Scubenville and other roads, at the same time avoiding the heavy grades and break neck precipies of their present contemplated route. Suppose on the other hand that the Baltimore and Ohio road is fushed to Wheeling, and this road is made connecting by the Hempfield with Wheeling, won't it take the wind out of their sails? With their heavy grades they cannot compete in time with the Central Road; what then could they do against a road running from the same point on the best route and easiest grades in the country? But enough for the present. We shall advert to the subject again, as our object as this time was but to apprise our readers of the fact that the Casciman's river route is now clear, and all that is wanting is the "material aid" necessary for the purpose.

GEN. SCOTT ON SLAVERY.

The following letter from Gen. Scott, though written many years ago, has been revived by the Presidential discussions now in progress.

An Gen. Scott appears to have other business on hand than letter writing, his old letters are looked up and reprinted—this among them.

Washington, Feb. 9, 1848.

Dear Str.—I have been waiting for an evening's leisure to answer your letter before me, and, after an unreasonable delay, am at last inliged to reply in the midst of a street and the suppose of the same thing.
