COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—The Court of Quarter Sessions met yesterday, present the Honorable Wm. McClure, President, and P. McKenna and William Bogus, Associate Judges.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Samuel Thoakes was taken up. The defendant was accused of breaking into the store of Joseph Livingston, of Mifflin township, and stealing therefrom a small amount in cash, and a quantity of dry goods and groceries. The offence was clearly made out, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The prisoner was then sentenced by his Honor, Judge McClure, to undergo an imprisonment of one year in the Western Penitentiary.

PYROMANIA.—The Court of Oyer and Terminer was opened, and the case of the Commonwealth vs. Cicely Dugan, indictment arson, was called up.

James Thompson, of Ross township, testified that towards the close of last month, he saw smoke issuing from the house of Caspar Reed, in Perrysville, and a number of little children crying at the door. His wife was also there. The defendant there, and told her that the house was on fire. She said that it was not. The witness then went up stairs, found that a room in which no fire had been burning, was in flames, and with the aid of other persons, succeeded into-tinguishing them before much damage had been done.

Mr. James Newell lived near the house in question, saw a dense column of smoke arising from it, and aided in extinguishing the fire. The defendant had been lurking about the house, in which there are no persons but children.

The record in No. 488, of October Term, 1851, in which the defendant had been found guilty of setting fire to and burning a barn belonging to Mr. Melvin, of Ross township, was exhibited in evidence, the jury also finding that at the time they found the same. She was then sent on to the State Lunatic Asylum, but has been discharged, as it was thought she was cured.

Mr. John Fox, the County Jailer, testified that the mind of the defendant was much more unsettled than it had been during her former stay in the prison.

His Honor, Judge McClure, delivered a charge to the jury in which he stated that they might be aware that within the last year or two, a State Lunatic Asylum had been erected, within a short distance of Harrisburgh, by an act of Assembly it was provided that when a person should be tried for any offence, great or small, the jury should find him or her guilty or not guilty, according to the circumstances, but if guilty, and they were satisfied the accused were insane at the time the offence was committed, they should specify that fact in their verdict. The unfortunate woman before them, had been tried for a similar offence at the October Session last year; the jury found her guilty, and she was sent to the Lunatic Asylum at Harrisburgh. The physicians then, however, wrote to her husband, who is an industrious worthy man, stating that her conduct had been most exemplary, and that they were of the opinion that she had recovered the use of her reasoning faculties. He went on and brought her home, but she had relapsed.—Having been found insane at the October session she of course in the eye of the law remained so until her sanity was legally established. Her particular form of insanity was that of Pyromania, and it was necessary that she should be confined in some asylum, where she could be guarded and treated well, for she was not an accountable being, and she burned a dozen houses could be punished. The jury retired, and concluded by furnishing the jury with a blank form of the verdict which the case required, and after a short absence they returned a verdict, finding that at the time Mrs. Dugan had committed the offence, she was insane and still remained so.

The lunatic was then removed from Court.—She manifests the warmest feelings of attachment to her unfortunate husband and children, but nothing can repress her incendiary propensities.

SURETY OF THE PEACE.—The case of the Commonwealth vs. John Irwin, information Surety of the Peace, on oath of Isaac Wallace, was taken up. The parties reside in Birmingham, and the prosecutor testified that the defendant had made certain threats towards him, and that he was afraid of him. On cross examination it appeared that, owing to the prosecutor's intemperance, the defendant had been appointed guardian to his family

A number of the most respectable witnesses testified to the good character of the defendant for peace, honesty, industry, and sobriety, and to the bad character of the prosecutor as regarded intemperance. No decision pronounced, there being cross actions of assault and battery between the parties

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Commonwealth vs. Wm. West—Information surety of the peace, on oath of Cornelia West. The prosecutrix is the wife of the defendant, and living unhappily together, she separated from him. He went to a house where she was residing and threatened, if she did not return, to take her life. The Court sentenced him to pay the costs of prosecution, and to be committed in default.

Commonwealth vs. Hiram Roger—Indictment, Larceny. The defendant was charged on oath of John F. Able, with stealing a skiff, the property of Jerome S. Bonnet, on the 1st of June, near Sharpsburg. He pleaded guilty, and manifesting contrition, was only sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of two months in the County Jail.

The cases of the Commonwealth vs. Anne Mary White, and Susan Sarver, and the Commonwealth vs. Mary Furlong, cross suits of assault and battery, was next taken up. The children of the parties who are neighbors, had been fighting and their parents espoused the quarrel. The evidence was unimportant. Mrs. Furlong was acquitted. Mrs. Sarver and Miss White, convicted, and sentenced to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Dulcy Davis. Information. Surety of the Peace on oath of Nancy Savage. The parties who are colored, quarrelled at a "wake," and the defendant threatened the life of the prosecutrix if she should hang for it. She was sentenced to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Alexander Caldwell. Indictment, Assault and Battery on oath of R. C. Beade. The defendant pleaded guilty, and as the case was a very trifling one, was sentenced to pay a fine of 6¼ cents and the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Mary Campbell. Indictment—larceny, alleged to have been committed in stealing a five dollar gold piece, the property of Catharine Ewing. The Court adjourned, this case being still on trial.

The Fifth Volume of Harper's New Monthly Magazine is completed, and in the issue of the present number, the publishers embrace the opportunity of renewing the expression of their thanks to the public generally for the extraordinary degree of favor with which its various numbers have been received. The regular circulation now consists of nearly thousand copies.

The publishers feel that they have invariably special attention to their historical department, which is prepared by six of the most accomplished literary gentlemen of the country, and all of whom are well known and beloved by each number.

The publishers truly trust that it is not necessary for them to reiterate their assurances, that nothing shall ever be admitted into the pages of the Magazine to pollute the mind, offensive to decency or to any moral sentiment. They will seek steadily to keep upon the public a healthy moral influence, and to improve the character, as well as increase the taste of their readers. They will aim to make their Magazine a complete repertory of whatever is most needful and agreeable in the current literary productions of the day.
