CLARION COUNTY.

We announced, a few days ago, the gratifying fact that the Grand Jury of Clarion county had authorized the Commissioners to subscribe 168,000 dollars to the stock of the Allegheny Valley Railroad. The Post, of this city, eagerly seized upon this fact as an offset to what we had said a few days before relative to the ruinous influence of British free trade upon the iron business of that fine county. We had shown that most of the iron furnaces were out of blast; that many of them had fallen under the hammer of the Sheriff, and that every interest in that lately flourishing county was depressed and languishing; and we proved by extracts from English papers that Gen. Pierce was highly acceptable to the people, and especially the aristocracy, of Great Britain, because he is, as the London Times expresses it, a valuable practical ally of their commercial policy. These were hard facts. The exultation of the tory press of England at the nomination of Gen. Pierce, on one side, and their friend and ALLY, and the sad evidence of bankruptcy and ruin furnished by the Sheriff of the finest iron county in Pennsylvania, on the other, could not be got over. The Post was mum, until—on the principle of drowning men catching at straws—it seized upon this railroad subscription, and held it up as evidence of the prosperity of that county. We quote the greater portion of its article, that the enterprising citizens of that county, who have been crushed by the policy advocated by the so-called Democratic party, may see that the Pittsburgh organ of that party now adds insult to injury. The cause which ruined those men is perfectly palpable to all who are not wilfully blind, and yet the Post has the baseness to throw out insinuations against them, and threaten them with some slanderous statements, the nature of which none but its editors can imagine. They say:

"The fact is, that Clarion is at the present time one of the most prosperous counties in the State. There is no branch of thrifty industry in which its honest citizens are not progressing with an unexampled rapidity, and the first quotation which we make from the Gazette is strongly corroborative of this assertion. Their willingness to subscribe $168,000 to the stock of the company, unencumbered by any conditions as to location or route' shows their prosperity. This is just like good, Democratic Clarion. A majority of her citizens are democrats, and, like their brethren throughout the Union, they attend to their own business in a proper manner. The putting out of the fires of the furnaces, and the ruin of the farmers of Clarion is not noticed by the Gazette when it recorded the liberal contribution of that county to the railroad. How does this happen? Have the furnaces 'fired up?' Have the farmers recovered from their 'ruin,' or has the Gazette been trapped for once into an abandonment of its natural duplicity?

We would like to hear from it on this subject, for it will be interesting to its readers to know how a community, who are all under the Sheriff's hammer can afford to pay $168,000, independent of their individual liabilities. This is a good subject for a long editorial rig; Clarion in the Gazette, and when it appears, we shall give a history of those furnaces over which it has been shedding any amount of crocodile tears for some years past, as we have learned it from one of the last things in Pittsburgh. We are fully posted up as to the failure of the Clarion furnaces, and abundantly prepared to show that they did not suspend on account of any democratic measure, but from the cause that they were started and conducted on principles which made it impossible for them to succeed.

"When the Gazette speaks of the furnaces again, perhaps it will explain the causes that have created the present increase in the prices of iron of every description. Was this rise in prices caused by the tariff of 1846?"

We would ask attention to the intense recklessness of the assertion contained in the first sentence; and as the best comment we can offer, we give the following facts which we copy from the Clarion Register of Saturday:

"CLARION COUNTY SOLD OUT."—The above is the title of a paragraph which is going the rounds of the press. It is almost true. A great portion of our county has recently been disposed of by the Sheriff. The following properties, among others, were sold, with the prices annexed:

Hemlock Furnace,	$2,300
Licking Furnace, with usual appurtenances, and two farms,	1,805
Washington Furnace and property attached,	605
Clinton Furnace,	50

These are but a few; and behold the awful sacrifice. Compare the immense cost of these establishments with the prices for which they were sold.

Washington Furnace, which was sold for the paltry sum of $605, cost $50,000.

Clinton Furnace, which brought the neat sum of $50, actually cost $10,000.

This is one of the results of the Tariff of 1846. Let Locofoco presses continue their arguments in favor of this suicidal policy, and our fair county will soon present a wide spread picture of desolation and ruin.

Comment is unnecessary.

The remainder of the first paragraph quoted is unworthy of notice, so we pass to the second, and upon this we have but a single remark to make. The editors want to "know how a community, who are all under the Sheriff's hammer, can afford to pay $168,000, independent of their individual liabilities." To lie by implication is a measure and more despicable act than to utter a downright falsehood. Here the Post attempts to convey the impression that the people of Clarion either have paid that large sum, or will shortly do so, when they know as well as we do, that they have not paid, and never will pay, a single dollar of either the principal or interest of that subscription, unless the road prove a failure, of which there is not the slightest probability. The Company take the county bonds, convert them into cash on the best terms they can, pay the interest upon them semi-annually until the road is completed, after which the county comes in like any other stockholder for its dividends, be they 6, 8, 10 or 12 per cent. This subscription is an evidence of a liberal and enlightened forecast on the part of the people of Clarion, but none of prosperity.

On two or three occasions we have noticed the rise in the price of iron, and explained its cause. It is caused by an advance in England—that country to which we have been brought into commercial subjection through locofoco policy, and by the tariff of 1846—that country where Gen. Pierce is so popular, because he is known to be the practical ally of its commercial policy, a policy which has, through the assistance of our so-called democracy, arrested the manufacturing prosperity of this country, and reduced it to the condition of a commercial tributary—that country whose weekly market reports are looked for with feverish anxiety, and which regulate the value of every bushel of wheat and every pound of cotton in the United States.

We feel as if we owed an apology to our readers for having taken so much notice of a paper so reckless in its statements as the above article shows it to be. But perhaps we cannot too often exhibit the outrages which are perpetrated upon all that is true, all that is patriotic, and all that is truly American, in the name of 'Democracy.' We are now commercially and financially the slaves and tributaries of Great Britain. She rules our markets, depresses at will our industrial interests, and so manages things that we give employment to her labor and her capital, while our own are unproductive; and all this she does through the aid of the party of which Franklin Pierce, the acknowledged ally of British commercial policy, is the head; and which, by the strangest and boldest perversion of all the rules of language and common sense, calls itself Democratic!! Almost every thing that was fought for and gained by our Revolutionary fathers has been lost through Locofocism, guided by the arrogant spirit of Southern Slavery.

FROM NEW YORK.

(Correspondence of the Daily Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 11, 1852.

The weeks closes with a buoyant feeling among Wall'street people, who look to the future as certain to produce an extremely easy money market, and large speculations. The bonds of Buffalo and New York City Railroad, withdrawn so summarily a few weeks ago, were yesterday held at very satisfactory prices, realizing 90 to 91 per cent. The attempt made by the banks to enhance the rate of interest last sitting day, resulted in nothing. The loans called in with the hope of having them renewed at an advance, were paid, and the money obtained elsewere at a lower rate. It only needs a few more years of gold mining to free the country entirely from the present school of bankers, who fancy they do merchants so much good by issuing notes to lend. It was all well enough to call "bank notes" cash in old times, but the production of the "ore" will soon put them into the shade as they should be. All descriptions of bonds are firmly, very firmly held, and none to be had, not even of the western railroad kind, at any modprice.

In this State the canvass for local officers is proceeding with great vigor, and the Whig Governor may be considered as good as elected. The Locofocos with their usual adaptation, are all at once enthusiastic in favor of the canal enlargement, and are much grieved that the whigs should assert them to be opposed to internal improvement. The recent legal testimony as to honesty of the "democracy" has, however, placed them properly before the people, and a whig State Governor will be returned to power to review the completion of the canals.

The steamer Reindeer was yesterday set on fire and completely destroyed, thus removing all evidence of the criminality or innocence of any one connected with the late disaster, now grown quite faint in the memory of the public. The fire is attributed by some to spontaneous combustion; but design was without doubt at the bottom.

Musical people are quite in raptures with Madame Alboni, whose concerts are attended by millinces quite as fashionable and unpractised as that of Mad. Goldschmidt's, are all heartily applauded. Sontag makes her first appearance on Monday week, the 28th, when a perfect rush may be looked for. She has the merit and deserves success, and New York has just now not only musical people, but those ready to pay for the gratification of their tastes. The Bloomers Children are succeeding finely at the Astor Place, and the "ruse" of a quarrel about them so artfully got up by interested parties helps the profits amazingly. The city is otherwise full of countrymen and strangers who see a charm in variety have it to the fullest extent.

So great is the rush of people through Whitehall to Brooklyn, that it has been determined to widen the street to seventy feet, to make it adequate to the accommodation of the masses that Broadway forces upon it. The example of widening this street, to the destruction of very valuable property, will not be lost upon the public, and many of our narrow thoroughfares will soon be put through a course of improvement.

Ericsson's Caloric Engine for the new steamship is fast approaching completion, and the grandest experiment in steam ever made will soon come off. The ship upon which it is to be tried is one of the finest ever built here, and is to be on the most promising route—that to Liverpool. The small engines upon the new plan are working to perfection, and there seems now little doubt that the experimental ship will create a sensation as great as that produced by the first trial of Robt Fulton or of Watt. Transportation will be much cheapened by the new kind of engine, and trade reap a large advantage from it.

C.

LETTER OF HON. ABBOTT LAWRENCE.

To the Editors of the National Intelligencer:

LEGATION OF THE UNITED STATES, }
LONDON, August 24, 1852. }

DEAR SIRS: I notice in the New York Herald of the 11th inst. an article copied into The Times of this morning intimating that I had consented on the part of the United States to a mutual monopoly of the Lobos Islands between Peru and Great Britain."

I have not spoken or written of these Islands to any person connected with the British Government. I have received no communication from the Government of the United States relative to them. Nor, indeed, have I made an examination to form an opinion.

I am therefore, at a loss to know the reason for such a statement.

I am, dear sirs, very faithfully, your obedient servant, ABBOTT LAWRENCE.

ANOTHER HAYNAU DEMONSTRATION.—While the young Emperor of Austria has been ostentatiously journeying through Hungary to demand the homage of his antiquated people, the discarded and forgotten Haynau, who burned and bombarded his subjects back to obedience, has been a wanderer in Belgium, where he has this week learned, somewhat unexpectedly, the popular estimate of his merits. On Sunday evening last, about a quarter to nine, Haynau visited the Brussels Vauxhall, where, as usual a concert was taking place.

At nine o'clock, says the Echo, the marshal showed himself in the garden, and was immediately surrounded by a curious crowd of about two hundred persons. His attitude, it was noticed, had something theatrical about it. It being apparent that a demonstration was about to take place, General Chazal, of the Belgian service, who was in the garden, went up to the marshal, and entered into conversation with him, hoping by his presence to overawe the rising feeling. A few moments passed and no manifestation took place, the crowd meanwhile increasing very rapidly. M. Singelee, the director of the gardens, caused the orchestra to play two favorite pieces, in the expectation that the attention of the crowd would be withdrawn from his uneasy guest; but in vain. Hisses were heard, then some very pointed observations were addressed to Haynau on his share in the Hungarian war, while the majority of the multitude cried "Turn him out, turn him out."

M. Chazal essayed to address the people and assuage the storm, but was not listened to, and the tumultuous excitement rose still higher. Meanwhile messengers had been sent to the police station and barracks, and shortly the officers arrived, together with a file of soldiers. A number of arrests took place, but the parties all being persons of character and position, were released immediately. After this Haynau remained some little time at the concert, guarded by a knot of Belgian officers, and followed by the spectators in all his movements. As he returned from the concert to the hotel, he was again hissed, and a number of uncomplimentary cries were heard, but no violence was practised.

NEW YORK FREE DEMOCRACY.—A Free Democratic ratification meeting was held at Syracuse on the 3d. Hon. Henry Wilson, of Mass., was the principal speaker. The Journal says a Free Democracy State Convention is to be held in Syracuse on the 29th inst., and adds—"A State Ticket will be nominated, Hale and Julian Electors appointed, and a plan of State organization commenced. The call will be issued in a day or two."

AMERICAN BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.—This important religious body closed its session at Troy, N. Y., on Thursday evening. Its proceedings have been copiously reported in the New York papers. We gave, on Saturday, a comprehensive sketch of the operations during the past year, and now subjoin the closing paragraph from the report of the New York Tribune:

"The session of the American Board which has just closed has been one of the most delightful in its history. Harmony has prevailed in all its deliberations, while a spirit of fervent devotion has pervaded every meeting. In the words of one of the Secretaries, "There has been but one heart and one mind, and that heart and mind have been directed toward the conversion of the world." The cause of the Board is progressing most favorably. It is thirteen years since the last meeting of the Board was held in this city. Then the basement of Dr. Beman's Church was large enough to accommodate its members. At this session the upper portion of the Church was found inadequate, and meetings have been held in Dr. Hailey's and Rev. Mr. Field's Churches in this city, and also, in Rev. Mr. Gregory's, in West Troy, which have been also attended by large numbers. All business, however, has been transacted at Dr. Beman's. The Board is now free from debt, and its condition much more favorable than at any previous time. By our citizens, the occasion of the Forty-third Anniversary of the American Board of Foreign Missions will long be remembered with the utmost pleasure."

OLD VIRGINIA WAKING UP.—The Richmond Whig of the 7th instant says:

"Good News.—We have most encouraging news from the Whigs in the western part of the State. In one county nearly the entire voting population will go for Scott. At the election last fall one third of the vote was given to the Democrats. That, we are assured, is an indication of the general result—and the Whigs over there think of nothing else than carrying the State by a rousing majority. All they ask of us in the east is to hold our own. But we shall do more. The reaction has already commenced. The Whigs, who were indifferent at first, are becoming warm, and eager to join in the shouts over the deliverance of the good old Commonwealth. All accounts tell us that the Locofocos have an up hill business with Pierce. The fact that he is an obscure Yankee is telling with the ignorant and prejudiced Democracy—whom the leaders have so long led by the nose. Some don't want him—and some won't have him. The more that is known of him the worse it is with him. Day is breaking in old Virginia.

MR. CLAY'S CONFIDENCE IN SCOTT.—Mr. Edward Stanly related the following incident in his recent speech to the Whigs of New York:—In 1830, when we were threatened with a war with England, I was with Mr. Clay on the 22nd of February, when he met Mr. Van Buren, who was his private friend though his public enemy, while it was reported that the news of hostilities would be heard of by the very next mail. Mr. Van Buren himself was shaken; but Henry Clay said, "Sir, I have great confidence in Winfield Scott. His prudence, his valor, his military judgment, cause me to entertain great hopes of his mission, and I have no doubt whatever of his success."

GEORGIA.—The Columbus Enquirer, a staunch advocate of the Constitutional Union party, has placed the names of Scott and Graham at the head of its columns, and goes to work manfully in their cause. We notice also that the Savannah Republican places both the Scott and Graham ticket at the head of its columns. All the Whig papers in the State are doing battle against Pierce and King; and that the chances seem to be that many of the Union Democrats will not vote for those gentlemen, on the ground that it is peculiarly the ticket of the Secessionists.—N. Y. American.

GENERAL SCOTT

* * The observations that are sometimes made, that the Whig party has set aside distinguished men to nominate, General Scott for the Presidency are wholly without point or force. If they have set aside men of intellect, as have they taken a man of uncommon intellect for their candidate. How great their advantage in this respect over their opponents! Mr. Webster is eminent in his sphere, but General Scott is the first soldier in his. And is it becomes any man to intimate that there is any want of capacity, of claim or qualification between them, as to reflect a censure upon the party whose Delegates nominated, and whose voice has confirmed that nomination.

But it is not upon the score of intellectual ability, as manifested in Gen. Scott's successful military or civil career, that we wish particularly now to speak. His reputation is secure. His renown as a great commander is established. Party detraction cannot lessen, party slanders cannot stain it. The public voice proclaims, and the public heart responds with a throbbing sincerity to the decree, that the fame of Winfield Scott, as a military man, is beyond all cavil or question. But what we would like to impress vividly upon the public mind in this, that the name of Winfield Scott is neither stained nor tarnished by any meanness or any wickedness! No blot rests upon his public or private character. His honor, his integrity, his manliness, his firmness and straightness are unquestioned and unquestionable. In every public and private relation he is without reproach and above suspicion. He has shown himself to be not only above all the temptations of cupidity and avarice, but the perfect master of his appetites and passions.—He has not only governed others. He has done habitually through a long life, what is more difficult—he has governed himself.

Aside from every other distinction, Gen. Scott is to-day a consistent man. No charge of vice, of extravagance, of discreditable indulgence, of sordid aims or mercenary motives, can be laid to his charge. Simply as a man, General Scott stands before the world unimpeached, and unimpeachable. He has passed through a thousand scenes of temptation in his public career, he has enjoyed opportunities to amass the wealth of a potentate, yet he is to-day a man without spot or blemish, and though always living a frugal life, yet he is wholly without a fortune. Of the millions that have passed through his hands, (and of the millions that have been disbursed,) he has stooped to do it, not a dollar has stuck to his palm.

It is this phase of Gen. Scott's character that exports our unqualified admiration, and to which we feel so proud as an American citizen, in drawing public attention. He presents not only a distinguished man, and a man of large powers of intellect, as our candidate for the Presidency, but we present a perfectly sober and honest man as a distinction high and rare, and one of which the people of this country have evinced, on more than one memorable occasion, a striking appreciation. How mean and paltry, in view of this high distinction, seem the small criticism of small minds upon the little personal peculiarities (always attendant upon every man of marked individuality) of this eminent citizen! Great on great occasions, as he has always shown himself to be, wise in council and in action, as he has manifested himself in several of the most trying emergencies through which the country has ever been called to pass; the successful leader of battles in the fierce conflict of war; the pacificator, whose skill has been exerted in calamities in peace, the prudent and forbearing manager of intestine strifes; he adds to all the signal merit, the honorable distinction, the crowning glory of an unimpeachable citizen and an infinitely honest man. Purely, lofty, and above the small flings of partisan hostility against the individual whose merits are so conspicuous, and whose life is so deserving of public regard and admiration!—*N. Y. No Family Should be Without Them.

☞ WE speak of M'Lane's Liver Pills, which have become an indispensable Family Medicine—The frightful symptoms which arise from a diseased Liver manifest themselves, more or less, in every family; dyspepsia, sick headache, obstruction of the menses, sore and sour, pains in the side, with dry, hacking cough, are all the result of hepatic derangement—for these, Dr. M'Lane's Pills are a sovereign remedy. They have never been known to fail, and they shou d be kept at all times by families.

DIRECTIONS.—Take two or three going to bed, every second or third night. If they do not purge two or three times by next morning, take one or two more. A slight breakfast should invariably follow their use.

The Liver Pill may also be used where purging is simply necessary. As an anti-bilious purgative, they are inferior to none. And in dome of two or three, they give astonishing relief to headache, also in slight derangements of the stomach.

☞ IT is due to Kier's Petroleum to say that it has been known to completely eradicate every vestige of this dreadful disease in less time than any other remedy, and at less cost or inconvenience to the patient.

The thousands of certificates in the hands of the proprietor, many of which are from well known citizens of the city of Pittsburgh and its immediate vicinity, go to show clearly and beyond all doubt, that KIER'S PETROLEUM is a medicine of no common value, not only as a local remedy in Scrofula, Rheumatism, Deafness, loss of Sight, but as a valuable internal remedy, inviting the investigating physicians as well as the suffering patient.

Those having a dread of mixtures are assured that this medicine is purely natural, and is bottled as it flows from the bosom of the earth.

The following certificate is copied from a paper published at Syracuse, New York, and bears date August 2, 1852, to which is also appended the certificate of the celebrated D. D. Foot, M. D., of Syracuse:

This may in truth certify, that I have been so badly afflicted with Scrofula for the last seven years, that most of the time I have been unable to attend to any kind of business, and much of the time unable to walk, and confined to my bed; and have tried nearly all the kinds of the best physicians our country affords; I occasionally got some relief, but no cure, and continued to grow worse, until Dr. Foot recommended me to try the Petroleum, or Rock Oil, as every thing else had failed. I did so without faith at first, but the effect was astonishing; it threw the poison to the surface at once, and I at once began to grow better, and by using six bottles, I have got a sure worth thousands of dollars.

MRS. NANCY M. BARKER.

This may certify that I have been acquainted with Kier's Petroleum, or Rock Oil, for more than a year, and have repeatedly witnessed its beneficial effects in the cure of Scrofula, Ulcers, and other diseases for which it is recommended, and can with confidence recommend it as a medicine worthy of attention, and can safely say that everyone has attended its use, where other medicine had failed.
