HOME MATTERS.

LADIES FAIR.—Our readers will remember that the ladies of the Rev. Mr. Simpson's congregation (First Cumberland Presbyterian) of Allegheny, are now holding a fair in Allegheny for the purpose of raising funds to pay for their new building. The Fair was opened yesterday in a large three story building on Federal street, a few doors above the second bank, and will be continued to day and to morrow. We were pleased to see it crowded with visitors yesterday and last night. The ladies who have got it up, have at great expense provided a great variety of fancy articles and refreshments, and we sincerely trust that they will be well encouraged. One hundred ladies have been for six months engaged in preparing for it. A free passage to and from the Fair is given to all visitors by omnibusses. Music in the evening.

STRAWBERRY GATHERING.—A number of benevolent ladies have made arrangements to give a Strawberry gathering for the exhausted treasury of the Pittsburgh Infirmary. It will be held on the afternoon and evening of next Thursday, June 24, in the Masonic Hall, 5th street. Donations of cake, fruit, cream, and other refreshments are respectfully solicited, and may be sent either to the Hall, or to the house of Mrs. Black, Sr., 24 st., near Ross.

PITTSBURGH INFIRMARY.—Our readers will be pleased to see by a notice in the local column, that the ladies will get up another of those very pleasant social festivals called a "Strawberry Gathering," at the Masonic Hall, on Thursday next, in aid of the funds of the Pittsburgh Infirmary (Mr. Pastavant's.) We hope they will receive liberal donations in the various articles necessary to enable them to carry out their benevolent design handsomely. It is unnecessary, in this community, to descant upon the claims of this admirable institution.

We call the attention of the health officers and of the Street Commissioners to the condition of Post-office Alley, and of some of the premises adjoining. It is in a very filthy condition, extremely unpleasant to those whose business requires them to pass through it or do business in buildings the windows of which open upon it, during this extremely warm weather. It is not only unpleasant, but positively detrimental to the health of the neighborhood.

THE HOUSE OF REFUGE.—A very respectable meeting of citizens, favorable to the subscription, by the County Commissioners, of ten thousand dollars to the House of Refuge, which it is proposed to erect near Allegheny City, assembled in the Court House yesterday, and in the absence of James S. Craft, Esq., the regular chairman, the Rev. Dr. Campbell, of Manchester, was called to preside.

John D. McCord, Esq., and Thos. Steele, Esq., acted as Secretaries.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read.

On motion of Isaac M. Pennock, Esq., it was resolved to consider the resolutions read at the last meeting, as follows:

Whereas, An Association has been organized under a Legislative authority for the purpose of founding a House of Refuge for Western Pennsylvania. And whereas, the county of Allegheny has been empowered to subscribe through her Commissioners a sum not exceeding $20,000 towards said institution. And whereas, it is stated that the State has appropriated $20,000 00 to the same, in addition to more than $22,000 00 subscribed by humane individuals: And whereas, it is deemed of vital importance to the citizens of Allegheny county, whether as philanthropists or tax payers, that said House of Refuge should be founded and completed without delay, Therefore

Resolved: That we, the citizens of Allegheny County, do earnestly invoke our County Commissioners to make an immediate subscription of $10,000 on behalf of said County, for the use of the House of Refuge, for Western Pennsylvania, to be located in said County.

The Reverend Dr. Black rose and said that he would state there that if it were an object to procure the assistance of the neighboring counties, it was necessary that Allegheny county should take the lead in the matter. It was very certain that all the counties around were looking with anxiety to see whether this county would do something to favor the cause of the proposed institution. He had, some time ago, gone out to the town of Butler, at the request of Mr. Hanna, to attend to the interests of the House of Refuge. There was a full attendance of the Board, and the town was crowded by citizens of the county. He had found it absolutely necessary to state that Allegheny county would subscribe to the stock; in fact all the action they would take, would be based on what Allegheny county would do.

The citizens of Butler were in favor of the House of Refuge. A large meeting was held in the Court House in the evening, at which resolutions in favor of it had been adopted, without one dissenting voice. By the advice of Judge Agnew, he went before the Grand Jury, explained the matter to them, and induced them to consent to recommend a county subscription, which would at once have been carried into effect, had it not been for the erection of the public buildings going on then. It was only necessary for Allegheny county to act vigorously, and give a subscription of $10,000, a mere nothing to us, and the neighboring counties would subscribe liberally. He thought in view of the vast interests involved, that there would not be a dissenting voice in this whole county to the subscription.

The Rev. Dr. Campbell had recently visited the county of Washington, on the same errand as his brother, and it seemed to be expected by all, that Allegheny county should set the example in subscribing. He had seen with pleasure that great credit was universally awarded to the liberality of the individuals who have subscribed to the House of Refuge in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county; but while this was the case, and the meed of praise was so frankly given to them, it was also expected that the county would, in its corporate capacity, contribute to its aid. If the Commissioners faltered they could get no aid from abroad.

The universal sentiment of the people of this county was that the subscription should be made. Why, more than the interest of ten thousand dollars is now expended in taking on youthful criminals, and how many have escaped altogether owing to the expense and trouble of taking them on. He had been told by legal gentlemen that scores and scores got clear owing to this, and the fact of their being young. How many rude bad boys, who now have not the fear of the law before their eyes, would be brought to their senses and reformed had they but a House of Refuge here. Many of the little vagrants running about the streets, adepts in all kinds of iniquity, would be reclaimed owing to its means, and he thought that the inhabitants of the whole county were in favor of it. The very fact of their having a small attendance there, proved this fact conclusively, for the inhabitants of Allegheny county, were abroad and alive to their interests when money matters were concerned. The universal voice was in its favor, and there was not a doubt in his mind about the public sustaining the commissioners. The proposed institution had the prayers of all good men in its favor. He would simply narrate one fact. About six months ago, while he was walking along the streets, a gentleman came up to him and said, "When will the House of Refuge be established?" He had replied that those who had it in charg were active, energetic men, and would doubtless soon make the necessary arrangements.

"Would to God," said he, "we had such an institution now, for I have a boy with whom I can do nothing."

The Honorable George Darsie did not think that there was any necessity for further discussion, but wished to call their attention to one fact.

The authorities of this county had, it was true, a right to send juvenile offenders to the House of Refuge in Philadelphia county, but they must first be disgraced by the brand of a criminal conviction. When he had been in the Legislature, a worthy Quaker of Philadelphia, Isaac Collins, Esq., had called his attention to the necessity of a House of Refuge in our midst, and it was at his suggestion, that the bill which he, Mr. D., had introduced into the Legislature, had been passed.

Dr. Campbell had stated one instance of suffering from the misconduct of a child here, but such instances frequently occurred. In Philadelphia, inhabitants of other counties frequently went to the Managers of the House of Refuge, and with tears in their eyes, implored them to undertake the charge of their wicked children, and disobedient children, but they were obliged, in accordance with the law to refuse, unless they had first been convicted. As things now stood here, children who were depraved, persisted in their evil courses, and went on from one stage of vice to another. What remedy had a widowed mother for example, in case her sons turned out badly. They were periodically brought before the Court, but they well know that the sympathies of the Judge and Jury are enlisted by their youth, are acquitted, and persevere. If a House of Refuge were established here as in other places, parents could go before any Justice of the Peace, and a child could be sent by him to it, without the disgrace of a conviction.

Mr Darsie proceeded to narrate the particulars of a visit which he had recently paid to the House of Refuge at Cincinnati. It contained among its inmates, a girl of about thirteen years of age, who prior to her incarceration, had burned more property than would have paid for the erection of a House of Refuge, twice over, and who dressed in boys' clothes, had run on the river in steamboats, and driven the horses of canal boats on the tow-paths of Ohio. In that excellent establishment, they had a school and chapel, and such unfortunates as the one to whom he had alluded, are trained in the ways of morality. They had separate play-grounds for the sexes, and he had seen them playing innocently with their keepers. When their play was over, each one took a bath, (having to bathe by the regulations once a day,) and that over, they went to the school room or work shops. The whole day was thus divided between instruction and amusement, and children of very bad character became useful and virtuous members of society.

On motion, the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

On motion, it was resolved, that the officers of this meeting be instructed to furnish copies of the resolutions properly authenticated to the County Commissioners, and the meeting adjourned.

Mr. POINDEXTER's dwelling in Allegheny, advertised for sale in this paper, is well worthy the attention of capitalists, or of such as may wish a desirable residence.

FAIR.—The Fair held for the benefit of the Rev. Mr. Lee's Church, in Lawrenceville, yesterday afternoon, was, we are pleased to learn, attended by a very numerous company, between one and two thousand persons having been present. The Festival was held on the grounds of the Allegheny Arsenal, and everything passed off pleasantly. We regret that our space will not permit us to give a more extended notice of these delightful festivities.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Before the Hon. William B. McClure, President, and Wm Boggs, and Patrick McKenna, Associate Judges.

The case of the Commonwealth vs John Sutherford Leonx Rea, and Francis Fowler, indictment forcible entry and detainder. On information of Kennedy T. Friend, was taken up this morning and occupied nearly the entire day.

Messrs. Wm. C. Friend, John Mellon and H S. Magraw appeared for the Commonwealth Messrs. E. P. Jones, Requrt Woods and S W Black for defendants.

The lot of land in the question is about eight acres in extent, is situated in Pitt township, and is of the value of eight thousand acres. The prosecutor purchased the land in question in the month of September last, from Ira Hershey and took possession of it, received rents, dug a well and exercised other rights of ownership up to February last: when the defendants took possession maintaining teat the deed by which prosecutor claims the property was fraudulent, and that he could of course derive no title thereby.

The Jury after a short absence, returned a verdict of guilty.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. K. T. Friends, indictment, assault and battery, on oath of John Rutherford was then taken up, but the Court adjourned before much progress had been made in the trial.

Prior to the adjournment, John Robinson, against whom his wife had brought an information of surety of the Peace, was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, to give security for his good behavior for one year, or be committed in default.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT.—Mayor Fleming yesterday committed James Leslie to prison for 20 days, convicted on oath of Jas. McVicker, of disorderly conduct.

RELEASED.—John Simpson, committed to prison on Wednesday by Alderman McMaster, on a charge of surety of the peace, was yesterday discharged from prison, the case having been amicably settled.

WATCH HOUSE.—Four persons were yesterday brought before the Mayor, charged with disorderly conduct and drunkenness. They were all committed from one to thirty days, to the county prison.

BOARD WALK.—The board walk on Webster street, near Crawford, bordering on the stone quarry of Mr. Shore, is still unprotected by a railing.

HEIGHT OF THE THERMOMETER.—The thermometer stood at 87 yesterday in the shade, at noon.

ATTENTION.—The attention of the Street Commissioner is respectfully called to the filthy state of the gutter up Exchange alley, and of the sewers at the corner of Penn and Saint Clair streets. The stench proceeding from them is very noisome, and said a little time would be of service. The inhabitants in that section of the town are complaining loudly, and the nuisance is one which can be readily so abated, that we trust the Street Commissioner will attend to it.

THREATENING HIS WIFE.—Martin Roppler was on Wednesday committed to prison by Alderman Patterson, charged, on oath of Christina his wife, with putting her in fear of her life.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—Alderman Symmes on Wednesday committed Henry Vojtel to prison, charged with assault and battery, on oath of his wife.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT.—His honor, Mayor Fleming, of Allegheny, yesterday committed Frederick Shilling to prison for five days, charged, on oath of Barbara Shilling, with drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

ACQUITTED.—The case of Mr. J. Smiley, accused of keeping a tippling house, came before the Court of Quarter Sessions on Wednesday, but the prosecutor, Alexander Boyd, not appearing, he was acquitted. The same person had likewise laid an information against Smiley for keeping a disorderly house, which was not returned to Court, the Alderman deciding in favor of the latter.

The facts appear to be that Smiddy's license was revoked by the Court without any notice being given to him, and he was then prosecuted for keeping a tippling house, although his establishment is one of the oldest houses in the Second Ward.

SURETY OF THE PEACE.—Alderman Thompson yesterday committed John Robinson to prison, charged, on oath of W. Newtown, with surety of the peace. Alderman Major also lodged two commitments against the same person,—one for assault and battery with intention to kill, on oath of his wife, the other for assault and battery, on oath of Catharine Pannel. He will be tried at the present term of the Court.

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE, located corner of Market and Third streets, Pittsburgh, Pa.

O. K. CHAMBERLIN, Principal, and Professor of the Science of Accounts.

P. R. SPENCER, Professor of Penmanship.

The principal object of this institution is to afford young men an opportunity of obtaining a thorough and practical knowledge of Double Entry Book keeping, and its application to business generally. Applicants can enter the College at any time, and attend both day and evening. The course of instruction is such as will enable the student to take charge of and conduct an intricate set of books in a short space of time. Double Entry, on the principles set forth in the celebrated work of Jones, Lee & Co., of Cincinnati, is the system taught in this College.

Also, a complete system of Single Entry Book keeping, adapted to the wants of Farmers, Mechanics, Retail Merchants, and all persons going to California.

Penmanship—To write a free and legible hand is an accomplishment in the education of young gentlemen, or every profession, and more particularly to those who are desirous of qualifying themselves for Mercantile and Business pursuits.

The Department is under the control of P. R. Spencer, of Ohio, (author of the Spencerian System of Penmanship) a gentleman well known throughout the country as a superior penman, and also as one of the most successful teachers of the art.

Communications addressed to O. K. CHAMBERLIN will receive prompt attention.

O. K. CHAMBERLIN'S

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE, located corner of Market and Third streets, Pittsburgh, Pa.

O. K. CHAMBERLIN, Principal, and Professor of the Science of Accounts.

P. R. SPENCER, Professor of Penmanship.

The principal object of this institution is to afford young men an opportunity of obtaining a thorough and practical knowledge of Double Entry Book keeping, and its application to business generally. Applicants can enter the College at any time, and attend both day and evening. The course of instruction is such as will enable the student to take charge of and conduct an intricate set of books in a short space of time. Double Entry, on the principles set forth in the celebrated work of Jones, Lee & Co., of Cincinnati, is the system taught in this College.

Also, a complete system of Single Entry Book keeping, adapted to the wants of Farmers, Mechanics, Retail Merchants, and all persons going to California.

Penmanship—To write a free and legible hand is an accomplishment in the education of young gentlemen, or every profession, and more particularly to those who are desirous of qualifying themselves for Mercantile and Business pursuits.

The Department is under the control of P. R. Spencer, of Ohio, (author of the Spencerian System of Penmanship) a gentleman well known throughout the country as a superior penman, and also as one of the most successful teachers of the art.

Communications addressed to O. K. CHAMBERLIN will receive prompt attention.
