...H GAZETTE.

MORNING, MARCH 23, 1853.

National peculiarities of a people are seen as strongly in the naming of ships as in more consequential matters. The Spaniard displays the religious tendency of his mind by such titles as the 'Holy Trinity' and the 'Twelve Apostles.' The French exhibit their sensibility in the 'Prima Donna and Madam Carlos.' The industry and love of money of the Dutch shows itself in such titles as the 'Beaver' and 'Gold Hunter.' John Bull's ugliness comes out in the shape of 'Spitfires,' and 'Boxers,' 'Thunderers,' and 'Devastations.' Jonathan goes his length on speed, progression, and universal dominion, a peculiarity that shows itself in such names as 'Flying Cloud,' 'Sovereign of the Seas,' 'West Wind,' 'Wild Pigeon,' 'Empress of the Deep,' and 'Frightened Lighting.' In our opinion, a philosopher could get up quite a truthful history of a people without consulting any other documents than the sterns of their ships.—Dutchman.

The Geneva Courier says that the waters of Seneca Lake, N. Y., are never frozen over, even in the coldest winters, and even near the shore there is scarcely enough ice to supply the summer's requirements. Seneca Canal, running from the lake for miles from Geneva, has been navigable all winter, and in no instance, not even in the coldest days, has it been 'shinned over.'

The sale of the Household Furniture of the late Daniel Webster took place in Washington on Friday. Many persons, wishing to possess memorials of him, gave for the various articles prices far exceeding their original cost. An ordinary no-account chair, with castors, [generally] occupied by Mr. Webster,] was sold for fifteen dollars, and a time-piece, that could have been put into his overcoat pocket, thirty-nine dollars and fifty cents.

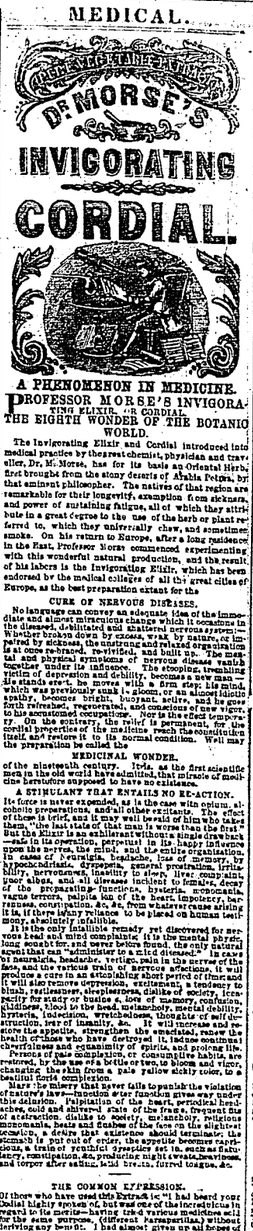
MEDICAL.



A PHENOMENON IN MEDICINE.

PROFESSOR MORSE'S INVIGORATING ELIXIR OR CORDIAL.
THE EIGHTH WONDER OF THE BOTANIC WORLD.

The Invigorating Elixir and Cordial introduced into medical practice by the great chemist, physician and traveller, Dr. M. Morse, has for its basis an Oriental Herb, first brought from the stony deserts of Arabia Petrea, by that eminent philosopher. The natives of that region are remarkable for their longevity, exemption from sickness, and power of sustaining fatigue, all of which they attribute in a great degree to the use of the herb or plant referred to, which they universally chew, and sometimes smoke. On his return to Europe, after a long residence in the East, Professor Morse commenced experimenting with this wonderful natural production, and the result has been a compound of the most healthy, invigorating and torper after nature, full brain, nerves and muscles.

THE COMMON EXPRESSION.

Of those who have used Morse's Extract it is had heard your Cordial highly spoken of, but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merits—having tried various medicines sold by the medical faculty, and other quack nostrums, without deriving any benefit. I had almost given up all hopes of ever finding relief, when I was induced to purchase some of your Cordial. I had no faith whatever of its being beneficial, but—Patient Wood—how astonished I was after using it a few weeks. I am satisfied the half dozen bottles I took will cure me.

Another says: "I had consulted several distinguished physicians. Some said I could not be cured—others prescribed for me, but I grew worse and worse, and my friends gave me up. I received your Cordial, I must say it completely cured me."

Another says: "I was surprised at the effect your Cordial had. Why did I not hear of it before? From its effects I never use much exposure, besides years of mental and bodily suffering.

MARRIED PERSONS,

or others, conscious of inability from whatever cause, will find CONSTANT HEALTH, VIGOR and JOY, the thorough regeneration of the system. Where want of power is felt, it is supplied; where exhaustion threatens, it is prevented by the use of this valuable remedy.

The nature of the maladies relieved by the Cordial are usually such as to prevent the publication of certificates of cure; but of the question, or the proprietor could produce a host of the most conclusive testimony, to show that the Cordial and Elixir is the most valuable remedy ever discovered. But it is firmly based upon its positive and apparently miraculous effects in the following cases, which, in the happy parents of healthy offspring, who would not have been so but for timely and judicious preparation. And it is equally potent for the many diseases for which it is recommended. Thousands of young men have been, are now suffering, and not in a single instance has it failed to benefit them.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS:

Boston Journal.

A Valuable Remedy.—Morse's Invigorating Cordial. We invite public attention to this medicine. We have seen the certificates of many highly respectable and distinguished physicians as the best remedy ever discovered for the speedy cure of diseases of the genital organs, and those kindred to them. The fact that similar advertisers are often rapid in their progress, undermining the constitution, filling the country with nervous diseased wrecks, thus closed; but no sale shall be kept open longer than one month after the day appointed for the commencement of the public sales.

Given under my hand at the City of Washington: this first day of February, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three.

MILLARD FILLMORE.
