THE WHIG PARTY.

The effort which has been made throughout the North to bring together men of all parties into a hearty co-operation against the schemes of slavery aggression carried on under the patronage of the National Administration, has alarmed a portion of the Southern Whigs as well as the Democratic party generally. The more sensible part of the Southern Whigs saw, at the time, that the effect of the passage of the Nebraska bill would be to rupture the bond of union heretofore existing between the Northern and Southern wings of the party. It was an end to the national organization of that party. Northern Whigs, united to a man against the Nebraska bill and in favor of repealing its slavery-extending provisions, could not be expected to co-operate with Southern Whigs who were nearly unanimous in favor of the bill and altogether unanimous against the repeal of any part of it. The only course left open to either was to find more congenial elements of association. A large portion of our former Southern brethren have found congeniality in the Democratic party, and Northern Whigs have generally, so far, welcomed a union with all who think that the legitimate purpose of our government is to foster liberty instead of slavery.

But there is a class of Southern Whigs not willing to give up the dream of a National Whig party. They cannot see why the Nebraska bill should sever old subsisting bonds. They cannot find rest in the Democratic ranks, and cling to the old Whig organization as their only hope. They ask and expect Northern Whigs to forego all alliance with anti-slavery men of other parties, and look for companionship and counsel to their Southern brethren alone. A few (very few) Northern Whig presses concur in this view.

The Democratic party, too, both North and South, is heartily opposed to any fusion of anti-administration elements at the North. That party finds the Whig National organization much easier to beat than any party consolidated out of new elements is likely to be; and hence it vastly prefers that things should remain as they were than as they are likely to be. It is the interest of the slaveholders to have the Northern Whigs crippled by a useless allinnce with a hopeless Southern minority. Hear what the Richmond Enquirer says on this subject:

> "We have nothing to gain, but much to lose, from the dissolution of the Whig party; and if we carefully consider our position we will be less disposed to exult than to mourn over that event. The real vitality and efficiency of the Whig party are not in the least impaired by the secession of the Whigs of the South, but, on the contrary, positively and imminently increased. Their strength is latterly concentrated and consolidated, being utterly based on no effect in national contests, being utterly overwhelmed by the irresistible power of Southern Democracy. They have been a source of weakness, in so far as they restrained their Northern allies from adopting issues and appealing to the passions which would have given them an indisputable preponderance in the North. By the separation, therefore, the bulk of the Whig party remains intact, unfettered by an incongruous alliance and at full liberty to reinforce itself by recruits from the Abolitionists.".

This is, every word of it, true. We are not surprised at the anxiety of the Democratic organ of Virginia to persuade the Whigs of the South to endeavor to maintain their connection with their Northern allies, and grapple on to them like a fire-ship to a man-of war. So long as that connection exists Democracy is sure to triumph; the moment it is broken, defeat to that party is certain. The only result, therefore, to be attained by holding on to the old state of things is to throw success into the lap of the enemy, and this that enemy is candid enough to avow.

The great objection urged to a fusion of Northern elements is that it will result in the formation of a Northern or Sectional party. Suppose it should; what then? It would be sectional only as to the limits of its organization. Its purposes and principles need not be—will not be, sectional, but national in the broadest sense. It will present a broad platform embracing every true national interest; and if the South refuses to accept it, it is she who, by so refusing, will give to the movement a sectional aspect.

But if this were not so, and if it were true that the purpose of present northern movements is to create a northern party, what right has the South to complain? The people and politicians of that section are now, to all intents and purposes, a sectional party, bent on Southern aggrandizement at the expense of national honor and national interests. Nay, more; the Democratic party, as it now exists, is a sectional party in the most extended sense of that word. Its whole policy is south rn, and all its aims are the same. It is the great Slavery party of the country and prides itself on its subservience to southern interests. It hunts out new methods of conciliating southern support, and stops not at trampling on time-honored compacts to attain that end. The only antagonist to such a party, therefore, that can be successful, must be one that will build its platform on the corner-stone of the Constitution and aim to promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to all who come under the shadow of that benign instrument.

The general desire expressed in all parts of this State to unite all the opponents of the pro-slavery administrations of Pierce and Bigler in support of Judge Pollock, and the steps taken to bring about a co-operation to that end, have been met, as was to have been expected, by counter efforts on the part of both Democrats and Southern Whigs. Special emissaries have been dispatched from Washington City to Philadelphia to prevent the Whig State Committee from taking any step that would result in establishing the entente cordiale between the combined forces of the opposition; and no stone will be left unturned by them. How far they will succeed remains to be seen. For ourselves we feel impelled to say that any attempt to rally the Whig party of the North or of Pennsylvania on the Baltimoro Platform of 1852 will be futile, as it ought to be—The Whigs of the North never approved of that platform, and we hope never will. They were so much attached to the candidate presented with it that they submitted to it for his sake, but they never endorsed it, and they spit upon it now with a hundred fold more contempt than they did then. There is no more certain road to defeat and annihilation than to attempt to rally a national Whig party on any such basis. If there are Whigs who cannot tolerate opposition to Southern aggression, let those who would conciliate them by spurning an alliance with independent citizens of other parties remember that there are other Whigs who will tolerate no concession to the sectionalism of the South. So far as Western Pennsylvania is concerned, the Whig party is unanimous in demanding that the bond of fellowship shall be held out to all who are willing to co-operate against Slavery-propagandism; and it remains for those to whom the destinies of the party have been entrusted to say whether they will seek success by this means, or defeat by striving to retain a few timid conservatives and the worthless co-operation of Southern Whigs. Shall we march up, with the rest of the north, to the defence of liberty, or become the mere adjuncts of a Democratic victory?

REVIVAL OF THE SLAVE TRADE.—The Charleston Mercury, a leading and influential Southern paper, devotes a long article to a defence of the Slave trade and the proposition to revive it. We extract one or two paragraphs:

"In our opinion, the time has come, when the slave trade should be discussed with other lights, and a higher argument than it has been hitherto. For three quarters of a century it has been the theme of vapid declamation and shallow humanity. The world has heard of nothing but its abuses and horrors, themselves produced by the legislation which aimed to suppress it. But of the great blessings it has secured, the civilization it has extended, the part it has performed in the cause of christianity and progress, there has been scarcely a word. All has been fanatical rant and denunciation, and the question itself has been abandoned to the management of mere zealots, whose philanthropy sprung from vanity, and a recklessness of the interests of others.

* * * * * * *

"It would be impossible here to enter into an elaborate defence of the slave trade. A few suggestions however, will point the current of our opinions. The slave trade introduced a race of savages into contact with civilization and christianity. By this change, the most degraded, inhuman and disgusting of God's creatures, are transformed and regenerated. It does not find the African a free man, and reduce him into bondage. But in his native jungles he is a slave utterly at the mercy of his brutal masters. Those who are sold to the slave-dealers are, for the most part, captives in war, whom the victorious chief prefers to sell rather than massacre, as he has a right to, and would do. None then but the most prejudiced and ignorant dare deny that it is a mercy to the savage and enslaved African to fall into the hands of civilized man, to exchange Africa for America—the bloody and capricious despotism of a barbarian color, for the mild rule of the white master. True, there has always been much to shock, in the details of the slave trade, but it arose not so much from its own nature, as from the influence of fanaticism. And its worst horrors scarcely surpassed instances in the Emigrant trade and Coolie traffic, now openly and extensively carried on under the flag of England and America."

We find these paragraphs in the Baltimore American, a journal which affects to treat them as ridiculous, and as representing no important share of southern opinion. We entertain a different view. The initiation of the task of reviving the slave trade must, of course, be left to the ultra among southern men; but the proposition will gradually gain adherents throughout the south, until it embraces all classes whose co-operation is desirable. Even now it is urged boldly in several quarters; and instead of being confined, for supporters, to the fanatic class, it will be found to enlist a much larger number of advocates than is generally supposed. The scheme now pending in the Senate to withdraw the American squadron from the African coast, so as to leave the slave trade without let or hindrance, has ardent and persevering friends in that body, and will be pressed with all the energy they can command.

We allude to this matter, now, because the attempt is making all around us to delude the Northern people into the belief that nothing of the kind is contemplated and that they may rest secure from all apprehension. A certain class of papers, a few of which is to be found among the Whigs, take great pains to represent the South as harboring no schemes of aggression. The Nebraska bill, they assure us, was forced on them by Northern demagogues, and they accepted it as a boon not to be refused; but they did not ask or desire it, we are told, and are the most inoffensive and chivalric (and all that) people in the world. The object of these rigmaroles is to preserve national political organizations intact, and keep the live men of the North from unharnessing the dead body to which they have been so long tied. Let them keep their eyes open, lest they be deceived with smooth words.

The Post of yesterday makes a bold bid for the Catholic vote. Catholic churches have been injured or destroyed, lately, in Massachusetts and Maine; the Know Nothings did it, of course: the Whigs and Know Nothings are going to be fused; therefore, oh Catholics! come to the arms of the Post and the Democratic party! It makes but little difference that the facts of the Post are manufactured for the occasion; where so much affection is evinced the Catholics ought to return it. Rush into the loving embrace of brother Gilmore—do!

It was this heedless appeal to the Catholic influence, by the democrats, which defeated Judge Campbell when he ran for Supreme Judge. The people would not tolerate pandering to a particular religious influence, then; will they now? We shall see.

MICHIGAN.—A great outcry is made by the locofoco papers because the Detroit Advertiser, a conservative Whig sheet, will not support the Fusion movement in that State. The opposition of the Advertiser is to be regretted, but will be of little avail. The masses are against it.

The plea of the Advertiser is that the Free Soilers monopolised the Convention at Jackson, and that six of the ten nominees are Free Soilers. The Detroit Tribune, however, states that two-thirds of the Convention were Whigs; a majority of the Committee which selected the ticket was Whig; and of the ten nominees six are Whigs, two free soilers, and two democrats.

The Pennsylvanian notes the appointment by the President of JOSEPH MCKIBBEN as Commissioner of Public Buildings at San Francisco. The appointee is a son of Chambers McKibben, formerly of this city, and a leading democrat. He was, not long since, very cool in his support of Bigler, and rather partial to his defeat than otherwise—but that was before his son received this appointment.

The condition and prospects of California so far as her mineral resources are concerned were never better than they are at present. Tales that appear almost fabulous, reach us every day from all parts of the mining region, and the idea that the mines of California are nearly exhausted, as some of the Atlantic papers have been speculating is most conclusively falsified. Never since the first discovery and working of the gold placers of our State has there been such a general and uniform success as there appears to be now. Water has been introduced into nearly every portion of the mining districts by canals and ditches dug from neighboring streams, so that the miners have a sure dependence, and are not obliged as formerly to spend a large portion of the year in piling up and gathering earth, to be kept till the winter rains should come before the gold could be extracted. Recent discoveries of great richness have been made, and new fields opened for the enterprise of miners and traders.

Agriculturally, our state is also prosperous. Much attention has been paid to the raising of wheat, oats, and barley, and flouring mills are being established in every portion of the State, turning out an article of flour unsurpassed by any in the world. In some portions of the State the wheat has been effected with the smut, but this is by no means general, and the wheat crops of the present season will be much larger than it ever has been before. Of barley and oats it is confidently expected we shall raise a sufficient quantity to supply the demand for the next year. —California Chronicle.

THE PEOPLE'S CONVENTION.—The Albany Evening Journal contains a call for a county meeting on the 28th inst. to elect twenty delegates from Albion county to the anti-Douglas State Convention at Saratoga on the 10th of August. Among the signers we remark the names of Bradford R. Wood (Dem.) and John L. Schoolcraft, ex-Members of Congress from that District; Robert H. Pruyn, late Speakers Ira Harris, Supreme Judge; James Kidd, B. H. Hammond, and W. Lacy of the late Legislature; George Dawson, F. W. Seward, and V. Ten Eyck of the Evening Journal; Oscar Tyler, Amos Dean, H. B. Haswell, Hamilton Harris, Thos. W. Olcott, John K. Porter, Jesse Buel, Calvin Beffer, Oliver Steele, and many others widely and favorably known. Albany will be strongly represented in the Freemen's Convention.—N. Y. Trib.

BALTIMORE, July 10.—The Superintendent of the Susquehanna Railroad was arrested to-day on a charge of manslaughter, growing out of the recent Railroad disaster.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The seven million Mexican Draft, to carry out the Gadsden Treaty, was paid this morning.

ALBANY, July 11.—A most destructive fire occurred last evening in the village of Coxsackie, about 22 miles south of this, near the Hudson river. The village is entirely in ruins, three hotels and the post office having shared in the devastation. The loss is estimated at about seventy-five thousand dollars.

WASHINGTON, Monday, July 10.

Hon. John McKeon, was nominated and confirmed, to-day, United States District Attorney for New York. Alas! poor Mr. Westbrook.

Charles Weller, a brother of Senator Weller, was nominated and confirmed Postmaster at San Francisco.

Ex-Senator Clemens has addressed a letter to the Chairman of the Committee of Investigation, as Attorney for Colt's patent extension, asking an examination relative to the bribery charges, but begging the Committee not to go into the Nebraska swindle, as delay would prove injurious to his client.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Barnum has sent in his resignation as President of the N. Y. Crystal Palace Company, and this is regarded as its final end.

It has been doing miserable for some time, not paying expenses on any day. How its affairs are to be settled up is not yet known.

WASHINGTON, Monday July 10.—John McKeon has to-day been nominated and confirmed as District-Attorney for the Southern District of New York. Westbrook is smarting under this infliction. Walker of New York city worked like a beaver for McKeon, and expressed the opinion that his appointment would secure the great body of the Hards for the Administration and re-elect himself to Congress. The Adamantines here say that this petty arrangement will be scornfully repudiated by the people. Mr. Marcy strongly opposed the nomination of Westbrook. He prefered Shepard, but Cass went warmly for McKeon.

The Reciprocity treaty is still with the Committee.

I am able to assure you that notwithstanding all hindrances and difficulties, the fillibuster leaders at New Orleans are still confident they will get off with their expedition by the 10th of September. The recent farce in the U. S. Court will be an advantage to the scheme and its chieftains. —N. Y. Tribune.

We learn from Washington that John McKeon was yesterday nominated and confirmed as District-Attorney for New-York in place of Charles O'Conor resigned. It is a good appointment in itself: Mr. McKeon, though a strenuous partisan, is a man of eminent ability and high character. But we are not aware that he is a great admirer or a zealous supporter of Mr. Pierce and his behaviour since he has occupied the Presidency. The appointment is evidently intended to placate the Adamantines; we shall see how it works.

Mr. Theodore R. Westbrook, a very small patriot of a Congressman from Ulster in this state, is in the pouts most bitterly disappointed by his choice of Mr. McKeon. There seems to be no doubt that Westbrook had the express promise of the office from the President, in consideration of which he sold himself and betrayed his constituents by voting for the repeal of the Missouri Compromise.

—There have evidently been over issues of Nebraska stock, as well as of the other fancies, and poor Westbrook has been taken in by the bogus article.—N. Y. Tribune.

CUBA.—The Washington Union has re-opened the Cuban question. In an article on Saturday it again intimates that the Administration are carrying on negotiations for the purchase of the Island, and that if these are unsuccessful war must be resorted to.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge—Another Medical Witness—it is no small evidence of the intrinsic value of this great Vermifuge, when even physicians, who are generally prejudiced against patent medicines, voluntarily come forward and testify to its triumphant success in expelling worms. Read the following:

J. Kidd & Co.—I am a practising physician, residing permanently in this place. In the year 1850, when I resided in the State of Delaware, I became acquainted with the superior virtues of Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge. At some more than ordinary expense, I (as a matter of business) made it known with one vial, in expelling upwards of 900 worms.

Myer's Extract of Rock Rose, an invaluable Remedy for all

Scrofulous Diseases, Indigestion, Chronic and Acute Diarrhœa, Bowel Complaint or Dysentery, Bilious Diseases, Cutaneous Eruptions, Liver Complaint, Chronic and Acute Rheumatism, Salt Rheum, Sick Headache, Canker, Nursing Sore Mouth, and Debility.

And as a Purifier of the Blood, is unequaled.

From the New Haven Palladium.

☞ Frost Worker Rock Rose.—A medicine under the title of "Rock Rose," made from a plant of that name by Mr. Myer, a great run in this vicinity for its curative properties. The cry of "quack," so truly applicable to at least ope half of the medicines of the day, cannot be justly applied to the Rock Rose, for it has "made its mark" in this city and vicinity, to the relief and cure of sufferers, to whom other remedies have failed—and what is quite remarkable, some of our best physicians do not hesitate to speak very favorably of the compound. The certificates of cures are not fictitious, but from highly respectable persons, most of whom are well known to us. The manufacturer is also well known to us as a gentleman who would not be engaged in a humbug, or in deceiving the public in any way.—Pal. Intelligencer.

We cheerfully endorse the above, having witnessed its good effect ourselves on pulmonary and scrofulous complaints. We believe it is the best compound for colds and coughs, extant. The Rock Rose has long been known as a plant of great medicinal virtue, and its preparation is superintended by a gentleman of ability and character, in this city.—N. H. Register.

NEW HAVEN, Dec. 20, 1851.

This is to certify that the notice of the Rock Rose medicine published in our paper in connection with one from the Palladium, was not only unsolicited, but was written by the editor of his own judgment and belief.

OSBORN & MORRIS.

PALLADIUM OFFICE, New Haven, Dec. 22, 1851.

This will certify that the favorable notice of the medicine known as the "Rock Rose," was a voluntary testimonial. Indeed by the writer's knowledge of the effects of the article in certain cases, as well as by the favorable opinions which others well known to him, had expressed of it; and furthermore, the article was written with, out pay or the promise of payment, or the knowledge of the manufacturer.

"SCROFULA."

MYERS' EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE.

This wonderful medicine is fast gaining for itself a popularity which defies other medicines to beat. The plant, Rock Rose, is used and recommended by many eminent physicians of our country. Hear what J. H. Thompson, of Philadelphia says: "I have prescribed it in bad cases of scrofulous patients at Wills Hospital. His success attracted the attention of scrofulous physicians He reports the following remarkable case of Wh te Swelling of the right hip, in February, 1854. The lad was 7 years old, and had the disease for 3 years, the knee at a right angle and drawn backwards. There was a large opening on the hip leading to the bone, into which I could thrust my finger. I counted 3 sloughs. He had been under several physicians, who had given him up. I ordered a decoction of Rock Rose—in two days his night sweats ceased, I then ordered a tea spoonful of Rock Rose, three times a day. Thirty nine days after he was entirely well.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—These great scourges of our people cannot be too well understood, or the means of averting or curing them too highly appreciated. The person who discovers any means of cure or alleviation, confers a benefit upon his fellows, and is deserving of honor. This desirable consummation has been achieved, and not only may dyspepsia be cured, but it may be prevented, by the use of "Hoofland's German Bitters," prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia, which medicine is spoken of in terms of the highest commendation by thousands who have tested its efficacy. It is perfectly innocuous in its nature, and possesses the valuable property of improving the health of the robust, as well as restoring the health of the sick.

The appointment is evidently intended to placate the Adamantines; we shall see how it works.

I would also caution the public against the use of an excellent Truss for Children which invariably effects cures in a very short time.

N. B.—I also keep on hand and for sale a large assortment of Shoulder Braces of the most improved kind, the choice of Mr. McKeon. There seems to be no doubt that Westbrook had the express promise of the office from the President, in consideration of which he sold himself and betrayed his constituents by voting for the repeal of the Missouri Compromise.

—There have evidently been over issues of Nebraska stock, as well as of the other fancies, and poor Westbrook has been taken in by the bogus article.—N. Y. Tribune.

CUBA.—The Washington Union has re-opened the Cuban question. In an article on Saturday it again intimates that the Administration are carrying on negotiations for the purchase of the Island, and that if these are unsuccessful war must be resorted to.

Indigestion and Liver Complaint Cured
BY KIRBY'S PETROLEUM.—Read the following letter from Rev. O. Dickerson, a Missionary in Oregon:

MR. S. M. KIRBY—Dear Sir—Myself and wife having been greatly benefitted by the use of your Petroleum, I wish to say to you that one or two of three dozen bottles, I am the Congregational Minister in this place, and because of my position as such, I have been acquainted with the case of the lady, the cause of myself and wife, before taking your PETROLEUM OR ROCK OIL. It took several bottles—two or three each—about a year and a half ago, and we have never enjoyed so good health by years as we have since. Many of those I have talked with, and whose cases that fullness of the stomach which so distresses the dyspeptic was relieved by taking one bottle of the Petroleum. My wife was also relieved from a chronic disease of the liver, which had been of several years standing, by the use of your Petroleum.

Sold by S. M. KIRBY, Canal Basin, GEO. H. KEYSER, 140 Wood st., Irwin, and Medicine Dealers everywhere.

Dr. Morse's Invigorating Elixir or CORDIAL.—If it is inquired how this great restorative is accomplishing such extraordinary cures, we can only reply that in the Arabian herb that forms its cardinal ingredient have been blended by the Omnipotent Physician, a larger share of the greater varieties of curative properties than had heretofore been supposed to exist in a hundred different articles of the pharmacopœia. A whole medicine chest of remedies, so to speak, seems to have been combined in this herb; and in the ELIXIR or CORDIAL we have their concentrated essence. It is the effect, however, not the cause with which we have to deal in the practical application of the medicine. The victims of dyspepsia are cured, the sufferers from liver complaint are relieved, the half-paralyzed resume their active duties, the sufferers from headache are tormented no more the weak become vigorous, the tint of jaundice leaves the complexion of the bilious, the depressed in spirits become buoyant, the fire in the blood in every condition of disease receive immediate benefit from the use of Dr. Morse's Invigorating Elixir or Cordial. These facts, supported by irrefragable proof, are presented to the attention of Invalids, who can verify them by a single bottle of the medicine, and if that is put up highly concentrated, in spirituous form. Price three dollars per bottle, two for five dollars, six for twelve dollars.
