It is extrain to last until the next harvest, would be nothing to us if we could not meet it; and we could so meet it with any thing like promptitude or success if it were not for the iron highways which we have borrowed money to belief.

Admitting, therefore, the error of over-importations, we have yet the consolation of knowing that we are able to pay for them; and, without attempting to conceal the fact that we have borrowed money largely for railroad purposes, we have the pleasure of reflecting that the railroads thus built have developed, and are daily developed.

Biais Journal says:

We issay the proposition has been rejected by a heavy majority—many of the very men who brought it about voiting against it. We understand that the offset of union would be too bring the niew organization under the general railroad law, by which the stockholders would become individually liable on their stock to a certain extent. When this was known, they determined to reject the alliance, thinking it would be bettar for them to hang on to their tid charters

Scoret Orders continue to multiply in all parts of the country. The last we have heard of is mentioned by the Cincinnail Columbian as having been formed in that city, under the title of "The Family Compact," of which both makes and females are members. In that city it already numbers five hundred members, and the Columbian aspays that it is for charitable and beneficial purposes. In Philadelphia, the number of these secret orders is very large. Besides the old and respectable orders of Masons and Odd Fellows, we have the Andein Order of Draids, Ancient Order of Good Fellows, Improved Order of Red May, American Protestant Associations, Sons of Temperance, Sons of Americs, United Voids at America, United Voids at America, Sons of Americs, United Voids at America, United Voids at America, Sons of Americs, United Voids at America, Sons of Americs, United Voids at America, Sons of America, America, Son
