WHERE ARE THE SOUTHERN WHIGS TO GO!— The suggestion of the Petersburgh, Va., Intelli-geneer to hold a Southern. Whig Convention, is thus responded to by the Columbus, Ga., Enqui-

"There is evidently before us, and not far dis-tant in the fature, a fierce and heavy struggle. The tide of anti-lavery feeling is: now rolling and will submerge the entire North. Its banefal currents will then be turned and di-specified.

"Let it be for advisement and consultation, and for the purpose of agreeing on the best and most acceptable and patriotic plans of defeating the ends, and overthrowing the designs, of consolidated northern fanaticism. The Whig Senatoria Constitution of the constitution of t tors and Representatives in Congress have an op-portunity readily to interchange views and opin-ions, and it will be gratifying to us, and doubt-less also to the whole of their constituency, to have their convictions of our duty and policy is the present condition of affairs. We shall there fore take the liberty to suggest, if propriety per-mit, that they meet and confer, and unite in reending to the South a platform for practi-

Northern Whigs to do? Ought they not to take some means to secure concert of action and harmony of views? The greatest obstacle now in the way of a union of all the Anti-Nebraska ele-ments in the North is the want of a concert of Soilers and the opponents of slavery among Demright as far as Nebraska is concerned, but they anits their political views with the Northern Whig party. They want to see the new platform of the party, to know what has been taken away what security they will have, that some future political compromise will not unite the divided Whigs, and place them on a platform they abhor, as was done in Baltimore, in 1852. The Democratic Anti-Slavery men wish to know whether they are to be dragged on to a platform of exploled measures, and made to sacrifice long-cherished political predilections. Whige, Free Soilers, Democrats, Natives, all wish to know whether the platform of the new party-the Northern hosts enposed to the further encroachments of elevery to stand upou. All these are agreed in one grand sentiment, to wit:-that slavery shall not be extended beyond its present recognized limits-that no free territory shall be doomed to alavery by any action of the general government, direct or indirect—that in all future acquisitions m-that the government shall be administered to promote freedom and to check the growth of the great evil-of slavery. On such a platform as this can be rallied a powerful Northern Parts This will not require a Democrat to endorse a tariff or a bank, or a Whig to go for certain Free Soil opinions he may consider untimely

This brings us to the point at which we set bring the matter to the attention of the House out, which is, what ought Northern Whigs to do? and ask for some action on its part to windleat ern parties opposed to slavery encroachment, it over to John Wentworth, and belched out upo s proper that it should take the initiative step him a stream of such disgusting ribaldry

THE DISEUPTION OF THE WHIG PARTY .- The Northern Whigs accept this disruption coolly brought upon the House could not but soon de-and quietly, as a matter of course. The party was really sundered at the Baltimore Convention ected with scorn by more than three-fourths of project dear to slavery. the Northern Whigs. The finishing blow was,

Indeed, we have seen but one suggestion of any basis upon which they can be re-united, and that upon the basis of the re-enactment of the Alissouri Compromise. That proposition is simply impossible.

Stany Bouthern Whigs have regretted the introduction of the subject. Some might have voted against the repeat of the Compromise, but none can advocate its restoration. That basis of adjustment being then impracticable, we see no other, it must then be as our former associates will it. We must in future regard them as ates will it. We must in future regard them as we do other political organizations which exist amongst us, and regulate our relations with them accordingly. We must in future regard them as political organizations which exist

In the next day's issue the Patriot reverts to the same subject again, and after giving a history of the Southern Whig party, in which Northern Whigs come in for a large share of abuse, the independence of the Southern Whigs of all connaction with their Northern brothren is declared as follows: The Southern Whigs have been thus in obscu-

FROM WASHINGTON.

Correspondence of the Pittaburgh Daily Gazette WASHINGTON CITY, JUNE 20. There was a Congressional fight to-day. I was highly characteristic of Southern manners. Churchwell of Tennessee had made a speech on the Nebraska bill a month ago, in which he had made some peculiarly false and ungenerous im utations upon Senator Bell, and his colleague y putations upon Senator Bell, and his colleagues of Cullum, Taylor and others in the House. He had labored to excite against them the fanatical prejudices of their constituents, by falsely assessed that they were congratulated by such abolitionists as Giddings, Gerritt Smith, and believe the state of t Cullum, Taylor and others in the House. He ffence he was in Ohio. The encounter was of Churchwell's own seeking, and he was deeply

I say this is characteristic of Southern man-Slavorroy is humbled or subdued, and when ners. Those terrible and bloody street fights—slavery contents itself with the legal position and precisely this way. A man having made up his mind to murder another for some real or fancied ties it enjoys in the States where it exists, be necessary to be done to free the National wrong, generally, as in this case, a verbal affront, Government from all responsibility and connecup to his victim, calls him a liar or coward, and if he at a time. A great crisis is impending. The emergency will admit of no delay. The dictate of patriotism is union for the sake of freedom.

Let all make sacrifices for this purpose, and the sacrifices for this purpose, and the distance of Representatives this morning.

Mr. Millson said he should to-morrow morning In order to bring about this concert of action its dignity. But nothing was done. In fact one and union of which we have been speaking, let of Millson's own colleagues committed two outus have a delegated Convention of the Whigs of rages of nearly the same character during the the Free States. Being the largest of the North-Nebraska contest. Edmondson left his seat, went in this great work. If such a Convention shall d-d thief, d-d scoundrel, concluding with dopt a broad and liberal platform, there will a threat to cane him if he attered a word. Now beno difficulty in gathering upon it the whole of | so far from the Southern members and the Ne brasks party being at all scandalized by such The call for such a Convention would properly ruffinnism, they rejoiced at it in little knots and come from the Whig members of Congress from clubs all over the House, and were glad that the free States. Let them agree upon the time John Wentworth had been insulted. And again and place, and address the Whigs of the North on the same evening, this same man assaulted upon the subject, and the proposal will be hailed Mr. Campbell of Ohio, threatened to "whip him," and as many supposed, attempted to draw a knife upon him. No notice whatever was taken of this conduct, although the degradation thus this conduct, although the degradation thus brought upon the House could not but soon destroy its character as a deliberative body, but the scoret of the perfect indifference then manifested was that the violence excited was in favor of a project dear to slavery.

The Endange, Colo, Elocks, Eastern and Western Time Blills, and Prunissory Notes allow 5 per cent on Time Deposition of the English Strick Courses, Courses, Capital, Strick, Colon, Colo The singular apathy of both Houses, as re-

however, given by the Nebraska bill. No hope of union could exist after that outrage. The Southern Whigs, however, display more feeling and unreasiness. A strong writer in the St. Louis Intelligence proposes to Southern Whigs to unite with their Northern brethren on a platform demanding the repeal of the Nebraska bill. The Baltimore Patriot objects to this. It was been avoided. Not only has there been avoided. Not only has there been ittle sympathy for some years between the northern whigs at the dissolution of the party. Indeed, we have soen but one suggestion of any basis upon which they can be re-united, and that upon the basis of the re-enactment of the Alissouri Compromise, but none can adrocate its restoration. That basis of adjustment being then impreciated, we see no rether, it made the contingent the repeal of the Compromise, but none can adrocate its restoration. That basis of adjustment being then impreciated, we see no cother, it must then be as our former.

The House to-day by a spasmodic effort passed the Minnesota land bill, which donates a million of acres of land for a railroad through a wilderless region between Galens in Illinois and Fond du Lac on Lake Superior, a distance of two or three hundred miles. . It is a bad bill, entirely eded by the wants of the territory, and I fear passed by corrupt means. In fact I have no doubt that many members gave their votes in consideration of certain advantages in the location of lands along the line of the contemplated improvement. I hope it may be otherwise, but the sudden turn of about twenty-five votes gives color to the supposition.

And now it is to be feared that the whole batch

In this connection we may state that the New York Tribune a few days ago quoted $12 as the retail price of flour in that city. Those who buy by the single barrel here will see that there is a wide margin between the retail rates in the two cities.
