NEGRO PERS.—Nothing better illustrates the orable progress of public opinion at the south han a controversy now going on in Louisville about the removal of Slave Pens from that city .-Pens in which human beings are hu aled together like hogs, for inspection and sale, exist in that place by virtue of a city ordinance; but publie sentiment being so much regenerated as to be shocked at the inhumanity involved in their conimpance, the Councils have been induced to re peal the ordinance. The Mayor, however, has interposed his vato, leaving the citizens to adopt some other method of redeeming their city from the represent of barbarism. A writer, in the Louisville Courier expressing a determination to have the sale and purchase of slaves, as a business, prohibited within the city, says: "Hog pens in the outskirts of town are intolerable, bu a negre pen in the heart of the city, before the eyes of every body, is a nuisance which all cry out mast and shall be avoided." We are glad to note this evidence of a growth of the right kind sentiment in the right quarter.

COURTY SURVEYOR .- In looking over the pro sedings of the late democratic county convenion we find that "Col. Jas. A. Gibson, of Pine," was nominated for County Surveyor. This is the came "James A. that a possible effect of the frequent strikes of workmen engaged in various trades, would be to open to females certain departments of labor from which they have hitherto been excluded though they are naturally as competent for them as men, and, with a little practice, may be rendered more efficient and reliable. This expectation, we find, is already being realised. The latvery profitable one, is still one of considerable est instance of the fact is now taking place at Pittsburgh, where, owing to a demand by the Printers attached to the Typographical Society for higher wages than the publishers are willing to give, the latter are actually advertising for the service of intelligent young women, of fair English education, as compositors. Several of the proprietors of the Pittsburgh journals have resorted to this alternative in their resistance to that they consider an unjust exaction of wages by their hands, and we doubt not that, after le experience in the art, the girls will do quite as well as their discontented brothers, who have thus unintentionally introduced them to a new field of usefulness .- Phil. BALTIMORE, SEPTEMBER 17, 1858. New Orleans papers have been received up to the 11th Iust., the deaths for the week ending the 10th inst, were 576, of which 421 were by yellow fever. The tetal number of deaths from the commencement of the epidemic were 7700 by vellow fever, and 2400 by other diseases. The Picayune warns strangers against approaching the city, as the disease only needs material to break out afresh with full violence.

The board of health publishes an order reuiring passengers to be landed at the Quarantine at port Philips.

The highest mortality at Mobils on the 8th inst. was 45 deaths; on the following days the fover had somewhat subsided.

The Charleston papers publish two columns of correspondence in relation to the late duel between John Dunovan and Daredun Legare. Legare challenged Dunovan because he had refused to explain in writing, whether he had represent ed to a Mr. M'Lure that he (Legare) drank to excess; only like another gentleman, Qunovan had previously given a verbal explanation.
