Mr. Garrison delivered a long and impassioned speech. He rejoiced to be here on the present occasion. God, angels, ten thousand of our own countrymen, in spirit, and finally the whole universe, by type, of the citizens of Syracuse, were present. The Fugitive Law, in asking us to shut our ears against the cry of our brothers, asks us that our souls shall be damned. This cup of damnation Congress offers us, and is willing that our souls shall be damned to accommodate the party.

Lucretia Mott followed, and called Mr. Smith to account for violating non-resistance principle in urging bloody resistance to the re-capture of slaves. She was for thrusting the claimants of slaves and hurling him a little unceremoniously, but not taking his life. Other speakers followed. Contributions were taken up for the Jerry Rescue Fund. The convention then adjourned. About 5000 persons were present.

Mr. Smith takes the stump throughout Madison county next week.
