Secretary by the property of the control of the con that the foul attempt will not succeed. If the mantle of the departed Adams, who breathed out his great soul within the walls of the Capitol, has fallen upon any successor, it cannot:

We are indebted to Adams Empress for full files of California papers.

THE WHIGS OF THE NORTH AND THE SOUTH -The Louisville Journal would gladly preserve the National Whig party, and it racks its brains to discover some plan by which its object can be effected. It has finally come to the following

"If the Whigs of the North shall be willing to let the southern Whigs think, and feel, and to let the southern Whige think, and feel, an speak, and rote as they please upon the Nebrask law, and if the southern Whige shall cheefall accord the same freedom to their norther brethren, we see no reason why the great Whi party of the nation cannot be as harmonious in all future elections as it has been in any pas-

"O most lame and impotent conclusion." I ion will agree to ignore as a national question the most important and vital question before the nation, the one paramount to all others, then the National Whig organization can others, then the Marional wing organization can be maintained! What a ridiculous proposition. Of what benefit would be such an organization, and if the party was successful, what would be the result but the further humiliation of the North, and the triumph of Slavery? No. no. We want no organization on such a basis. We must have a cordial agreement upon a national platform of principles, embracing at least the the Missouri Compromise and the rejection of Kansas as a slave State, or there of the North and the South. Will the Whies of the South agree to this? Will they agree to the platform of the Whigs of Pennsylvania? No. How is it possible, then, that there can be any

Dr. Morse's Invigorating Elizir of ORBIAL—If it is inquired now this great yeatorstire is accomplishing such extraordinary cure, we do notly reply that to the Arabian bort that form its cardinal ingredient have been blended by the Omnipotent Physician, a larger amount and greater varieties of curative reoperties than back haretofore been cupposed to exist in abundred different articles of the pharmscopeds. A whole medicine cheet of remedies, so to speak, seems to have been combined in this herb; and in the RIJKIR or OORDIAI we have their concurrinted essence. It is the effect, however, not the cause berb; and in the ELIZIR or CORDIA, we have their concentrated easence. It is the effect, however, not the cause with which we have to deal in the practical application o the modified. The victims of dynepsia are cared, the norrous are relieved, the half paralyzed resume their actitir, the sufferers from head-sube are tormented no more the weak boone vigorous, the tins of insudice leaves the complexion of the billous, the derivessed in spirits become hoursant, the sick in simont in every condition of disease derive lumediate benefit from the use of Dr. Morra's In
