PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

A lawyer was a fellow subpœnaed as a witness on a trial for an assault, one of the counsel who was notorious for bullying witnesses, asked him what distance he was from the parties when the assault happened; he answered:

"Just four feet five inches and a half."

"How came you to be so exact, fellow?" said the counsel.

"Because I expected some fool or other would ask me, and I measured it."

NEW YORK, Its Upper Ten and Lower Million!

BY GEORGE LIPPARD,

Author of "Washington and his Generals," "The Nazarene," "Paul Ardenheim," "Ivons and the Poor," "Adonai," "The Quaker City," &c.

This is the best work ever written by Lippard: one continued scene of excitement from the commencement to the end. Those who have read Dumas' Countde Monto Christo, or The Wanderer, we are sure will be the impression will be equally pleased with this. Novel readers will find this the most interesting work that has issued from the press for some time.—Cleveland Plaindealer.

George Lippard's Great Work—New York: Its Upper Ten and Lower Million. Novel readers will be perfectly delighted with this new work. The incidents delineated in this work are of the most exciting character. We should not be surprised if the demand for it should exceed that of Uncle Tom's Cabin.—Times.

From the Louisville Courier.

New York: Its Upper Ten and Lower Million.—George Lippard's last and best work. This novel requires only to be read to be correctly appreciated. As an enchanting work, it is unsurpassed. We believe it will be impossible for any person who commences this work, to leave it off until he has turned over its last page.

From the Cleveland Plaindealer.]

To Capitalists, Manufacturers and Mechanics.

THE Beaver Manufacturing Company, incorporated under a Charter from the Legislature of Penn., with a Capital of $500,000, desirous to establish Factories, in the Borough of Brighton, Beaver Co., Pa., a number of FURNACES and an extensive ROLLING MILL, for the manufacture of Pig Iron, Bar Iron, Nails, Spikes, &c., and as soon as practicable, a Cotton Mill for Railroad Iron.

Towards the accomplishment of this object they are willing to furnish the appropriate site and grounds for the works, together with the necessary amount of water power, the privilege of getting coal, iron ore, fire clay, building stone, timber, &c., all of which they have in great abundance, and at a distance of but a few miles; and also a number of dwelling houses and vacant lots, for the occupancy of operatives and others—to execute a large and convenient race or canal sixty feet wide, for the more convenient and abundant supply of water, and for the passage of boats to and from the works; to erect such other buildings in which to carry on the contemplated manufactures as may be desired.

Such grounds, water power, erections, improvements and privileges they propose to put in as so much capital; and for the use of their patent rights, which, with other valuable knowledge and mechanical experience, will be found ready and willing to supply the machinery, and set the manufacturing, labor, and a portion of the working cash capital, if necessary in other ways to contribute any reasonable proportion, from one-fourth to the whole number of shares, as may be required for each particular branch of business, as it is their object and intention to effect every possible facility to those who identify themselves with this enterprise; and they accordingly offer equally as liberal inducements for the establishment of many other branches of business not above enumerated, especially those which tend to the more extensive development of the mineral resources by which their position is surrounded, and their own grounds are rich and extensively prolific in the multiplication and extension of iron manufacture below.

The Company are now repairing their Cotton Factory and Flouring Mill, and are willing to rent the same and suspend the profits either or both for a term of years, and upon liberal terms—that they can make money in either is particularly directed to the establishment and prosecution of these branches, composed of Iron, Wheat, Wash-Leather, and to which they would add the building of locomotive engines, steam boats, and carriage, and the making of pottery, fire-brick and glass &c., for which they have the best material upon their own ground, and in great perfection and abundance. The Flouring Mill is capable of making from 200 barrels of flour every 24 hours, or 300 bbls of kiln dried corn meal, upon the most approved plan, for either of which grain is abundant, being brought by canals, railroads and river, as the direction of the mill.

Post paid letters addressed to the Agent, will receive prompt attention.

Multiplication and Extension of Iron Manufactures.

We have within the last few months seen frequent allusions to a new plan, by which mineral coal can be converted at once into wrought iron, without passing through the intermediate condition of pig metal. Processes, differing from the pig metal state, as now generally practiced in the United States.

This new process appears to be gaining favor rapidly in various parts of our country. It was first heard of at Newark, New Jersey, then at Cincinnati, then at Cleveland and Youngstown, now in our immediate vicinity, Pittsburgh and Beaver county.

We have seen the process and witnessed the results. We have seen the mineral coal and the crude ore, after being crushed or pulverized and mixed in suitable proportions, put into a furnace, in a grate at a country mill, and through red hot tubes, or chambers, come forth like so much meal or dough, a boiling mass of iron. We have seen those tubes or chambers, apparently like so much red hot iron, grow into a compact mass, and like a rolling snowball, increase in size with every turn of the handle, to the largest pumpkin.

We have seen this iron pumpkin, or ball of red hot metal brought immediately under a forge hammer, and in less than five minutes it was converted into a beautiful bloom. We have seen the same bloom pass through the rolls, and come forth as bolter iron, as sheet iron, bar iron, nail rods, &c., and it was all very good.

An appropriate furnace and puddling oven for this purpose can be had for less than $1000, and any man having an acre of coal land, with good iron ore and the ability to raise a thousand dollars in his pocket, can, in less time than it would require to erect a mill of any kind, have a forge in full race running upon his own premises, at the foot of his own coal bank, which shall turn out daily a ton or more of first rate blooms at a cost of $20 the ton, though worth at his own door from $50 to $100, giving him a profit of $100 a day on a capital of $1000. The whole Manufacturing Community are ready to furnish the ground; the coal, the iron ore, water power, and present fresh privileges, or as much capital under their charter, with others who have some capital, skill and industry.

Let those who wish to know more of this matter, inquire of the undersigned, who know all about it.

MEDICAL.

TO THE PUBLIC.

MOST IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT:

RETIREMENT OF PROF. JAMES McCLINTOCK, M. D.

From the Philadelphia Medical College.

A NEW ERA IN THE HISTORY OF MEDICINE.

Popular Medicine for the first time sanctioned by the HIGHEST AUTHORITY IN THE PROFESSION!

THE undersigned have the pleasure of informing the public that they have made arrangements with the eminent Professor JAMES McCLINTOCK M.D., of Philadelphia, known for more than a quarter of a century past as one of the greatest Practitioners and Teachers of Medicine and Surgery in this country or in Europe, for the purchase of his recipes, and the preparation of a series of FAMILY MEDICINES therefrom, which will be put up in a cheap and popular form, adapted for general use, and suited to the most prevalent diseases. These remedies embrace some of the most valuable discoveries and combinations ever known for the cure of disease. They are the fruits of the most profound investigation, the widest research, and the utmost unequaled experience of one of the first physicians of the age. Each remedy is especially adapted to some particular form of disease, in accordance with the highest principles of modern medical science. Each of these remedies have been tried, improved, and finally perfected, in the course of a long, active and highly successful practice, not only in Philadelphia, but throughout almost every distant section of the country to which his great reputation has called him. Their nature and effects are known and approved of by hundreds of regular physicians who have been his students and seen their beneficial results in his practice, and by thousands of private individuals who have been his patients, while they were under his tuition, in the College of Philadelphia, Castleton, Pittsfield, and elsewhere.

READ THE FOLLOWING CERTIFICATE:

This is to certify, that I have placed in the hands of Messrs. A. Donglass & Co., of New York, the recipes of my "Family Medicine," with my full authority to prepare and offer them to the public. In doing so, I have been actuated in the habit of recommending and prescribing for many years, and by the request of many of my friends and former pupils, who have been practising with distinguished success in all parts of the country. My indispensable for this step are numerous: one of the most urgent is, that the demand for my remedies has become so large, through private report of their success, as to make their preparation on a great scale draw on my time; another is, the repeated solicitations of my friends and patients, in the belief that the general introduction of my remedies would be in many respects a public benefit; and finally, because by many years observation, I am enabled to assure the public that they will be prepared in the BEST, PUREST and most efficient manner.

JAMES McCLINTOCK, M. D., Late Professor of Anatomy and Surgery in the Philadelphia College of Medicine and Acting Professor of Midwifery, one of the Consulting Physicians of the Philadelphia Hospital, Blockley, late member of the Philadelphia Medical Association, member of the Philadelphia Medical Society, member of the Medical and Surgical College of Philadelphia, formerly President and Professor of Anatomy and Surgery in Castleton Medical College, Vermont, and also, late Professor of Anatomy and Physiology in Berkshire Medical Institution, Pittsfield, Mass., &c. &c., &c.

We need scarcely remind the intelligent public of the great popularity which exists for the introduction of a class of good and reliable popular medicines which may be confidently adopted into family use and depended on at all times in the absence of a physician, as being the legitimate productions of Science, Study and Experience.

It is needful to prove the immense superiority of such a class of remedies over the dangerous compounds that are daily palmed upon the public by ignorant and reckless men, solely for the purpose of enriching themselves at the terrible cost of lives and health of their fellow beings. We trust confidently in the good sense of the community to support us in our effort to extirpate the great public evil of Quackery by giving a careful person to the following list, which embrace the first twelve remedies of the series, and which comprises some of the most valuable specifics ever discovered for the several complaints enumerated. If you or any of your friends are afflicted, we advise you to procuring the aid of the first medical authority of the day, to procure and giving a trial to such of these medicines as are adapt ed to the case. We call especial attention to the first on the list as being most generally demanded, at this season namely, the

Multiplication and Extension of Iron Manufactures.

We have within the last few months seen frequent allusions to a new plan, by which mineral coal can be converted at once into wrought iron, without passing through the intermediate condition of pig metal. Processes, differing from the pig metal state, as now generally practiced in the United States.

This new process appears to be gaining favor rapidly in various parts of our country. It was first heard of at Newark, New Jersey, then at Cincinnati, then at Cleveland and Youngstown, now in our immediate vicinity, Pittsburgh and Beaver county.

We have seen the process and witnessed the results. We have seen the mineral coal and the crude ore, after being crushed or pulverized and mixed in suitable proportions, put into a furnace, in a grate at a country mill, and through red hot tubes, or chambers, come forth like so much meal or dough, a boiling mass of iron. We have seen those tubes or chambers, apparently like so much red hot iron, grow into a compact mass, and like a rolling snowball, increase in size with every turn of the handle, to the largest pumpkin.

We have seen this iron pumpkin, or ball of red hot metal brought immediately under a forge hammer, and in less than five minutes it was converted into a beautiful bloom. We have seen the same bloom pass through the rolls, and come forth as bolter iron, as sheet iron, bar iron, nail rods, &c., and it was all very good.

An appropriate furnace and puddling oven for this purpose can be had for less than $1000, and any man having an acre of coal land, with good iron ore and the ability to raise a thousand dollars in his pocket, can, in less time than it would require to erect a mill of any kind, have a forge in full race running upon his own premises, at the foot of his own coal bank, which shall turn out daily a ton or more of first rate blooms at a cost of $20 the ton, though worth at his own door from $50 to $100, giving him a profit of $100 a day on a capital of $1000. The whole Manufacturing Community are ready to furnish the ground; the coal, the iron ore, water power, and present fresh privileges, or as much capital under their charter, with others who have some capital, skill and industry.

Let those who wish to know more of this matter, inquire of the undersigned, who know all about it.
