

HOME MATTERS.

River Irons.—The expected rise in the river was realized, and yesterday morning the water channel depth of 55 feet. The tide, however, was then nearly checked. After the rain on Saturday the weather changed to cold, which continued all day Sunday; yesterday it snowed heavily.

The Adelphi's changes have, Capt. McVey retires. He will be succeeded by Capt. Galigher, formerly of the Dan Conover. We regret the loss of the good-looking Capt. McVey, but Captain Galigher is a capable substitute, and will keep the Adelphi in sprightly order. She leaves to-day at her usual hour.

The Winchster will be here this morning, and will replace her in the Whirling line.

The steamer St. Francis sprang a leak in the basin at Louisville, on the Illinois river, last week, and sunk in seven feet water. She was a small boat, and had little or no freight on board. The steamer St. Louis, from New Orleans, has since come to the rescue of the unfortunate river, in 5 feet water. She had two barges in tow, laden with grain, but had no freight herself.

The Adelphi was a small boat, but had a valuable run of business during the season.

The St. Louis Republican says that navigation on the Missouri is about at a close. The Honduras is the only boat up river, and on her arrival at St. Louis will lay up. The Republic of Texas, from New Orleans, is also part of the fleet of navigation. The steamer is very difficult of navigation. The river is only six inches lower at Keokuk than at any time in last season, and only 20 inches on Enterprise. The Julia Dean was aground at the mouth of the Illinois.

The Shreveport (La.) paper of Nov. 20th succeeded the safe arrival of the Augusta, the next little boat built last summer, and says she succeeded in getting over the falls. She is now running to Mound.

Gordon's Inquest.—W. H. Carson, the man who was stabbed on Thursday night, died on Saturday morning. His body was found in his room at the Hotel New York, on Broadway, with the exception that Cleary and Hirschberg, both made a cut at Carson at the same time.

From the direction of the blow, the latter could have been the cause of the death, and a violent stroke.

On being accused, Hirschberg said he had thought that he had cut him, but said that if he had, it was done in self-defense.

He was then asked if he had not, but replied that east in the evening, Clegg told them at the glass house, that he intended to cut some body that night. His return to the glass house, with the knife in his pocket, when one of the workmen pulled it out suddenly, and it was found to be bloody, as was his knife. It was then said that Hirschberg had cut him, and he was then asked if he had cut Clegg (Clegg cut Carson in the stomach hard enough to cut him in two, and that Hirschberg thought that he was himself given a cut).

Clegg was then asked if he had the knife for the bloody knife in the examination before the Mayor.

The jury found a verdict that he deserved a severe punishment, and recommended a harsh sentence.

Mr. Richardson gave a statement and, after consulting with the presiding magistrate, agreed to a lenient sentence.

Richardson's statement was read by the court, and the jury were given a few moments to consider.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

Mr. Richardson presented the evidence and the poll showed that the majority voted for the death sentence.

Mr. Richardson called for the reading of the sentence.

COMMERCIAL.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

GRASS FARMERS' GAZETTE.—The market report was not entirely free from criticism. The stormy weather was unfavorable to business.

LOUVE.—The only lots offered were 20 and 15 bbls., each worth at $5 per barrel, for safe keeping.

GOODRICH.—Sales of 12 bbls., new sugar at $2.65, old at $2.50, and old at $2.25.

BUTTER.—Sale of 100 lbs. of salted butter at $1.25.

HAY.—At a sale of 7 bales at $1.60 per bale.

WHISKEY.—Offered at $2.25 per barrel.

REGULAR WHEELING PACKET.

REGULAR WHEELING PACKET.