A Supplement to the Act entitled "An Act relative to the jurisdiction and powers of the Court, passed 16th June, 1836:

Be it enacted, &c., That nothing contained in the thirteenth section of the act of the 16th of June, 1836, relative to the jurisdiction and powers of the Court, shall be construed to prevent the Supreme Court from exercising original jurisdiction in equity, in any of the cases enumerated in the said section, within any of the counties of the Commonwealth, or to prohibit the process of the said Court from running into any other county of this Commonwealth—but the said Court, when in session in any district, shall exercise original jurisdiction in the cases enumerated in said section throughout the State; and if not decided before the close of the session in said district, shall cause the same, (with all proceedings thereon,) to be certified to and filed for action with the prothonotary of the Supreme Court in the district within which said Court shall be next in session—and so to be certified from district to district, until finally decided upon—and so much of said section as limits the chancery powers and jurisdiction to the Supreme Court when sitting in banc in the City of Philadelphia, and to the Court of Common Pleas of said city and county, be and the same is hereby repealed; provided, that the said Court shall not have the original jurisdiction, by virtue of this act, to supervise any partnership or unincorporated associations or societies; and provided, also, that this enactment shall not be construed to repeal the first section of the act of the General Assembly, passed May 6th, 1814, entitled "An Act further to regulate proceedings in Courts of Justice, and for other purposes."

STOLEN HORSES—ONE THIEF CAUGHT.

ARMAGH, INDIANA COUNTY, April 26, 1852.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

SIR:—The citizens of this place wish you to notice in your Daily, with one insertion in the Weekly Gazette, the fact that two horses have been discovered in the vicinity of this borough, believed to have been stolen; one a grey horse, and the other a dun mare with white mane and tail. One of the supposed thieves is now in custody in the Indiana Jail, the other unfortunately escaped from the officers. The escaped prisoner is a man about five feet four or five inches in height, well made, red hair, sandy complexion, and is named John Rutter—says he lives within six miles of Cincinnati. We wish it generally known, in order that the owner or owners may be enabled to reclaim their property, and also come forward to prosecute. The horses are secured in the vicinity of this place.
