SUSTAIN THEM.—The inclination on the part of Whigs to sustain those members of Congress from democratic districts who maintained a firm and consistent opposition to the Nebraska bill, is very strong. In N. York, the Tribune calls on the Whigs and anti-Slavery men of the Sixth district to re-elect JOHN WHEELER, who was the only one of the City representatives who preserved his integrity; and the Courier & Enquirer declares that he must be re-elected; It says that "I was the special object of Senator Douglas' recent visit to New York, to defeat the nomination and election of the Hon. John Wheeler to Congress for this District," and adds that "rowdies will be hired to attend the Whig Primary Meetings of the District, to secure the return of members to the Convention, pledged to vote only for a Whig! This would inevitably secure the triumph of the Nebraska conspirators; and this therefore must be especially guarded against."

The Courier & Enquirer, after devilling on the facts of the case, lays down its determination as follows:

"With us, the repeal of the Nebraska fraud, is paramount to all mere party considerations, and such we know to be the feeling of all the Northern Union and Compromise men; and in consequence, if a packed Convention should nominate a Whig instead of the Hon. John Wheeler, to represent the Sixth District in the next Congress, we shall repudiate the nomination and support Mr. Wheeler.

We speak advisedly, when we say, that such are the intentions of the Whigs generally of the Sixth District; and to guard against the Primary Meetings being controlled by Douglas and Pierce, and Nebraska Agents, we recommend to the people of the District, to place Mr. Wheeler in nomination at once, and pay no regard to the formula of a Convention. Such a course, would defeat the scheme concoted by Douglas and his clan, when here recently; and no good Whig who prefers his principles to his party, will object to the proceeding. Let a call be issued then, at once, signed by the good and true men of the District irrespective of party; and let Mr. Wheeler be promptly nominated by both the Whigs and the Democrats of the District.

In the Steubenville (Ohio) district, the Cadiz Republican says, "the old hunker, pro-slavery leaders of the Locofoco party are down upon Mr. Stuart, and many of them swear that he shall not be re-nominated; but we presume the more prudent portion of the party will not deem it expedient to cast him off, for they must know that at least nine-tenths of his constituents fully justify his course on the Nebraska question." If they justify his course, let them re-elect him, in spite of the old hunkers. He must be sustained.

DISUNION AND ROBBERY.—Mr. Chastain of Georgia, made a speech in Congress, lately, which is remarkable for the boldness of its free-booter avowals. We quote a paragraph:

"I ardently hope that those to whom is entrusted our diplomacy with Spain, will direct their attention at once, and without delay, to the acquisition of Cuba; that there shall be no dallying, but a frank and open diplomacy, calling upon Spain to name her terms, and if within the bounds of anything like reason, to accept them. If not, to make her the most liberal proposition; and if that be refused, and nothing else will do, as a matter of self-preservation, I go for an undisguised, open war, for taking Cuba by force of arms!"

The Washington Union calls this "spirited" and "patriotic," and commits the administration to an endorsement of the national robbery advocated by him. We grant that it is "patriotic," in the sense spoken of by Dr. Johnson, who defined "patriotism" to be "the last refuge of a scoundrel." It is spirited too, but it is the same kind of spirit that a bully or a highwayman shows to a weaker party he is anxious to attack and plunder.

As an illustration of the schemes and purposes of Mr. Chastain and his friends, we extract the following from the Washington correspondence of the Buffalo Advertiser:

"That a purpose has been formed by many southern members, in conjunction with a portion of the Cabinet to get Cuba with or without the consent of Spain, peaceably or forcibly, I am assured from a quarter entitled to the highest respect and confidence. The information communicated to me of the existence of this plot was confirmed in my own mind on Thursday, by the speech of Mr. Chastain, of Georgia, in which he advocated the immediate annexation of Cuba to the United States at all hazards; declaring that it was time the Island had changed hands, and that our interests required that it should belong to the United States!

"But the second part of the plot is yet untold, which is, after the annexation of Cuba to the South, to sever the Union, and form a new Southern Republic. Their calculation is that with Cuba they will have territory enough, and will be strong enough to set up for themselves, and bid adieu to the North; or, if they want more they can easily take the northern provinces of Mexico. That California and New Mexico will join the Southern Republic, which will give them abundant outlets and strong positions on both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, and enable them to become a great commercial as well as agricultural and planting nation."

As Mr. Chastain is a leading democrat and is patted on the back by the administration, it behooves the Pittsburgh Union to turn its attention to him, and vent its indignation and eloquence about the "glorious Union" in exposing and opposing those members of its own party who cherish a dissolution of the confederacy as their highest political aspiration.

DEATH OF HON. JAS. ALLISON.—A telegraphic despatch from New Brighton informs us of the death of Hon. James Allison, of Beaver county. He died at two o'clock on Saturday, at the advanced age of eighty-two years. The deceased was a man who, from his talents and experience, enjoyed a very large share of the public confidence, and during the active career of his life he received many testimonials indicating the high regard in which he was held by those who knew him. In his removal we lose one of the landmarks of the olden time, and are reminded of the gradual fading away from our midst of the links that bind the present to the early days of this nation's career.

MISTAKES.—The editor of the St. Louis Republican publishes the proceedings of several slaveholders' meetings in Missouri, in which they resolved to carry their slaves into Kansas, and adds:

"They have as much right to go upon Kansas territory, with their slaves and other property, as any Yankee son of New England, and this right they will assert at all hazards."

There must be some mistake about this. Judge Breckenridge and the editors of the Union and Post unite in declaring that the idea of slaves being carried into Kansas is a humbug, and that no one need have any apprehensions about it. Surely they know all about it; and the editors of the St. Louis Republican, as well as the slaveholders of Missouri will modify their views accordingly.

PATRIOTS THEM OFF.—The Northern Invaders who betrayed the cause of liberty, in their support of the Nebraska bill, are receiving the price of their treachery.

The Hon. Mr. Westbrook, a member of Congress from Ulster County, New York, who voted for the Nebraska swindle, is to be U. S. District Attorney in place of Charles O'Connor.

In January the Hon. Mr. Olds, called a meeting of the Ohio Delegation to denounce the Nebraska bill. In May, the same Hon. Mr. Olds, voted for the Bill, and three days afterwards, his son, Marcus L. Olds, received an appointment in Minnesota worth $3000 per annum.

Mr. Lilly, of New Jersey, voted against the bill when it first came from the Senate, but for it, on its final passage. The price at which he was bought has been paid in the appointment of a friend of his to a lucrative office. Other instances will follow.

In the meantime the people owe these creatures a debt which they are anxious to pay, and there is a growing uneasiness at head-quarters as political throat-cutting time approaches.

The editor of the Union is very much alarmed at a suggestion for the peaceable separation of the States, and hardly knows who to appeal to to prevent it. He is certain, however, that it will not do to appeal to the "disappointed office-seekers." Perhaps he had better appeal to the appointed office-seekers, "who carry their principles in their pockets." If they don't come to his help there is no gratitude extant. What would the U. S. Commissioner do if the Union were dissolved? There would be no slaves to catch, and no fees of ten dollars for returning them. Let him prevent it, by all means.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Correspondence of the Daily Pittsburgh Gazette.

WASHINGTON, June 15, 1854.

The House will perhaps let the Senate resolution for a recess from the middle of July to the middle of October, lie over, until it is ascertained more definitely than is now known what business must be proceeded with and what abandoned.

We have a report in town that Santa Anna "has spurned the bribe" of ten millions, but little confidence can be placed in it. When the chief men of any nation begin to sell their country by piece meal, it is near its end. That seems to be the condition of Mexico. It is a "sweet country."

The annexation of Cuba is to be the topic of debate during the remainder of the session.—Chastain, of Georgia, made a speech worthy of a buccaneer of the nineteenth century, advising the immediate seizure of the island, or war to the knife with Spain. This speech the Union highly approves. Then Singleton, of Mississippi, and Latham, of California, and Perkins, of La., all enlarged upon the necessity and inevitability of our robbing Spain in order to defend ourselves.

I believe that it is the intention of Mr. Campbell, of Ohio to introduce a resolution for opening negotiations with Great-Britain for the annexation of Canada to the United States. Of course, it will not succeed; but as a counter irritation to the eternal annoyance of Southern schemes for sectional advantage, it will answer a good purpose.

Mr. McDougal, of California, who deliberately sold out the interests of his State to the Nebraska conspirators, seeks to cover up the total loss of the Pacific Railroad by moving for an additional appropriation of $50,000 to complete the surveys. The project is dead, and will be referred to hereafter only as a proof of the short sighted perfidy of Southern politicians.

It is reported that the Kansas and Nebraska nominations are made, and that a Marylander is to be Governor of the first named territory. It is my belief that Richardson of Illinois will be appointed to preside over Nebraska. He has gone home to try the tone and temper of his people. He will find them utterly disgusted with the treachery and baseness of his course here. As he has betrayed their confidence and repudiated their interests, they will repudiate him. He will be rejected, and then he will be offered some reward for the sacrifice he has made in behalf of his friend the giant. Poor Buell, of Detroit, made a similar experiment on behalf of his friend Cass in voting for the fugitive act.—It is not known what became of him.

The Reciprocity treaty is withheld for a few days. The impression that it will not be submitted to the Senate until its details shall have been approved by the legislatures of the provinces is not correct. It is to be ratified here and in London and carried out by the mutual legislation of Canada and the Eastern Colonies. Its fate in the Senate is very doubtful. I fear that it will not be confirmed. Six or seven northern Senators are already arrayed in open hostility. Mr. Clayton is electioneering with activity against it. The South look upon it as a movement toward annexation and at present are unitedly hostile. If Pierce were as anxious to buy votes for it with offices, contracts, &c., &c., as he was to accomplish the Nebraska infamy by the same means, there would have been no difficulty in the matter, for southern men can be venal when it is for their interest to sell themselves and there is anybody to buy.

Mr. Clayton to-day spoke against the veto, and chiefly in reply to Gen. Cass. I do not doubt that it was a good speech, but of what use are speeches—why not vote on the veto at once, and be done with it. All donations of public lands for charitable purposes are defeated, and at an end for the present and the next Congress. All palaver and lamentation over that result of the benevolent exertions of Miss Dix and others are thrown away. They are more idle than the wind.

Gen. Cushing has been industriously drudging for six or eight months past on some immense Florida interest claims, amounting to three quarters of a million of dollars or more. They have been lobbied with zeal and ability by the immortal H. A. Wise, of Accomac, and W. C. Johnson, of Maryland. Cushing has rejected the whole batch, and a great flutter has been caused among claimants in consequence. JUNIUS.

The Earthquake at San Salvador.

A SCENE OF DESOLATION AND TERROR.

We copy below, from the "Boletin Extraordinario del Gobierno del Salvador," (Central America,) of May 24, some particulars of the destruction of that town, by an Earthquake, in addition to the facts hitherto communicated. It will be read with interest:

The night of the 19th of April, 1854, will ever be one of sad and bitter memory for the people of Salvador. On that unfortunate night our happy and beautiful capitol was made a heap of ruins. Movements of the earth were felt on the morning of Holy Thursday, proceded by sounds like the rolling of heavy artillery over pavements, and like distant thunder. The people were a little alarmed in consequence of this phenomenon, but it did not prevent them from meeting in the churches to celebrate the solemnities of the day. On Saturday all was quiet and confidence was restored. The people of the neighborhood assembled, as usual, to celebrate the Passover. The night of Saturday was tranquil, as was also the whole of Sunday. The heat, it is true, was considerable, but the atmosphere was calm and serene. For the first three hours of the evening nothing unusual occurred; but at half-past nine a severe shock of an earthquake, occurring without the usual preliminary noises, alarmed the whole city. Many families left their houses and made encampments in the public squares, while others prepared to pass the night in their respective court yards.

Finally, at ten minutes to eleven, without premonition of any kind, the earth began to heave and tremble with such fearful force that in ten seconds the entire city was prostrated. The crashing of houses and churches stunned the ears of the terrified inhabitants, while a cloud of dust from the falling ruins enveloped them in a pall of impenetrable darkness. Not a drop of water could be got to relieve the half-choked and suffocating, for the wells and cisterns were filled up or made dry. The clock tower of the Cathedral carried a great part of the edifice with it in its fall. The towers of the church of San Francisco crushed the Episcopal Oratory and part of the palace. The church of Santo Domingo was buried beneath its towers, and the college of the Assumption was entirely ruined. The new and beautiful edifice of the University was demolished. The Church of the Merced separated in the centre, and its walls fell outward to the ground. Of the private houses, a few were left standing, but the walls left standing are old ones; all those of modern construction have fallen. The public edifices of the government and city shared the common destruction.

The devastation was effected, as we have said, in the first ten seconds, for although the succeeding shocks were tremendous and accompanied by fearful rumblings beneath our feet, they had comparatively trifling results, for the reason that the first had left but little for their ravages.

Solemn and fœrible was the picture presented on that dark, funereal night, of a whole people clustering in the plazas, and on their knees crying with loud voices to Heaven for mercy, or in agonizing accents calling for their children and friends, which they believed to be buried beneath the ruins! A heaven opaque and ominous; a movement of the earth rapid and unequal, causing a terror indescribable; an intense sulphurous odor filling the atmosphere, and indicating an approaching eruption of the volcano; streets filled with ruins or overhung by threatening walls; a suffocating cloud of dust almost rendering respiration impossible. Such was the spectacle presented by the unhappy city on that memorable and awful night!

A hundred boys were shut up in the college, many invalids crowded the hospitals, and the barracks were full of soldiers. The sense of the catastrophe which must have befallen them, gave poignancy to the first moments of reflection after the earthquake was over. It was believed that at least a fourth of the inhabitants had been buried beneath the ruins. The members of the government, however, hastened to ascertain, as far as practicable the extent of the catastrophe, and to quiet the public mind. It was found that the loss of life had been much less than was supposed, and it now appears probable that the number of the killed will not exceed one hundred, and of wounded fifty. Among the latter is the Bishop, who received a severe blow on the head; the late President, Senor Duenas; a daughter of the President, and the wife of the Secretary of the Legislative Chambers—the latter severely.

Fortunately, the earthquake has not been followed by rains, which gives an opportunity to disinter the public archives, as also many of the valuables contained in the dwellings of the citizens.

The movements of the earth still continue, with strong shocks, and the people, fearing a general swallowing up of the site of the city, or that it may be buried under some sudden eruption of fire or water, are hastening away, taking with them their household goods, the sweet memories of their infancy, and their domestic animals, perhaps the only property left for the support of their families, exclaiming with Virgil, "Nos patriæ fines et dulcia linquimus arva."

EDUCATION IN PENNSYLVANIA.—County Superintendents of Schools are now required in Pennsylvania.—We believe a new office for that State. We have a list before us of twenty-three Counties in which these officers have been chosen and their salaries fixed; the highest being Lancaster, $1,500, and the lowest Greene, $262. Bucks, Chester, Schuylkill, Washington and Allegheny, (shame on her!) pay $1,000 each; Erie, Franklin and Montgomery $600 each; Westmoreland $550, four Counties $500, three $400, one $350, and four $300. Of course, at such rates, either 1. Feeble men are appointed, and the office nothing; or 2. Capable men are chosen, who are not expected to devote their time to their work; or 3. Good men are expected to give their services for half their value for the sake of the cause. In either case, the policy is shabby, short-sighted and eminently Pennsylvanian.—Allegheny and Lancaster can better afford to pay $2,000 a year than any smaller sum, Chester, Montgomery and Bucks want men with brains, at least $1,6000, and cannot afford to take an inferior article; while Erie, Fayette, Beaver, Westmoreland, Franklin, &c., should have chosen men worth at least $1,000. Only think of Dauphin, the metropolitan County, including a city of at least 10,000 inhabitants, appointing a County Superintendent of Schools at the magnificent salary of $262 a year! No wonder the State is sold out three or four times a year by her legislators when popular ignorance is thus cherished.—N. Y. Tribune.

EXECUTION OF A FRAUDULENT BANKRUPT.—A recent number of the London Dispatch contains an account of what is called "the execution of a Bankrupt"—a merchant of Hamburgh, who had lately suspended payment and absconded with all his assets. The mode of "execution" was by elevating—over the principal gateway of the Bourse, a black-board, on which was painted in white letters, the name of the merchant. The penalty of disgrace, called the "execution of a fraudulent bankrupt," is ordained by a law which can be traced to the 14th century, when the Hanseatic league was at the heighth of its greatness. At that period, however, the bankrupt's patent of citizenship and his certificate as a merchant were also burnt by the hangman.

In England, however, it was formerly a more serious affair, and fraudulent bankrupts were actually executed at the gallows, the last case on record being that of John Perrot, a fraudulent bankrupt who was executed at Smithfield, London, November 11th, 1701. The bankrupt law of England, although much modified of late years, is still very severe in its penal enactments against fraudulent bankrupts.—Albany Register.

IOWA.—The Whigs of the IId District of Iowa, in Convention in Iowa City, have nominated JAS. THORINGTON, Esq., of Davenport, a thorough-going Anti-Nebraska man, as a candidate for Congress, in the place of the Hon. I. P. Cook, who declines a re-election. Anti-Nebraska is the single-handed contest now before the people of Iowa, and upon that issue alone, the gentlemen composing the Whig and Independent tickets are to be elected, "notwithstanding lamentations here or elsewhere."—N. Y. Tribune.

The best evidence that can be adduced in favor of the efficaciousness of Hoofland's German Bitters appeared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, is the unprecedented demand for them from all parts of the Union; although there may be many compounds prepared and represented as being worthy of a liberal patronage, yet we feel constrained to remark, that the vast number of testimonials with which the worthy doctor has been honored, by persons of the highest character and respectability, who found it necessary to have recourse to his preparation, is testimony sufficiently conclusive, that a more effectual remedy for the almost immediate relief of those afflicted with that direful malady, dyspepsia, has never been discovered.

Indigestion and Liver Complaint Cured
BY KIER'S PETROLEUM.—Read the following letter from Rev. O. Dickerman, a Missionary in Oregon:

MR. S. M. KIER—Dear Sir—Myself and wife having been greatly benefited by the use of your PETROLEUM, I wish to have you send me a box of two or three dozen bottles.

Mrs. D. was afflicted with the Liver Complaint, and several of my people are afflicted with indigestion and an inaction of the liver, for which they have used your PETROLEUM, OR ROCK OIL, with the best results. Several families—two or three each—about a year and a half ago, and since that time, I myself and wife have used it for years. Since that time, I had not taken a single bottle before the present year, during which we discovered the impurities we relieved, and I have felt nothing of it since that time. I have also relieved from a circular disease of the liver, which had been of several years standing, by the use of your Petroleum.

Indigestion and Liver Complaint Cured
BY KIER'S PETROLEUM.—Read the following letter from Rev. O. Dickerman, a Missionary in Oregon:

MR. S. M. KIER—Dear Sir—Myself and wife having been greatly benefited by the use of your PETROLEUM, I wish to have you send me a box of two or three dozen bottles.

Mrs. D. was afflicted with the Liver Complaint, and several of my people are afflicted with indigestion and an inaction of the liver, for which they have used your PETROLEUM, OR ROCK OIL, with the best results. Several families—two or three each—about a year and a half ago, and since that time, I myself and wife have used it for years. Since that time, I had not taken a single bottle before the present year, during which we discovered the impurities we relieved, and I have felt nothing of it since that time. I have also relieved from a circular disease of the liver, which had been of several years standing, by the use of your Petroleum.

Shoulder Braces and Chest Expanders.

"Be particular in procuring the kind mentioned, as many of the Braces sold are humbugs."

[From the Pittsburgh Daily Dispatch, Feb. 24, 1853.]

AN EXCELLENT ARTICLE.—Persons who have acquired a stooping position, by following a sedentary occupation will experience great relief by the use of the "Washington Suspender Brace," made and sold by Dr. KEYSER, corner of Wood street and Virgin alley. It answers for a brace and suspenders, the weight of the pantaloons is so placed as to continually tend to bring the shoulders to their natural position, and expand the chest. We purchased one some time ago, and have been so pleased with it that we unsolicited gave it a "puff" gratis.

Women, hundreds of whom are annually injured by the weight of enormous "skirts," should also procure these braces. Be particular in procuring the kind mentioned, as many of the braces sold are humbugs.

Sold wholesale and retail at the Drug Store of George H. Keyser, No. 140, corner Wood st. and Virgin alley.

Invalids recovering from the effects of Fever, Bilious Diseases, or continued illness of any kind, will find Carter's Spanish Mixture the only remedy which will restore their drooping constitutions, relieve all bad humors from the blood, excite the liver to a prompt and healthy action, and by its tonic properties, restore the patient to life and vigor.

We can only say TRY IT. A single bottle is worth all the so-called Sarsaparillas in existence. It contains no Mercury, Opium, or any other noxious or poisonous drug, and can be given to the youngest infant without hesitation.

See the certificates of wonderful cures around the bottle. More than five hundred persons in the city of Richmond, Va., can testify to its good effects.
