DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A MAN AND HIS HORSE.—One evening Clerk had been tipping, rather too deeply into the convivial bowl; with a friend in Quaker street, and on emerging into the open air, his intellect became in a considerable degree confused, and not being able to distinguish objects with any degree of minuteness or certainty, he thought himself in a fair way of loosing the way to his own house in Picardy place. In this perplexity he espied some one coming towards him, whom he stopped with—"Say—I'pye'ken whase John Clerk bides?" "What's the tye of you speerin' that question?" said the man, "you're John Clerk himsel,' I ken that,' answered the John, 'but if is no himsel that's wanted, tis his house.'

NEW YORK.
Its Upper Ten and Lower Million!
BY GEORGE LIPPARD,
Author of "Washington and his Generals," "The Nazarene," "Paul Ardenheim," "Jesus and the Poor," "Adonai," "The Quaker City," &c.

This is the finest new work written by Lippard; one continued scene of excitement from the commencement to the end. Those who have read Dumas' Countess Monte Christo, or The Wandering Jew, we are under the impression, will be equally pleased with this. Novel readers will find this the most interesting work that has issued from the press for some time.—Examiner.

George Lippard's Great Work—New York: Its Upper Ten and Lower Million. Novel readers will be perfectly delighted with this new work. The incidents delineated in this work are of the most exciting character. We should not be surprised if the demand for it should exceed that of Uncle Tom's Cabin.—Times.

From the Louisville Courier.

New York: Its Upper Ten and Lower Million, George Lippard's last and best work. This novel requires only to be read to be correctly appreciated. As an enchanting work, it is unrivalled. We believe it will be impossible any person who commences this work, to leave it off until he has turned over its last page.

From the Cleveland Plaindealer.

New York: Its Upper Ten and Lower Million.—A new work by the gifted son of genius, George Lippard. We have read it. It is a novel of most thrilling interest—such one as having been commenced, you will sit up all night to finish. It is a book we would like every body to read.
