On motion,

Resolved, That a Ratification Meeting be held in the rear of the Amereean Hotel, Penn st., on Tuesday evening, the 22d inst. Adjourned.

JOHN WILLOCK, Chm'n.

ROBT. PORTER, A. P. ANSHUTZ, Sec'ys.

June 21, 1852.

Our streets last night, in the neighborhood of this office, were wild with joyous enthusiasm. This office and that of the Journal were brilliantly illuminated, and what with rockets, squibs and other impromptu fire works, together with the cheers of the excited crowds who filled the streets, there was truly a lively time. One hundred and fifty-nine guns were fired from the bell near the basin, one for each vote that Scott received on the final ballot, in honor of the nomination. The spirit of this campaign bids fair to exceed that of 1848

FAIR.—We are pleased to learn that the recent Fair held in Lawrenceville for the benefit of the First Presbyterian Church of that Borough, netted a handsome sum. By the way our readers should remember that the Fair in Allegheny, for the benefit of the first Cumberland Presbyterian Church, will close this evening, on which occasion it is hoped that the citizens who have not yet had an opportunity, will attend.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Before the Honorable William B. McClure, President, and William Boggs, and P. McKenna Associate Judges.

Commonwealth vs. William Farley, Simon Snyder, and Joseph P. Shannon, indictment assault and battery, alleged to have been committed on Dr. William Werneberg. The first defendant is Captain of the Watch, the others are watchmen. The assault is alleged to have been committed on the night of the 16th of May, (Saturday:) Dr. Werneberg was sworn and testified that on the evening in question, between the hours of ten and eleven o'clock, he was standing with two friends at Hartley's, corner of Wood street and Diamond alley, when he heard a noise up Diamond alley, occasioned by the watchmen tapping their maces on the pavement. He, in company with them, went up, and found that some rowdy had made an assault upon a German and gone into a tavern in the Diamond. The Germans and his friends were anxious to have him arrested, but the watchmen finally took them into custody. They were unable to speak the German language, and he accompanied them to the Mayor's office, in order to urge their innocence and explain that they had arrested the wrong persons. While in the watchhouse, attempting to explain the matter, the Captain, W. Farley, bade him "shut his mouth," and he making some further remarks, the Captain came from behind his desk, and with the assistance of the two other defendants, and a number of other watchmen, he was violently seized, his coat torn, a gold watch chain broken, and he was thrust into a cell and the door locked upon him. On cross examination, the Doctor said that he was somewhat excited at the time.

Lynde Elliot, Esq., Editor of the Union, testified, that on the evening in question he had left his office, having concluded the labors of the day, and was proceeding down Wood street, when he saw three gentlemen standing at the corner of Wood street and Diamond alley. Heard a voice up the alley, and saw them run up, followed them, and saw what Dr. Werneberg had done. Went down to the watch-house, and saw Dr. W. after the lapse of some few minutes, violently seized and thrown into the tombs. He had been, in the opinion of the witness, doing nothing wrong, but acted as any gentleman would have done under the circumstances. Witness went to the Mayor's house, and got a release from him, but before his return the Captain had discharged Doctor Werneberg of his own motion. On cross examination he stated that he had written an article which appeared in the Union, on the subject. Was somewhat excited himself, but did not shake his fist at the Captain.

A. Ottinger had gone to the watch house on Saturday evening, the 15th of May, and described the occurrence substantially as the others had done. The Doctor wished to explain the mistake which the watchmen had committed in arresting the wrong men and, tried to speak but they would not let him.

William Rathsecker was sworn and testified that it was altogether at his request that Doctor Werneberg went to the watch house. A friend of his had been unlawfully arrested, and as he could not speak English, he wished the Doctor to explain the matter. The Doctor's seizure was detailed as before.

Mayor Guthrie testified that no charge had been preferred before him against Doctor Werneberg.

A number of other witnesses were examined whose evidence did not differ materially from that already given.

FOR THE DEFENCE:

Thomas McCready, a spectator who had been in the watch house at the time this occurrence took place, testified that Dr. Werneberg was behaving in a noisy and disorderly manner in the watch house, and that Captain Farley stated to him two or three times that if he was not quiet he would look him up, which, in place of silencing him, made him more excited.

John F. Dudley, also a spectator, gave evidence of a similar character.

Thomas Burns, a watchman, stated that instead of Snyder and Shannon aiding the Captain to take the Doctor into the cells, it was he and Patrick Duffy who did so. The prosecutor was behaving in a disorderly manner and was in a state of great excitement.

Patrick Duffy had assisted in conveying the Doctor into the cells and corroborated the evidence of the foregoing witness.

A large number of witnesses were called, who all proved that Captain Farley was a man of most exemplary character. Some of them who were acquainted with Snyder and Shannon, also testified that their characters for peace and sobriety were very good. Among them were Gabriel Andrews, Esq., Aldermen Major, McMaster, and Reinhart, Capt. T. A. Bowley, Capt. Wm. Ward, and Messrs. W. S. Thompson, T. Scott, and Andrew Getty.

The Jury were addressed by Thos. Umbstaetter, Esq., for the Commonwealth, and Thomas Mellon, Esq., for the defendants. The Court then adjourned. Messrs. Thos. M. Marshall and A. W. Burke, will address the jury this morning.

DISTRICT COURT.—The District Court was not in session yesterday, but will meetthis morning.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A little son of Mrs. Andrews, of the First Ward Allegheny, fell into the Canal off the foot bridge, over the lower outlet lock on Sunday evening. The water was upwards of ten feet deep, and he was nearly drowned, but was rescued by the gallant exertions of Mr. Samuel Melby.

FOUND DROWNED.—A man, name unknown, was found drowned yesterday in the Monongahela river. The body was well dressed and had been in the water apparently for about three weeks. Between two and three dollars and a German newspaper were found in his pockets. A verdict of found drowned was returned.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY MEETINGS.—We do not think it necessary to publish the names of all the delegates to the Democratic Convention, which will meet in the Court House to-morrow. Kent's strength is confined to the city, nearly all the country districts having gone for McClintock or Miller. The Sheriffalty will be with them as it was in the recent Whig Convention, the principal object of contention.

NEW EXPRESS TRAIN.—The "East Express Train," on the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad, for Alliance, Ohio, started at eleven o'clock, yesterday morning. J. N. Courtney, formerly conductor of the early Express Train, has taken it under his charge. He leaves his old situation with the best wishes of the officers for his success.

A DEEP TOO MUCH.—A man very much intoxicated, attempted to bathe at the foot of Pitt street on Saturday evening, but was nearly drowned owing to his swallowing "a drop too much" He was rescued by some persons who were swimming around him.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—The dwelling of Mr. Ansley Smith, of East Birmingham, was struck by lightning on Saturday. Mrs. Smith was slightly stunned and some damage was done to the furniture, though none to the building.

SUPPOSED STOLEN GOODS.—The Mayor has now in his possession, a fine gold breast-pin, with a cornelian stone, valued at eighteen dollars, which was taken from a colored woman, whom her husband had sent with it to a jeweler's store, to sell for a trifling amount, and which is supposed to have been stolen. The functionary has also a single case silver watch, taken by Captain Farley from a colored woman which is also supposed to have been stolen.

SELLING LIQUOR WITHOUT A LICENSE.—Alderman Reighart yesterday held Andrew Kahn of Temperanceville to bail on a charge of selling liquor without a license.

ROBBERY.—John Gamble, from up the Kiskiminitas, was robbed one day last week in a house on Prospect street, of a pocket book containing seventeen dollars. He was intoxicated at the time. Mary Miller, alias Mary Bradley was arrested, and committed on suspicion by Alderman Parkinson.

ASTONISHMENT IN A DRUG STORE.—A cow on Saturday broke from her drivers on Wood street, and ran into Mr. McGuffey's drug store. The "milky mother of the herd" was removed with some difficulty before she had done any damage.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT.—The Mayor yesterday committed John Wilk to prison for ten days on a charge of disorderly conduct.

HAIL.—There was quite a heavy fall of hail yesterday afternoon.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARIES.—Several attempts have been made within the last few days to break into dwellings in the vicinity of Oakland, but they have uniformly proved unsuccessful.

THUNDER.—There were several heavy showers of rain yesterday, accompanied by thunder and lightning.

NEARLY DROWNED.—A little girl about six years of age, who was playing on some rafts at foot of Pitt street, fell into the water on Sunday morning. She was drawn under by the current, but fortunately came up between two rafts, and was rescued by a bystander from a watery grave.

GRADING.—Workmen are now busily engaged in grading Chesnut street above Locust.

SELLING LIQUOR ON SUNDAY.—William Honmer, who keeps an establishment at the corner of Grant and Webster streets, was yesterday brought before the Mayor on a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. The case will be tried today.

ANOTHER AND ANOTHER.—Mrs. Jane Thompson of Temperanceville, and Andrew Bohn of the same place, were yesterday brought before Alderman Reinhart by officer J. A. Ryan, on a charge of selling liquor on the Sabbath. They were fined fifty dollars each.

AFFRAY.—On Saturday, after the Democratic Primary meeting in Lawrenceville, an altercation took place between two men named Roger Jeffrey and Augustus Decker. Decker had a pistol in his coat pocket, which went off, the ball tearing a hole in his coat, and passing into the ground. Jeffroys alarmed by the noise as it was dark, and he did not know whether the shot was fired intentionally or not, struck Decker in the mouth, cutting his upper lip so severely that Doctor Shields had to sew it up.

ABUSING HIS WIFE.—The Mayor yesterday committed James Mulligan to prison, in default of paying a fine of five dollars on a charge of abusing his wife.

STRAWBERRY GATHERING.—A number of benevolent ladies have made arrangements to give a Strawberry gathering for the exhausted treasury of the Pittsburgh Infirmary. It will be held on the afternoon and evening of next Thursday, uno 24, in the Masonic Hall, 5th street. Donations of cake, fruit, cream, and other refreshments are respectfully solicited, and may be sent either to the Hall, or to the house of Mrs. Black, Sr., 2d st., near Ross.

The ladies of the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church of Allegheny, will continue their fair on to-day and tomorrow. Their success last week was very encouraging.

WHIG NATIONAL CONVENTION.

GEN SCOTT NOMINATED.

TREMENDOUS EXCITEMENT!!

BALTIMORE, June 21—2½ P. M.

Gen. Scott is nominated! The excitement is tremendous. Fling the banner to the breeze!—The States are now giving in their adhesion, and the nomination will be unanimous. North Carolina, Georgia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana, and Maryland, all promise him a majority.—The roaring of artillery is mingled with the shouts of the Convention. Let Pittsburgh have a glorious ratification meeting!!

D. N. W.

WHIG NATIONAL CONVENTION.

BALTIMORE, June 21.

The City is in great excitement this morning, and the spectators are flocking to the Hall. At eight o'clock the Delegates returned from Washington, and the Webster and Fillmore men have made arrangements that will, they think, result in the nomination of Webster or Fillmore on the 2d or 3d ballot. The Webster men have promises from the South that if Webster can show 60 votes from the free States they will rally on him; should he fall short of this number then the Webster men will go over to Fillmore. The Michigan delegates have agreed to go for Webster as soon as he has received 40 Southern votes. Also a portion of the Indiana delegation. The Scott men also profess to be more sanguine than ever at the prospect of a break in the Fillmore forces in favor of Webster, anticipating by this means a gain sufficient to elect Scott. Bets are making in the Astor at the rate of $1000 to $300 on Scott's nomination, whilst in the Taylor parlor $10,000 to $5,000 are offered on Fillmore or Webster against Scott. There will be decided movements this morning, and all parties are highly sanguine.

At ten minutes to 10 o'clock the Convention began to assemble. All parties are sanguine. The heat is intense. The galleries are crowded with ladies. The Scott men think he will be nominated on the 2d ballot, and the Webster men anticipate Webster's nomination on the same ballot. Fillmore men, Fillmore on the 3d ballot.

Mr. Reman, of Georgia, introduced a resolution as follows:

Whereas William H. Raymond holds a seat in this Convention by questionable title, and as he has accused its members of perjury, re-solved that he be expelled from this Convention.

General Rencon, of Georgia, spoke with great energy, contending that Mr. Raymond had assailed the honor of every Southern delegate in the Convention, and it is due to the character of the Southern States and to the character of the Union people; it is due likewise to Gen. Scott, and to the friends of Webster and Fillmore, that he should produce the names of the Southern delegates who have dishonored themselves and their constituents. He then read the offensive despatch from the Times.

The reading of the article caused general laughter from the Scott men, and scowls from the Southerners.

Mr. Cranston moved to lay the resolution on the table.

Mr. Raymond appealed for the withdrawal of the motion until he could defend himself.

Mr. Cranston refused to withdraw the motion

The Convention decided to hear Mr. Raymond.

Mr. Raymond expressed profound regret that one so unimportant as himself should be the cause of delaying business. He demanded that the Convention should "Strike but hear" He first proposed to discuss his claim to a seat briefly. He came to the Convention as editor of the Times, not as a delegate, but his name was inserted as a substitute for ten Chairmen of the New York delegation, Mr. Bruce, he having been taken ill. Mr. Raymond charged James Watson Webb with having brought this matter before the Convention from motives of personal spite, which he dare not show face to face with him.

Some one desired to attribute it to Mr. Grinnell and not to Mr. Webb, but Mr. Raymond repeated the charge against Mr. Webb of personal malignity. Webb remarked loud enough to be heard, that he had not bring it before the Convention, but handed the resolution to Mr. Ashmun who acknowledged that he introduced it to the Southern delegates.

Mr. Raymond now proceeded to read and comment on the article alluded to in the resolution, declaring that he repudiated any thought or idea of charging corruption on any, and asserting that the North had yielded to the South on the platform, and he had a right to form the opinion that the North should expect the South to yield them the poor boon of a candidate after yielding them so much.

Mr. Cabell considered some remarks of Mr. Raymond as charging him personally with fraud He would not submit to such language.

Mr. Raymond replied to Mr. Cabell that, when he charged him with falsehood he should submit there or elsewhere to any language he might use.

Mr. Cabell announced himself as having spoken under misunderstanding of the remarks and article.

Mr. Raymond received the apology and closed with a motion to lay the resolution on the table.

Col. Williams of Kentucky, declared that he considered himself proud of his State and her delegates were above suspicion.

The resolution was laid upon the table, and the balloting was resumed.

Mr. Ely, of Ohio, read a long speech, prefacing his announcement of the full vote of his State for Scott.

Col. Williams, of Kentucky, made a speech prefacing the vote of his State.

BALLOTINGS.	Scott.	Fillmore.	Webster.

49th "	139	122	30

General Scott having a majority of the whole number of votef, was declared duly nominated on the 53d ballot, for the Presidency.

The excitement became intense, and the announcement was greeted with cheers. The Fillmore men were quiet.

A resolution was offered by an Alabama delegate to declare the nomination unanimous.

Mr. Dayton, of New Jersey, made an eloquent speech as to the character and services of the nominee. He made an earnest appeal to the South, and stated that the adoption of the platform removed their instructions to vote against Scott.

Mr. Jones, of Tennessee, read a letter from Gen. Scott, dated yesterday, stating that having the honor to be the nominee of the Whig Convention, he will accept the nomination tendered to him with the platform laid down by the Convention.

Louisiana pledged herself to the nominee.—North Carolina came in unanimously and Kentucky responded. Mr. Babcock, from Fillmore's district, said that the nomination of the General will give more satisfaction to Mr. Fillmore's heart, than his own nomination.

Mr. Grantland of Georgia, announced the determination of his State to support the nominee.

South Carolina responded in behalf of her delegation. Scott had endorsed the platform, and South Carolina endorsed Scott.

Mr. Payne of California, also expressed himself in behalf of his State.

The responses of the Southern States caused great enthusiasm in the Convention, and and as each State responded, much delight was manifested.

Georgia, through Mr. Dawson, responded, and promised that the Whigs of Georgia accepted him on the Whig platform and would do their best.

Indiana promised to respond to the nomination by acres of ratification meetings and a store of thousands of a majority.

Governor Johnston, of Pennsylvania, whilst honoring Fillmore and Webster, felt constrained with his fellow delegates to stick to Scott, knowing him to be the very candidate for whom they could promise a positive and glorious majority, larger than that given to Taylor and Harrison.

Mississippi responded heartily for Scott.

One of the Delegates from Massachusetts responded, promising the largest majority of any State in the Union.

Mr. Botts announced that this would probably be the last time of a general convention of the party during the lifetime of Henry Clay, and therefore offered a resolution expressive of sympathy, and regard, and that his memory will never die. The resolution was adopted by acclamation.

Simeon Draper responded for New York pledging that State.

At a quarter to three, P. M., the Convention, adjourned until half past five when, the nomination of Vice President would be made.

At half past five the Convention was again called to order.

Mr. Ely, of Ohio, offered a resolution approving of Mr Fillmore's administration. Adopted unanimously.

Mr. Starkie, of Mississipi, then got up and passed a warm eulogy on Mr. Webster, as entitled to the gratitude of his country, and to the warm thnaks of the South.

On the second ballot for Vice President, Graham received 282 votes; Bates 52, Pearce 4 Afterwards the vote was declared unanimous.

After the unanimous nomination of Mr. Graham, H. W. Miller, of North Carolina, arose and thanked the Convention for the honor done his State, and pledged 10,000 majority for the ticket.

Mr. Jessup, of Penna., offered resolutions that the next Convention be composed of no more members than there are electoral votes, and proposing the appointment of a National Committee with Samuel P. Vinton, as Chairman, and that Louisville be the place of meeting to the National Convention.

Mr. Thomas moved to lay the resolution on the table relating to the meeting of the next Convention at Louisville, which was carried.

A resolution was offered to leave the place of meeting to the National Committee.

Mr. Holmes moved to insert Lexington as the place of meeting.

The previous question was called and sustained, and the amendment was rejected. The original resolution was then adopted. The other resolutions of Mr. Jessup, were adopted, and others thanking the officers and the Committee of Arrangements, and authorizing the President to inform the nominees of their selection. The following is the National Committee:

Chairman S. F. Vinton of Ohio; W. P. Fessenden, Maine; Aaron F. Stevens, New Hampshire; G. J. Hedges, Vt.; Hon. S. L. Lincoln, Mass.; Robert H. Francis, R. I.; A. G. Hazzard, Ct.; Simeon Draper, N. M. Edwards, Mich.; B. F. Allen, Florida, C. Seymour, Conn.; James Riley, Texas; S. M. Ballard, Iowa; Jonathan E. Arnold, Wis; Col. R. H. Taylor, California.
