THE FREE SOIL CONVENTION .- This body ac journed last evening, sine die, after nominating President. Nearly the whole day was spent in the discussion of the principles of the plat out the full report which we took. As this convention has excited much attention oughout the country, and as its proceedings n will be auxiously looked for, we shall publish to morrow the only full report, which will be given in Pittsburgh. It will include the speeches f Genera Smith, Hon. J. R. Giddings, Hon FRANCIS R. ADAMS, and other distinguished peakers. There was great diversity of opinion and the debate was warm and exciting, and will afford much matter for comment. Our Free Soil Friends differ quite as much in their opinions, as the members of the old parties, although the latter extend over a much wider space.

Notwithstanding all their opposition to Compromises, they were only able to obtain a platform after compromises which had like to have orested a secession in their ranks. We restrain further comment until we have placed the whole matter before our readers, only remarking now that it seems to us a very singular mode of pre-ceeding to nominate a man for President, who has positively declined, and will, most likely, if he is sincere, persist in declining.

For the interesting abstract which we give to-day, we are indebted to Col. J. Heron Poster.

illness of Mr. Searight .- A telegraphic dispatch from Brownsville, published in the Post of yesterday morning, brings the intelligence that Wm. Sharkgur, the Democratic candidate issioner, was very ill, and not expected to live 24 hours.

LATER.-A dispatch received last evening, informs us that Mr. Searight died at 7 o'clock

WOOSTER CELEBRATION. PROCEEDINGS AND SPEECHES AT THE DINNER. In our last we gave a general description of the pleasant excursion to Wooster, at the open-ing of the extension of the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad from Massillon to Wooster. We propose now to present as full account as our brief notes will permit, of the official proceed-ings at the celebration dinner.

The President of the day, Hon. E. Dran, of nations. Sir, I rejoice that my name is associnated with such an enterprine, and that however, work.

I again thank you, sir, in behalf of the board
