Winohe star, a Wheeling boat that board of the windae star, a whoseing cont unat when the river commenced rising on Sunday, the Winchester was forced to raise steam on Sunday, so as to get above the Bridge to be ready to start at her regular hour, eight o'clock on Monday morning.

The Winchester is none of the large Pittabus boats, which were purposely furnished with chimneys too lefty to pass under that obstruc tion, as is alledged by the defenders, of that nuisance, but was built expressly for the Wheel-ing and Pittsburgh travel and is a regular pack at between those places.

A VETO. --Gov. Bigler has returned with ob jections a bill, authorising the remsyrvania.
Railroad Company to purchase and hold ninety tions a bill, authorising the Pennsylvania scres of land on the west bank of the Schrylkill on both sides of the Philadelphia and Columbia Bailroad, embracing, among other pieces of property, the setate of the late John Hare Powall, commonly called Powalton. The gist of his reasons is contained in the following para-

"With atmost disposition to co-operate with the General Assembly in the adoption of every proper measure to promote the success of the Pennaylvania Railroad. I have not been able to satisfy myself that duty requires my approval of this bill, nor can I be persuaded that the possession of so large a quantity of land is necessary to the accomplishment of the legitmaté purposes of this corporation—much less that it is the true policy of the State to allow it to be so pessessed.

without pretending to determine whether that danger and the means of escape. discrimination could or could not be justified, Mr. Dawson (of Georgia) said he should not support Gen. Scott unless he gave a compromise road upon its effects. The Journal has not by any incans, overstand the benefits which will flow ince if he would give it. Mr. Dawson it will be under the census of means overstand the benefits which will flow main, is a sensible and practical man, and a protty good Whig for a Georgia Whig. things if his demands were not granted. Again, it is shown that whereas Mr. Hamilton is doing the work by contract for $35,000, estimating the quantity of printing on the basis of the last Congress, the Committee's arrangement with the two partisan newspapers would have required for the same work $257,000, or about three times the same work $257,000, or about three times to amount which will be paid for it under the contract. The whole thing originates in a determination to break up the contract system, because that protects the tressory from plunders, ing and swindling. The House refused, on the last of a dozen attempts to smother the affair, to lay it on the table, by a vote of 78 to 89, and then by a very large vote referred the report the fears to the House. Pending a motion to reconsider this vote, the House adjourned.
