Chairman of Committee of Correspondence.

WILL THERE BE A EUROPEAN WAR?—This question is apparently near a solution. The news brought by the Humboldt is of exceeding importance. It shows that the Czar is more in earnest than either England or France supposed, and that having obtained military possession of the Principalities, he is not disposed to relinquish the advantage he has thus gained. While the Western Powers are negotiating, and sueing for peace, he is rapidly strengthening himself in all assailable quarters, and pouring in an immense and thoroughly disciplined army upon the Principalities, ready at a moment's warning to cross the Danube, and to carry the war into the heart of Turkey.

The effect of Russian policy is also seen in the significant fact that Moldavia has already thrown off her allegiance to Turkey, and has declared herself independent, and that Wallachia was expected to follow the example. Those feeble governments would not take so rash a step except at the instigation of Russia, which thus expects to precipitate a war, or at least permanently to rob the Porte of those Provinces.—The next step will be to put themselves under the protection of the Emperor, and to acknowledge allegiance to Russia, which is doubtless the ultimate object of the declaration of independence. In any event those fine Provinces, so long a barrier against the ambitious designs of the Czar, are forever lost to the Porte. The power of the Crescent is effectually broken in Europe, and if the Sultan is compelled to brooke this insult, through the time-serving and miserable policy of her Western allies, he can never hereafter hold up his head among the Powers of Europe.

If the Sultan desires to preserve himself from the contempt of mankind he must fight. It would be a thousand times more honorable manfully to resist the aggressions of the haughty Russian, and perish, if perish he must, with the Empire of the Turks, than to see his star set in inglorious pusillanimity. If he displays a manly spirit, and resists the advances of the Autocrat, England and France will be compelled by their people to take part in the fray; and our own gallant nation, so fond of military glory, might find itself a party to the great struggle of liberty against despotism, for such the contest will be in its progress, however it may stand in its inception.

We shall have another arrival shortly, and we shall not be surprised to hear that the sword has been drawn on the banks of the Danube, which will not be returned to its scabbard until the destinies of Europe for years to come have been decided.

OUR BOOK TABLE.

THE LIBERTIES OF AMERICA: By H. W. Warner, of New York. This is a new American book, from the prolific press of Geo. P. Putnam & Co., of New York. It is an effort to lay before American readers the nature and extent of the liberties enjoyed under our institutions and laws, as applied to business, conscience, religion, politics, etc. The work is well written, and will fill a vacuum in our practical literature. Scarcely any subject is more talked about and less understood than the amount of liberties we enjoy, and their nature and true definition. Liberty is so bounded by duties and relations, that many mistake its claims and its permissions. This book will do much to create a better understanding of the subject.

THE PEDESTRIAN IN FRANCE AND SWITZERLAND: By George Barrell, Jr., author of "Bubbles of Fiction." From the press of G. P. Putnam & Co. Books of Travels have become so numerous, and the theme is so hackneyed, that the announcement of a new work on the subject is received with a shrug and with indifference. The chief merit of the work before us is, that it describes the impressions of a pedestrian, and introduces us to the common people and home customs of the regions through which he walked. It is a lively, pleasant and readable book, and much entertainment and instruction can be derived from it.

Messrs. G. P. Putnam & Co., have also laid on our table, a handsome book, entitled a "MEMORIAL OF HORATIO GREENOUGH," by Henry T. Tuckerman. Greenough was the earliest of our sculptors, and his most important works are well known to every visitor at Washington. This memorial to a departed genius contains a brief but most interesting memoir, a list of his works and several essays and literary fragments by the deceased, together with tributes by Everett, Adams, Tuckerman, and others, to his genius. Altogether it is a most interesting book, and one especially which every friend of American Art will desire to possess.

The above works are for sale by H. S. Bosworth & Co., 82 Market street.

THE EDINBURGH REVIEW, for July. This is quite an interesting number. In an article on "Popular Education in the United States," is the following acknowledgment:

"A few years since, the question was asked by a distinguished divine, 'Who reads an American work?' The question now is, 'Who does not read an American book, journal, or newspaper?'"

This is a confession forced from reluctant criticism, for it was the same Review which asked the question it now places in the month of a distinguished divine. In the same article England is urged to imitate America in diffusing the blessings of common school education to the whole people.

To be be had at Gildenfenny's and at Miner's.

PACIFIC RAILROAD.—The Centre Route advocated by Benton has lately received a powerful endorsement from persons whose opinion decidedly expressed, will carry great weight with the people. A public meeting has been held at Taos, composed principally of the adventurous and gallant Mountain Men. Among them were St. Vrain Leroux, Carson, Beablen, and numerous others, all famous as trappers, explorers and guides. These men unite in declaring that a good practicable route for a railroad exists upon the line advocated by Benton. And they further say that, notwithstanding all the talk about the Rocky Mountains and the Sierra Nevada range, they have travelled the route several times, and nothing worthy the name of a mountain is upon it.

The Commissioners named in the Act of Assembly incorporating the Chambersburg and Allegheny Railroad Company, met at Bedford on the 9th inst., and after a free interchange of sentiment, resolved to proceed without delay to procure the amount of stock requisite to obtain letters patent. If the sum required is not raised within four months from this date, the project is to be considered abandoned for the present.

THE SOUTH-SIDE DEMOCRAT, a Virginia Locofoco print, in a recent issue, referring to the announcement of a new "Democratic" organ, about to be started in Washington, speaks of the Washington Union as "that rickety wind instrument at the capital." The New York Evening Post, read out of the party not long since by this same Union, is "distressed to see the fling."

NAVIGATION—THE RIVERS, &c.—As is usual at this season of the year all the upper rivers are low and falling, and should the present warm and dry weather continue for a few days longer, we may look for almost a total suspension of navigation in both the Illinois and upper Mississippi rivers. The upper Mississippi is at a very low stage, there being less than three feet of water on the upper and thirty to thirty-two inches on the lower rapids. The last boats in from St. Paul report the river to be falling rapidly from the head of navigation on that river to Galena and Dubuque and thence all the way down. The water had subsided so rapidly that the St. Paul and Galena line of packets were getting aground daily, and were unable to make their trips with anything like regularity.

The stage of the river to Keokuk is good, and no inconvenience whatever, as yet, has been experienced from low water, but should the water continue to recede, they too will have difficulty before many days pass by.

The Illinois river continues in about the same stage that has been for several days past, there being about twenty-two to twenty-four inches water on the principal bars. The recent rise of eight inches reported by telegraph, at Lasalle, was of no benefit to the river lower down than Spring Creek. On that bar there was a rise of an inch or two, but on Hennepin and other difficult bars lower down the river, there was no perceptible change. There are now but two or three of the lightest boats engaged in the navigation of that river, are able to reach Lasalle.

The Missouri has kept up during the summer remarkably well, but is now falling rapidly. The Kate Swinney, in yesterday from Brunswick, reports but four feet on several important bars below that place. There is now a fair prospect of extremely low water in that stream also.

The Cumberland river rose three or four feet about a week since, but is again falling, with four feet on Harpeth shoals when we last heard from there.

The river opposite this city is, as a matter of course, falling rapidly. There is still water enough, however, in the channel to Cairo to float our largest New Orleans traders, when fully loaded.—St. Louis Republican.

CLEVELAND AND ST. LOUIS RAILROAD CO.—We learn that the stock-holders in the Cleveland and St. Louis Railroad Company have organised by electing Israel Dille, of Newark; B. Barker, of Cleveland; J. G. Hussey, of Cleveland; H. Griswold, of Cleveland; H. N. Day, of Hudson; H. H. Dodd, of Toledo; and T. H. Blockley, of Lima, Directors; and the Board of Directors have elected Israel Dille, President; B. Baker, Vice President; and H. B. Spellman, Secretary.—Erastus Hopkins, of Massachusetts, has been appointed General Agent. The principal office of the company will be established in Cleveland.

The board of directors to construct the portion of the line in Indiana, consists of Erastus Hopkins, of Massachusetts, President; Gov. Wright, of Indianapolis; J. G. Davies, of Parke County, Indiana; William J. Coffin, of Parke County; W. H. Harding, of Lafayette; H. H. Dodd, of Toledo; and Israel Dille, of Newark. Wm. H. Harding, Secretary; E. M. Benson, of Montezuma, Treasurer.

The capital stock of the company is to be $10,000,000. The Ohio State Journal says that Mr. Hopkins has already issued $8,000,000 for the project in New England alone! If this be the case, we advise Mr. Hopkins to get through this job with the least possible delay. We know of companies that would gladly hire him at a salary of $1,000,000 a year, and HALF of the profits.

Should this company succeed in making its way through the net-work of railroads that surround Cleveland for a distance of 150 miles without treading upon their neighbor's toes, and push on to Alton, they will there come to a dead halt. Alton is the pivot around which the State System moves, and in the opinion of her people, the central point in creation. In conformity with this idea the present city council solemnly resolved that no railroad shall be built connecting her with St. Louis! They declared that not even the right to build such a road existed. To call the above project a Cleveland and St. Louis road, therefore, is a deception, "an attempt to obtain a good name under false pretences." If the Alton lawyers are correct, no right exists. We also think,—when the public find that the above road is not a St. Louis road, after all, and that they cannot get nearer than 20 miles to that city by it,—they will be a little cautious how they go into it.

But, should a road be eventually built from Alton to St. Louis, there will be a shorter route between that city and Cleveland than the one proposed, and taking all the important towns in its way. Upon the short route, a railroad exists for more than two-thirds the distance, and the balance is soon to be built. In the face of such facts, the friends of this road must have a mighty good appetite for railroading; and pretty good courage to construct a road around the circle, when the chord is already occupied. But if $8,000,000 of stock be already obtained in New England for the new work, it is, we presume, too late to remonstrate, as the Irishman said to the chicken that was already half way down his throat in lieu of what was intended to be a fresh egg!—Railroad Journal.

THE DISCOVERER OF GOLD IN AUSTRALIA A CALIFORNIA MINER.—Are our citizens aware that Mr. Hargraves, who first discovered gold in Australia, was once a miner in California—and farther, that he left fair prospects in this country expressly to search for the precious metal in Australia? This he was induced to do from the close similarity between the formation of rocks in the two countries. The discovery was not, therefore, an accident, but the result of a settled conviction in the mind of Mr. Hargraves—a conviction which induced him to travel thousands of miles to verify. While in California, he wrote his impressions to some Sydney merchants, who were highly amused thereat, but when, shortly afterwards, he appeared in propria persona, having forsaken the certainties of California for the uncertainty of fulfilling his own predictions in Australia, the astonishment of his merchantile connections was at its hight. His friend Mr. Peck called him a mad man. Another friend, Mr. Norton, the well-known solicitor of Sydney, was even less polite to the adventurer. "Well, sir, you are a fool. I always thought so, but now I am sure of it." Mr. Norton, however, added that as Mr. Icely, the highly respected member of the Legislative Council, was almost as infatuated as himself, they would, no doubt, agree capitally, and he would give him a letter of introduction. To Mr. Icely, at Bathurst, accordingly, our adventurer proceeded. At the first interview, Mr. Hargraves told the gentleman that there must be a gold field in the neighborhood, and that probably he should discover it within the next twenty-four hours. In this he was mistaken, but he actually did discover it within the next thirty-six hours!

Mr. Hargraves had with him a Mr. Lister, and when they came to the rocks which had been ever present in the mind of Mr. Hargraves, the latter said to the former, "There is gold where you walked over to get some water, and I will find it." The indications were a schistose dyke crossing the creek at right angles. Our adventurer at once went to work with his trowell, washed the earth, and found the gold which he had come all the way from California to seek for.

FORESIGHT AND DISINTERESTEDNESS.—We take the following from the Cincinnati Enquirer of Saturday. Such conduct is very extraordinary:

After the Cincinnati, Wilmington and Zanesville railway was commenced, and the grade of the first ten miles from Morrow to Clarkville was finished, so that the Contractor thought he could see his way through, the Directors authorised the President of the road, Mr. F. Corwin, to proceed to the East and purchase iron for twenty miles of the track, and for twenty miles only. Mr. Corwin, clothed with his official powers, went on East and made a purchase of the desired quantity; but on doing that, he found that he could procure a sufficient amount of the same kind of rail to lay ninety miles of the track at the same rate, but if he did it he would exceed the authority delegated to him by the Directors, although his judgment told him to do it. Not willing to take the responsibility of overstepping his bounds, he purchased the iron for the seventy miles of the road upon his own account, and before the time had expired for the delivery of the same, the price had advanced upon railroad iron at such a rate that the amount he bought privately, would realize him $300,000—rather a handsome fortune. Of course, the Company in time would have to take it, in fact, would be glad to get it, and he was sure of a sale. What course did Mr. Corwin pursue? One that not one man in ten thousand would do! He handed over his whole contract, thus sacrificing $300,000, for the benefit of the road, and said to the Directors, "Gentlemen, take this; so heartily am I engrossed in this great enterprise, I will charge you nothing for my services, nor any advance in the bargain I was so fortunate to make!"

There is a piece of disinterestedness that we sometimes read about, but we seldom see it enacted in the business transactions of life. We set Mr. Corwin down as a "man among a million," and if the Cincinnati, Wilmington and Zanesville road does not flourish under his auspices, there is no road in the world that can flourish under any circumstances.

A correspondent of the Albany Journal states that in Murray county, Georgia, and near its southern boundary, at the summit of a mural precipice, 1700 feet in perpendicular height, there stand the remains of an ancient fortification, constructed of solid mason work, covering five acres of ground. Within the enclosure lofty forest trees, two and three hundred years old, rear their heads to the tempest, covering with their verdant foliage an ancient hearth-stone, once in use by its ancient occupants; and near it a gushing stream of water issues from the crevice of the rock, of icy coldness, whence the garrison used to obtain their supply.

BUT one Maine Law man has been elected to the Kentucky Legislature at the election just held in that State.

OREGON GOLD.—A letter from Captain William Tichenor, formerly of Newark, N. J., dated Port Oxford, Oregon, territory, March 1st, 1853, contains the following announcement:

"I am now washing out gold at the rate of ten dollars an hour. Two others by the side of me, with the assistance of a squaw, (for an Indian man is not worth his food) are making $50 a day. We will have thousands of inhabitants here in a few months; as gold is everywhere in this vicinity. All the soldiers in the garrison are at work making from $20 a day upwards, but not less than $16. No person would work for the gold, until my partner tried, and after two or three hours' work he was offered $35 for what was in his machine, which he took. The next day he worked about four hours, and again sold his sand for $40. On investigation it was found that he had sold $60 worth for $25, and $80 worth for $40. We have taken out $80 worth in two hours and forty minutes, and then let escape $10 worth. This was the first mining done here, and now it is ascertained that it will yield a rich reward, everywhere along the beach."

This Oregon placer seems to be fully equal to those of California; and if the last statement is verified, that diggings will yield a rich reward, everywhere along the beach, we may expect that a swarm of gold hunters and other emigrants will soon be on their way thither. In that section of country two very profitable branches of trade were carried on at the date of this gold discovery. One was the trade with the Indians for furs, and the other the lumber business, both of which gave ample employment. As California was much in want of lumber for building purposes, its abundance near Port Oxford had induced great numbers to fall to work getting out timber; principally white cedar, said to be most beautiful wood, and very valuable. Large profits were made in this business, and it is stated that a person with a sawmill could make $75,000 per year. Even in its square hewn form this white cedar sells more readily in San Francisco than the sawn Oregon lumber.

The Cleveland Plaindealer, noticing the discovery of an extensive gang of counterfeiters, says:

It seemed to embrace all the accomplished rogues of New England. The key to their operations was obtained by one of their gang being brought up by the police of New York. It is not known to the rest of the gang who the informer is. In this way it was ascertained their head quarters for manufacturing was at two quiet villages in Massachusetts; that as soon as the monthly Counterfeit Detectors for Boston and New York were out, the partners were to be in New York and the bills distributed. Some forty arrests have been made, among them a police officer of Troy, N. Y., and any quantity of lesser dignitaries. There was a lady in the case, who, with her paramour and counterfeit partner was traced to Cleveland. The Sheriff of New York City has been in our city for several days, remaining in cog., to catch these covies. The gentleman was a mechanic, and for a decoy, worked at his trade while here. The lady (names omitted at present) was counted the shrewdest of the gang, went under an assumed name, and kept herself aloof from all suspicious company while here. But the Sheriff, with his scout informer, was too much for their ingenuity. They were arrested, jailed, habeas corpused, but finally taken to New York on a requisition, which will hang up their fiddles for the present, and explode one of the largest conspiracies to rob the people ever yet discovered. There were some five hundred engaged in this operation.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT AT WEST TROY.—A terrible accident occurred about 7 o'clock this morning, at the West Troy Foundry—Messrs. Chollar, Sage and Dunham, proprietors.

There being some difficulty with the blower, the engine was stopped to remedy it, and the engineer, Henry Paul, and his brother David Paul, a machinest, were engaged in this work, some fifteen feet in the rear of the boiler, and some twelve feet above ground, when the large flue of the boiler collapsed, tearing everything before it at each end—east and west—forcing the two brothers Paul from their positions on the platform above, and carrying one of them some 30 feet into a vat, while the other one, David, was thrown some 15 feet against a ladle of liquid hot iron.

The brothers were awfully scalded and cannot recover. They were both in a dying condition when we left the place at 12 o'clock. They were industrious young men and good mechanics, sons of widow Paul, of Cohoes. The mother was present with them, and manifesting the greatest anguish over the sad affliction. Her husband met his death by an accident a few years ago—a stone falling upon him and killing him almost instantly. The boys were her sole dependence for her support.

P. S.—The Paul brothers are dead. They both died about the same time—11 o'clock.—Troy Daily Times, Aug. 11.

INSANITY IN ROMISH CONVENTS.—Mr. Seymour has stated, on the authority of an official visiter of the Roman convents, that one half of the nuns die raving mad before they have reached the age of twenty-five. It is not otherwise with their unhappy sisters of Tuscany. A gentleman whose veracity and whose means of information are unquestionable, informs me that in one of the best managed convents in Florence, three girls have died during the course of the past year, screaming, foaming, cursing the system to which their youth had been offered up. Hitherto, considerable facilities have been offered by the Tuscan law for the temporary return of the nuns to their families, in cases where the certificate of the family physician had pronounced such return to be necessary. But the law is constantly evaded or defied by the superiors of the convents. They hold at bay relatives, medical advisers, bishops, and even conceal or disregard the orders which they receive from Rome. In the Papal, as in all other despotisms, the delegated tyranny often defies its head, and effectually escapes from the control by which in theory it is curbed.—Cor. of London Christian Times.

MURDER.—A most horrible murder was committed in the town of Lamonte, in this county, on Tuesday last.

Mrs. Catharine Cosgrove, who owns a farm, lives upon it, in the absence of her husband to California, and had in her employ a number of hands, engaged in harvesting, &c. In the afternoon of Tuesday, she went to one of the neighbors to borrow some knives and forks, and returning towards evening, stopped in to another neighbor's house upon the road, and shortly afterwards left for home, which was the last seen of her alive, and until her body was discovered by the roadside, horribly mutilated—the left temple being knocked in, apparently with a club, two of which were found near by with blood upon them, her throat cut, and her body stabbed in several places. Her hands and fingers were also terribly lacerated with knife wounds, as if received in a struggle.

The woman did not bear a very reputable character in the neighborhood, and no clue has yet been found to her brutal murderers.—Chicago Journal.

YOUNG AMERICA.—The London Morning Advertiser, in commenting on the case of Costa, bestows the following glowing compliment to our country:

"Young America sets examples to Old England which it were well to imitate. The United States, though in her infancy as compared with the nations of Europe, not only possesses greater vigor than any other country under the sun, but, having the giant's strength, the Republic knows how to wield it for her own interest and her own honor. America is no craven country. She has courage, and she knows when and how to display it. No power will insult her with impunity. She has not only a quick perception of what is affront, but she loses not a moment in resenting it. We have just had a proof of the power and pluck of America, which has astonished the Courts of Europe; and which, being afforded at this particular moment, ought to make this country hide its head for very shame at the contrast which its conduct, when insulted by the Czar, exhibits to the world."

THE LOST BARK ARGYLE.—Captain Young and the only known survivors, ten in number, of the ill-fated bark Argyle, which foundered on her passage from Bristol to Quebec, arrived at Quebec on the 5th instant. Captain Young stated that their sufferings have been dreadful. They were nine days in one of the ship's boats, drifting about on the ocean, and six of these days were passed without food or water; during this time seven of the men died of exhaustion and hunger. Of the survivors two are females, one an old lady, turned of fifty, who, to add to her sufferings, was doomed to see her son, a fine strong young man of twenty-three years old, die of hunger by her side. The other female is a young woman, and, strange to say, both females were exposed to the same privations that the men were, and yet they lived through them, and saw seven strong men sink and die under them. There were twenty-five persons on board the Argyle, including three passengers, viz. the young woman, the old lady, and her son; all of whom betook themselves to two of the ship's boats, one of which has not since been heard of; and it is feared that but nine of the twenty-five have been left to tell the sad tale.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Union Line on Friday evening, in this city, the Pittsburgh proposition for a connection of the line with that place was declined by a large vote.—The proposed guarantee of the Railroad Company adverted to by the Patriot, was referred to the Board of Control, which is authorized to act finally in the matter.—Wellsburg Intelligencer.

A NEW ROUTE.—Capt. Aubrey has left San Francisco for New Mexico, accompanied by twenty men and forty animals, through a region which no white man has ever before trod. It is his intention to cross the great unexplored basin, mentioned by Freemont, to the Rio Grande, which he intends to strike just below Albuquerque. He has in view the discovery of a good route for the Pacific Railroad.

UNPRECEDENTED TRAVELING.—We were informed on Monday, of a feat of walking, by two females, mother and daughter, which for its extraordinary character, we never knew equaled. The females are of Irish birth, aged about 42 and 20 years respectively. They arrived in New York City, from their mother country, (so they represent to us,) five weeks ago from last Friday. They came alone, the remainder of the family having arrived and settled near this city about a year since. When they left the ship which brought them over, they had left about seven dollars in money. Not having enough to transport them to this city, and being entire strangers, they resolved on walking as far as they could, thinking possibly they might have an opportunity to ride over some of the road. The first three days they walked about forty miles a day. The fourth day they rode on a freight train about thirty miles, and walked fifteen more. Thus they continued day after day, stopping at country houses for their food, and to rest over night. At some of the places they were refused admission, while at others they were treated humanely.

They kept the railway track from New York city up to Albany, thence to Buffalo. At Buffalo they rested two days and then started again. They walked to Dunkirk, thence to Erie and Cleveland, and so anxious were they to meet their friends that they passed through Cleveland for this city. When at Spring Valley, on the Little Miami Railway, on Sunday morning, they requested of conductor Fuller permission to ride to this city, briefly stating their case and recent tramp. Satisfied that they told the truth, he generously took them on board and brought them to Cincinnati. They say that they asked of the conductors of the roads permission to ride, and were in every instance refused. Their time in coming through, nearly 1,000 miles on a railway track, excepting about 80 miles which they rode, was thirty-one days and a half, resting two days. This was travelling on an average about thirty miles per day, a feat almost incredible for women, but we have every reason to believe it is true. Their names are Hannah and Mary Donohue, and they are stopping at a house on Front street, near Elm. Their friends are living in Covington.—Cincinnati Gazette.

OLD SCHOOL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—A statement prepared by the Clerk of the last General Assembly, gives the following interesting statistics of the Church above named. During the year ending May, 1853, three new Presbyteries were organized, being those of Passaic, Oregon and Stockton, as also three new Synods, being those of Iowa, Arkansas, and the Pacific. In May of the present year there were in connection with the General Assembly 28 Synods, 143 Presbyteries, 363 candidates for the ministry, 232 licentiates, 2139 ministers, 2879 churches, 219,263 communicants. During the year there were 78 licensures, 74 ordinations, 118 installations, 103 pastoral relations disolved, 81 churches organized, 12 ministers received from other denominations, 8 ministers dismissed to other denominations, 23 ministers deceased, 7 churches received from other denominations, 1 church dismissed to another denomination, 11,846 members added on examination, 8,180 members added on certificate, 2942 adults baptized, $1,133,636 contributed for congregational and presbyterial purposes, $292,751 contributed for the four Boards, and $206,000 contributed for miscellaneous purposes.

A GUILTY CONSCIENCE.—When Dr. Donne, afterward Dean of St. Paul's took possession of his first living, as he walked into the churchyard he took up a skull thrown by the sexton out of the grave, and in it found a small headless nail, which he drew out secretly, and wrapped in the corner of his handkerchief. He then asked the grave-digger if he knew whose the skull was.—He replied that it was the skull of a person who kept a spirit shop, and who, having gone to bed intoxicated, was found dead in his bed in the morning.

"Had he a wife?" asked the doctor. "Yes." "What character did she bear?" "A very good one; only the neighbors reflected on her, because she married the day after her husband's burial." A few days afterwards the Doctor paid her a visit, as if by accident; asked her some questions and, at last, of what sickness her former husband died. As she was telling him the same story as the sexton, he opened his handkerchief, and cried in an authoritative voice: "Woman, do you know this nail?" Struck with horror, she instantly confessed the murder.

WISDOM IN INDIANA.—Hon. W. J. Brown, of the Indiana Sentinel, tells a good anecdote, illustrative of the intelligent character of the Hoosier State. Some few years ago, when Morse's Telegraph first began to receive public favor, one of the 4th of July orators of the State, in speaking of the great improvements that were going on in our country, said among other things, that "the day was not far distant when by the means of telegraphic wires, news of all kinds would be transmitted by lightning speed all over the country, and when it would only take two or three minutes to send a message all the way from New York to New Orleans." His hearers said nothing, but gave him to understand by a kind of sneering laugh, that he couldn't stick such "mush" down their throats no how. The whole matter passed by at that time. In the fall, however, this same orator was on the stomp as a candidate for Congress; and not unfrequently adverted to the same subject, as he went lecturing in different parts of the district. One night, to his great astonishment, after he had concluded his speech, he was waited upon by a committee of gentlemen of his own party, who addressed him as follows:

"Now Jones, by Gosh, we tell you just what it is, if you don't quit telling such infernal yarns about that telegraph invention, you wont get votes enough to make a corporal's guard for you."

ENGLAND is so deeply engaged in manufactures, that she brings a large quantity of her breadstuffs and provisions, as well as the raw material for her manufactures from every part of the world. During the first twenty-seven weeks of the present year, the importation of flour and wheat alone, into the ports of Great Britain, was equal to 16,104,652 bushels wheat. This quantity was brought from forty-eight different ports, in all climates. The list begins with the northern port of Russia (Archangel,) and ends with Peru. It includes almost every European State—includes Egypt and the west of Africa, the Philippine Islands and the Brazils, Austria and the United States of North America.

CATTLE.—Fully 25,000 head of cattle have been driven from Los Angelos county to the northern markets this season—a number equal at least to the yearly increase. Higher prices have been obtained than during the previous years, and have ranged from $25 to $32 per head; some gentle Cows have sold as high as $40; sheep at $8 50 and $9. It is probable that even higher rates than these will prevail, for the stock of the more northern counties seems to be nearly exhausted, and although many cattle will be brought to the State from Missouri, Arkansas, and Texas, yet the immigrants will be proportionally numerous.

CHOLERA IN EUROPE.—The Swedish government have declared that the cholera prevails in Abo, Elsinore, St Petersburgh, Cronstadt, Narva, Reval, Riga, and Copenhagen; and that the following places and territories are "suspected to be infected:" all the Finnian harbors from Christianstadt inclusive to the Russian frontier; all the Rusian ports of the Gulf of Finland and the Baltic, and all the ports of Zealand. In Copenhagen there were over 300 cases daily, and 1,243 deaths had occurred.

Our report gives about Two hundred and Twenty sudden deaths during the past six days in this city and environs from the terrific heat! Such a terrible visitation is unparalleled in the history of this country. We attribute this scourge to several causes. First, Heat; second, Alcohol; third, Pestilential Filth. The thermometer was above 100 in the shade almost every day, and the heat endured by those fully exposed to the sun was often as much as 115 degrees!—N. Y. Tribune.

A NUN IS NOT DEAD IN LAW.—A very interesting case has recently been decided in Ireland, in which it was declared by the Court that a Nun could succeed to an estate as the lawful heir. The Statutes of mortmain were declared not to apply to a person in her condition. The case is regarded as important not only for the consequences resulting pecuniarily, but as making void, so far as the law can, the vow of poverty taken by professed nuns. The decision will make some noise in the world, and is taken to the British House of Lords on appeal.

A meeting of the Directors of the Chambersburg and Allegheny Railroad Company was held in the Court House, in this place on Tuesday last. We were not present, but from conversation with different persons, we conclude there was not much of moment transpired.—Our people just now appear to be halting between two opinions. We will publish the proceedings when handed us.—Bedford Inquirer.

SNOW.—In the absence of Boston and Sitka ice at Sacramento, the Sierra Nevada Company are supplying the people with snow. It is not the old style snow, but sound, hard ice, taken from the Sierra Nevada mountains, and prepared for use by throwing water on the snow and letting it freeze, so that it becomes nearly as hard and compact as the Sitka ice. Many of the saloons are using this article, and prefer it, as it comes much cheaper than the other and answers nearly the same purpose.

NORTHAMPTON, MASS., Friday, August 12, 1853.—To-day whilst the officers were in the act of destroying about 250 gallons of liquor, it was set on fire by some thoughtless boys, and four of the bystanders were badly burnt—one of whom, named Cummings, was so severely injured that his recovery is doubtful.

THE iron for 33 miles more of the Scioto and Hocking Valley road, running from Portsmouth to Newark has been purchased. The cars will soon run from Newark to Summerset, and from Jackson nine miles north.

F. Brown's Essence of Jamaica Ginger—This Essence is a preparation of unusual excellence. In ordinary diarrhea, incipient cholera, in short, in all cases of prostration of the digestive functions, it is of inestimable value. During the prevalence of the epidemic cholera and summer complaints of children, it is peculiarly efficacious; no family or individual should be without it. CAUTION—Be sure to get the genuine Essence, which is prepared only by F. BROWN, at his Drug and Chemical Store, N. E. corner of Fifth and Chesnut streets, Philadelphia, and for sale by all the respectable apothecaries in the States; and, in Pittsburgh, by Benj. Page, Jr., R. A. Fahnestock & Co., Dr. S. Smith, Lemuel Wilcox & Co., J. Schoonmaker & Co. In Allegheny City by H. P. Schwartz and Lee A. Beckham & Co. au19tm

Worms! Worms!—Various theories have been started relative to the origin of intestinal worms, and yet the question is still a vexed one among medical authorities. Of one fact, however, all are informed, and in which all agree—the fatal nature of the influence they exert on children. At this season of the year the attacks of worms are most frequent as well as most dangerous. We take pleasure in directing the attention of parents to the VERMIFUGE OF DR. M'LANE. It is one of the most extraordinary medicines ever introduced to the public, and has never been known to fail.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, and take none else. All other Vermifuges, in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States, and from the sole proprietors,

New Certificates—MR. SOLOMONS: I called at your office on the 3d July, and stated the nature of my eyes, which was very bad at that time; you suited me with Spectacles that did my eyes a great deal of good—They were very much inflamed at the time, but that inflammation has now left. I cannot bear the light of the Sun or a Lamp, as well as ever. I shall call on you for another pair, in case I should have any misfortune with them, as I would not be without them under any consideration. Yours, Respectfully,
JOHN MAGEE, corner High and Webster streets.
PITTSBURGH, July 11, 1853.

MR. SOLOMONS—Being compelled to wear Spectacles, I have never been able to get a pair but what made my eyes ache.—I have tried a great number of glasses, but have failed, until I obtained a pair from you. I can see as well as ever by candle-light, for any length of time, with the greatest ease and comfort.

Mrs. Waterman is very much pleased with her glasses.
I remain, Yours, Truly,
L. S. WATERMAN, 109 Wylie street.
PITTSBURGH, July 12, 1853.

I have been under the necessity of using Glasses for several years, but have never found a pair to suit my eyes, or that I could use without fatigue, until I obtained a pair of Mr. Solomons. By the aid of those I bought of him, I can see as well as ever I could. I can read or write with them for hours, without the least fatigue, both by day and candle-light.

I have tried, in all the stores in the State of Pennsylvania, to obtain a pair of Glasses that would suit my eyes and failed in every instance. Knowing the difficulty of obtaining those suitable for the sight, I do most earnestly recommend to those laboring under defective vision, to apply to Mr. Solomons, of whom Glasses can be obtained to suit all cases. Yours, &c.,
ALLEGHENY CITY, July 20, 1853. J. MORRISON.
jy21:d&w:T

MR. SOLOMONS:—From infancy I have been afflicted with weak eyes and shortsightedness, and in all my travels I have never been able to get a pair of GLASSES that would help me. I had several pairs that would enable me to see more distinctly, but could never keep them on more than one-half hour from the fact that they caused such great pain.

I happened to see your advertisement, by which I saw you had just imported some, and went as it was my custom to get a pair that would benefit me, I thought I would try yours.

You must not think me flattering when I say they more than answer my expectations. I have not been able to read by candle-light for more than half an hour at any time before I got these Glasses. Since I got these, I read one Sunday all day, and until ten o'clock, without experiencing the least pain, which is a thing I have not done before for years.

I say this much as I think it deserving your enterprise, and hoping others may be benefited by it.

You are at liberty to make use of my name at any time for reference. I am, sir, truly yours,
HENRY EARL, Wharf Master, Pittsburgh.

P. S. I forget to mention that my wife is greatly benefitted by the pair she got, and equally pleased. [jel6

BURKE & BARNES' SAFES—Here is the kind of testimony as to the value of our SAFES, upon which we can confidently rest the reputation of our work. We have already published several certificates, proving that Safes made for our regular and ordinary sales, and sold abroad, have been subjected to the SEVEREST TESTS IN ACTUAL CONFLAGRATIONS, and preserved their contents totally free from damage. The following is another proof of the same incontestable character:—

$10,000 WORTH OF BOOKS AND PAPERS SAVED WITH A $40 SAFE!

ALBION, ERIE COUNTY, PA., November 12, 1852.

MESSRS. BURKE & BARNES—Dear Sirs: Your two letters were duly received. I was absent at the time. I would say, in regard to your Safe, I consider it perfectly FIRE PROOF. I tested the one I bought of you last fall on the morning of the 10th of June last—my store building being burned to ashes. It was built of wood and brick—a large three story building. My Safe was in it at the time of the fire, and fell into the cellar, where there was a large amount of oil. It was a very hot fire.

My notes and book accounts that were in the Safe, amounted to about Ten Thousand Dollars, which was saved. There was not a single paper injured; and further, I would advise any person who is doing business, to lose no time, but buy a Safe to keep their papers, &c., in—and get one that is good. I can safely recommend your Safes to any one. Yours, truly, JOHN CLARKE.

MORE HOME TESTIMONY.—Mr. Solomons: Sir—I think it no more than an act of justice to you as well as to the American community to state, the SPECTACLES I bought of you suit me well. I find my sight much improved. I can see small print with them for any length of time without fatigue to my eyes. Should my sight continue to improve by the use of them, I have no doubt but I shall be able to read without them in a short time. Yours, truly, T. MOUNDER.
Allegheny City, June 25, 1853.

I have used Mr. Solomons EYE GLASSES for a very brief period, with decided advantage, and have no hesitation in stating that a defective vision of long standing has been relieved, and the organs seem to be acquiring vigor and tone. I therefore cheerfully bear testimony to their excellency and accuracy, as also to Mr. Solomons' skill as a practical Optician, and the wonderful facility with which he adapts his Glasses to the various peculiarities of vision. WE believe Nature has provided a remedy for every disease which flesh is heir to. KIER'S PETROLEUM or ROCK OIL, put up as it flows, from the great laboratory, concealed deep in the bowels of Mother Earth, is, without doubt, one of the greatest of these remedies. Read the following testimony, given by a grateful parent:

PLEASANT VALLEY, Ohio, Sept. 15, 1852.
Mr. S. M. KIER—Sir: I have sold all your Petroleum, or Rock Oil, some two months past, and have been looking for your agent to get a further supply. I could have sold some dozen more. We have found the Oil very excellent in Flux and Dysentery. My daughter, at the time your agent was here, was lying very low with the flux; I gave her a teaspoonful, and in three hours gave the second, and the flux stopped, and she recovered immediately. It is also an extraordinary remedy for sore and inflamed Eyes, Cuts, Bruises, and Rheumatism, and for the Piles; some have been cured of long standing.
Yours, with respect, ISAAC BIGELOW.
For sale by all the Druggists in Pittsburgh.
[Papers advertising Petroleum please copy.]

To the Public—MR. SOLOMONS—Sir: From a premature failure or weakness of the eyes I have been compelled to try some half-dozen pairs of Glasses purchased at the best jewelers in this city—from the use of which my eyes grew worse and sight became materially impaired. I recently purchased a pair of YOUR JUSTLY CELEBRATED GLASSES, from the use of which I have much comfort and pleasure. My sight has improved and my eyes relieved from pain. I could not be induced to part with them. Yours, truly,
ROBT. GALLOWAY, Smithfield street.

MR. SOLOMONS—After a trial of a pair of your SPECTACLES, for several weeks, I find them superior to any that I have ever used; I can see with them any length of time without fatiguing my eyes, and I can read by gas light with ease and comfort. I cheerfully recommend them to those that are afflicted, as I have long been, with weak and inflamed eyes. Yours, &c.,
Mrs. E. H. McCRACKEN, Penn street.
Pittsburgh, July 26, 1853.

I HAVE USED MR. SOLOMONS' GLASSES for a brief period and find them to be much superior to any others I have used, and take pleasure in recommending them to those having occasion to use Glasses.
