SHEPHERD.—Some years ago a mine was in Greece, in the month of He was travelling in the country where shepherds live. He came to three shepherds with their flocks. One had about six hundred and fifty sheep, another had about seven hundred, and the other had about seven hundred and fifty. In all, they had about twenty-one hundred sheep. They were out in the valley where the grass grew. All the flocks were mingled together. Every sheep had its own name. It would not come or go, if called by any other name; nor would it come or go, if called by any but its own shepherd. Every shepherd knew all his own sheep. He knew their names also. If any one was about to go into a wrong place, he called it, and it turned back. If the way was narrow or steep, he would go before and the sheep would follow him. This is just like what the Bible says about Christ and his flock:—"The sheep hear his voice; and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them; and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice: and a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers. I am the good shepherd and know my sheep, and am known of mine. I lay down my life for the sheep."

The day my friend saw the shepherds was a cold day. Some of the lambs were quite strong and full of play; but some of them were very young and tender. The cold chilled them and they could not walk. The shepherds had on something like large cloaks, tied around their necks, and girt about their waists. So they took up the little lambs, and put them in their bosoms. But they did not smother them. They left their heads out, so that they could breathe well; but they kept them snug and warm. It was a pleasant sight to see a shepherd with his long grey beard, and his bosom full of lambs. I see in the Bible says of Christ: "He shall gather the lambs in his arms, and carry them in his bosom." Many little children have loved Christ, and he has never let such perish. He is as good to little children as to old people. He says, "I love them that love me, and those that seek me early shall find me."

Among the twenty-one hundred sheep were some old and feeble ones. They could not walk much. If the way was miry or steep, they could hardly go along. So the shepherds would come and put their crooks under their bodies, just behind their fore legs, and help them along. They treated them with great gentleness and care. I saw the kind Shepherd take pity on the weak, and gently helps them along. He never leaves nor forsakes them. "His rod and his staff comfort them." He leads all his sheep into his fold for safety. He leads them out that they may find pasture. If little boys and girls are wise, they will desire above all things to belong to Christ's fold. The Shepherd will put you all together in the twenty-third Psalm. It is beautiful: "The Lord is my shepherd: I shall not want."—Rev. Dr. Plumer.

READ THIS—From the Boston Post—

BOGLE'S HYPERION FLUID.—We have repeatedly spoken in favor of this celebrated article for the hair, and from the effects of it upon our own, we believe we were fully justified in doing so: we therefore cheerfully give place to the following testimonial from the Governor:

"The sale of the Hyperion increases, and, we are confident, will astonish all the inventors. Observation in us. We herewith enclose you a certificate, as one of the many proofs of its efficacy in baldness.

"This may certify, that nearly eight months since I lost all my hair, and for six months my head was entirely bald. Since that time, I have used Bogle's Hyperion Fluid, Bogle's Hyperion Fluid of B. Scott, Jr., & Co., the agents in Worcester. Since then, I have used it regularly, and strictly according to direction. In consequence of which I have a fine growth of hair, and my head is now as well covered as ever. Yours, &c. THADDEUS HOSE.

Worcester, Mass. June 12, 1852."
