that we have, in plain language, applied the epi-thet "liar" to himself and Mrs. Swisshelm.— We have done no such thing. We do not deal in such epithets. We have simply interposed our emphatic denial to the allegations made by both against Dr. Carothers, and challenged them to produce the proof. If the proof is not produced, (and it has not been,) it is for the public to de-cide upon the character of those who have made

When charges are made against whig candidates which we believe to be false, it is our daty. as one of the advocates of the whig party, to deny them; and it will not do for those who bring such charges to turn round and claim the public sympathy upon the ground that a denial is equivalent to calling them "clare." We shall continue to deny groundless allegations against whig candidates, in as courteous language as clirountiances will permit, as often as they are continued to the continue to deny groundless allegations against whig candidates, in as corteous language as clirountiances will permit, as often as they are made; and those who choose to look upon such denial as an imputation of falsehood, will give bring such charges to turn round and claim the the best reason possible for believing that the the bast reason possible for believing that the imputation would not be undeserved.

The Post endeavors to parade Mrs. Swisshelm as "proof" of the charges it has brought against Dr. Carothers. As Mrs. Swisshelm derived her authority, in the first place, from the Post, for most of her charges, and has made no effort to prove the others, it is exceedingly clever in the Post to introduce her on the witness-stand.

Fost to introduce her on the witness-stand.

Carothers, in the Ten Hour Law case, does not make her a competent witness to prove them; and as her own charges are unsupported by other proof, she will hardly be considered as a competent witness to sustain them.

We do not give any heed to the attempt made by the Post to enlist public sympathy for Mrs. Swisshelm on account of the plain language we have thought it our duty to use towards her.—

She is a woman, and if she confined herself to a woman's circle, she would be entitled to immunity from newspaper attach; but a woman who throws off her feminine character, and enters the political ring, must expect to be treated as those are with whom, she chooses to mingle.—

She usurps a man's place, and in so doing throws have clouds a sawoman, but as a politidian; and nearly of the served. The Tarkish hersex.
