THE FUSION IN PENNSYLVANIA.—We were most agreeably surprised to learn by telegraph, yes-terday, that the Free Soil Mass State Convenssembled at Harrisburg, had withdrawn support of Judge Pollock. This course is eminently judicious and proper, but we had feared that the unwise policy indicated in some quarters would still have been persisted in. By this conciliatory and consistent policy the Free Soilers of this State have exhibited a liberality of sentiment, and a sincerity of motive, which does them infinite credit, and which will tend to break down all the barriers which prejudice and not a real difference of sentiment, had raised between them and the Whigs. We trust the union thus ampiciously commenced will be firmly cemented, and that a resolute and undivided front will be hereafter presented in Pennsylvania by the opponents of Slavery propagandism and aggres-

BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION IN CONGRESS.-The article on this subject, given to day, will com-mand the attention of our readers. Many of them will be surprised to learn of the systematic and extensive resort to bribery by persons who have important private bills pending. The place where bribery commences is in committees, in order to secure a favorable report. This secured, the leaders of factions and individual members the leaders of factions and individual members are set to work to manufacture public opinion. Wheedling, coaxing, feting, and downright bribery are all resorted to to say nothing of modes still more resorted to a to say nothing of modes still more detestible.

In relation to public bills supported by the administration, the corruption is mone the less, although the means are somewhat different. Cabinet Ministers pay court to members, and polite invitations to dine with the President, or to a private interview, are sent. Important offices, or fat contracts are promised, and even threats are resorted to with the timid. Accomplished and politic ladies send perfamed cards to country members inviting them to their fashionable solvees and suppers, and with blandishments and smiles lure infirm members from their duty to their constituents.

The only protection the people have against these alarming evils, is to select upright and fearless mue to represent them, and to hold them fearless men to represent them, and to hold them strictly accountable for their conduct.

Among the names of the letter writers given as accepting money to write up a public opinion, that of our old and faithful, and we may truthfully say, honest, correspondent, "Junius," does not appear. Faithful among the faithless, he stands as a stern and honest sentinel in the midst corruption and official plunder. He walks about the Capitol with a constant indignant sense of the crimes enacted in the name of libesty, and with a burning desire to rid the country of the whole brood of vampyres who prey upon the treasury, and poison the fountains legislation.

MR. WILMOT AND HIS FRIENDS:-The forcible letter of "Junius," published to-day, throws some doubt upon the reliance to be placed by the friends of freedom upon Mr. Grow, the Member of Congres from Mr. Wilmot's district. It would be a great calamity to be deceived, as one vote in the next Congress may be of the last importance. We have great confidence, however, in Mr. Wilmot. We think the lesson Frankn Pierce has taught him has cured him of party prejudices. He is undoubtedly a fast friend y prejudices. He is undountedly was of freedom, and a bitter for of slavery propanot permit an unsafe man to be elected from his district without his opposition.-If he supports Grow for a re-election, with all tanities of information, we must think that "Junius" is for once mistaken. We do not think there is the least reason to suppose, as fears, that Judge Wilmot will Bigler. He cannot do it with the least degree of consistency, in view of the fact that the State Democratic Committee has made the support of he infamous Nebraska outrage a party measure in the State contest. We have no doubt that Judge Wilmot, and the thousands of independent Democrats who think with him throughout the State, will vote for Judge POLLOCK .-This latter gentleman no longer holds the position of a Whig candidate merely. He is the can-didate of the anti-Nebraska fusion party of the State—of the people who are opposed to a breach of contracts and the extension of the foul curse of slavery. In the present aspect of affairs, if Judge Pollock is elected, which we think is quite Judge Pollock is elected, which we think is quite probable, we shall not claim the result as a Whig victory. It will not be such. We shall gladly and inclination like Grow and Drum and Trout. I do not hesitate to say that they are no more administering so deadly a blow to slavery, the just meed of praise which belongs to them.

all the administration measures and the champions of its entire policy. They are for slavery in Kansas and Nebraska and everywhere elec. They hailed the treacherous repudiation of the Missouri Compromise with screams of delight. They swear by the Greytown outrage as a glorious victory over "Jamaica niggers;" and when they hear of a live United States "nigger" dragged into bondage under the fugitive act, they are full of pious gratitude for the light in the group part of the size of all the administration measures and the champitive act, they are full of pious gratitude for the tious." patriotism and humanity which consign him to ach a fate. It is absurd then for them to keep and every honorable consideration demand, a coand every honorable consideration demand, a conumber of the president and Cabinet. It is impossible that they should long remain in political isolation. They are building a bridge to the treasury, and it would have totally changed since they were recognized as members in good standing. And the change has become as permanent as complete. It is now exactly eight years since Mr. Wilmot had the honor of initiating the great demecratic movement in Congress for preventing the extension of slavery into the territories. Aided by Brinckerhoff of Ohio, Preston King of N. Y, and a large section of pure and radical democrate, together with the entire Whig party of the North, he succeeded in procaring the adoption by the House of that celebrated declaration against Slavery extension, known as the Wilmot proviso, in August 1846. But almost instantly the slave power rallied its auxiliaries within the party. The three million bill with the proviso attached was thrown out in the Senate. The contest over the proviso continued with intense bitterness during the rest of that Congress, the democratio fragment remaining firm with the mass of the Whigs in favor of it. But Cass descrited, and the slavery element of the "demo-tributed entirely to the scarcity of water in the

There never has been a time since August 1846, when the votes of a tenth part of the Democrats in Congress could have been procured for the provise against the dictation of the executive. And the party policy in favor of Slavery has become vastly bolder and more aggressive since that time than ever before. In 1850, the fagitive act was passed,—ten millions of dollars capital to Texas, and Slavery invited into and legilized in New Mexico and Utah. In 1854 the Missouri compact was violated, and Slavery invited company has been greatly embarrassed, and that the work on the road has been asspended for some time. This has negrodered a strong troduced, so far as the power of Congress and opposition against the present resident and

To proect liberty and to secure the permanency of the Union, it is indispensable that the Democratic party Union, it is indispensable that the Democratic party should be broken to pieces. I do not eare what party triumphs in its fall, but I say there is no safety for freedom or the Union unless this monstrous league against both, be ground to powder Lamentable and humiliating as the fact must be deemed, there is not one sound and true 'Democratic' member of the House from Pennsylvania; not one whose vote could, have been recknowd upon against the Nebraska bill, had it been required to pass it. I am perfectly estimed from what I saw and heard, that Mr. Wilmor's own representative, Galusha A. Grow, was favor-

what I caw and heard, that Mr. Wilmot's representative, Galaulia A. Grow, was favorite the Nebraska bill, and that he is now decidy favorable to the main features of the fusions also as cat. If I am not mistaken he voted a suspend the rules to smooth the road, for the Nebraska bill, and that view was cancily equivalent to voting for the informy itself, since it afforded its open advocates the opportunity for passing it which they required. Again, Mr. Grow voted against leave to introduce a bill includes false, and present a superior of the continuance of that act, without essential modifications, and have good reasons for sential vor of the extension of slavery into the territories, and all for the fugitive law. Let no man deceive himself. This is to be a death struggle to liberty if it do not result in her triumph There can therefore be no middle men, like Bigfreemen of Fennsylvania, in the approaching crisis, than the weak and miserable old Straub, ELECTIONS.—The election in Vermont for State officers, and Legislature, and Members of Congress, takes place on Tuesday, Sept. 5. The election in Maine for Members of Congress, and Legislature, comes off on the following Monday, Sept. 11th. In Vermont there is no doubt that the result will be adverse to the Administration. In Maine the contest is carried on with much animation, an unusual number of candidates having been nominated for the varians offices. It is stated that the "Know Nothings" will control some ten or fifteen thousand routes. Maine has now a Whig, and Vermont a Democratic Governor.

Washington, Aug. 29, 1854.

Mr. Bronson has accepted the Hardshell nomination for the office of Governor of New York. This is fortunate. It will harden the Hardshell noming out. The fact will also tend to smoke out the Softs, or administration wing of the democracy, on the Nebraska scoundrelism. It is quite that issue, and it is equally clear that they intend, the moment they can safely do so, to proclaim their fealty to Pierce and Douglass on that as on every other question. It is plain, moreover, that the Hardshell platform is now sustained by nothing more tangible ner respectable than personal malignity. The problem are the proper and peculiar supporters of all the administration measures and the chanmist of the present. For my own part, as a Whig who, next to the protection of the Morth against the insolence and outrages of slavery, has the success of the Whig party most at beart, I would not hesitate to vote for Wilact in preference to any doughlace tool of the South. I trust that he and all disposed to act with him will instantly do containing to give effect that they are playing fast and loose on that issue, and it is equally clear that they intend the moment they can safely do so, to proclaim their fealty to Pierce and Douglass on that as on every other question.

It is plain, moreover, that the Hardshell platform is now sustained by nothing more tangible ner respectable than personal malignity. The problem are the proper and peculiar supporters of all the administration measures and the chanmiself in party alliance with the present administration measures and the chanmiself in party alliance with the present administration measures and the chanmiself in party alliance with the present administration measures and the chanmiself in party alliance with the present administration measures and the chanmiself in party alliance with the present administration between the proper and peculiar and vigorus and the whole system refreshed and irrigated and irrigated like a springed more tangele and present and manu ner respectable than personal malignity. Preston King, will break the connection and set up for themselves. It is obvious that, professing the sentiments they do, their present position is inconsistent, huntiliating and degrading.

And all this, and more, is true, of Hon. David Wilmot and his friends in Penusylvania. That gentleman and his immediate associates I believe to be sincere in their professed hatred and contempt for the proslavery policy of the democratic party. But they have allowed their political consistency to be compromised by a feeling for final trial attachment to a mere party organization. Is it not time now to leave it? The Wilmot Democratic of Pennsylvania ought to reflect that the doctrines and the measures of the party have totally changed since they were recognized as members in good standing. And the change has become as permanent as complete. It is the properties of the party have totally changed since they were recognized as members in good standing.
