When Davis and Hasen came into the room, Hasen said Davis had agreed to split the difference, and take $3250; Galway would not pay one $3300; Hasen said he would try and get Davis to knock off the other $250; after a little his succeeded in getting Davis to do so. Just as we finished breakfast, the cars came along, and we got on; Hasen was at breakfast; while we were on the platform Hasen came out and becknow to the cridence of Magoffin.

The offer was overruled. At this hour the Court adjourned until this morning, we went to Hasen's office, and found him and Morris and Ewing in close control of the 22d day of November, 1852. Win. McGenry, Win. S. Harris, Franklin M'.

Gwin and Gen. Larimer were sworn, and testifed to brokers receiving and paying out small nearly of the cridence of Magoffin.

The offer was overruled. At this hour the Court adjourned until this morning.

Cross-Ecamined—Am a Director of the Farmer's Deposite Bank; went to Welkrille at the request of Mr. Galway; he asked me on the overling of the 23d; I did not make the information lagainst these parties; I was not sent for to the Alderman's office; I was there.

A number of questions were asked to discover whom Mr. Stokes represented, to which the prosecution objected and was sustained by the Court.

The course of the cross examination was similar to that pursued towards Mr. Galway. The witness never said that he attempted to quit Mr. Haren on the boat; didn't tell him that be ought to drink brandy, wine not being strong enough, did not drunk with him for half an hour. I Alleghony Saving Funds company; Mr. Davis opened an account in our institution; on the Sth of October he drew out $10; on the 9th of October 188, on the 18th $9; on the 20th November $3; on the 4th $11; the money was paid to Mr. Davis; Morris was pretdy near the door; the prosecution objected and was preduced to show what kind of money was paid to Mr. Davis; Morris was pretdy near the door; the prosecution objected to the checks the winces explained, what currency is; and presented the checks.

The defence objected to the checks being presented first, because cheeks are paid in all kinds of money, and eccondly that no evidence was produced to show what kind of money was paid to the special fast, because cheeks are paid in all kinds of money was praid to the checks.
