The Pittsburgh Post has a most unhappy habit of saying things which have no foundation in fact. How it is able to conceive so many untrue and im obable circumstances, we cannot imagine. We do not think its editors wilfully design to deceive but they seem to have a habit of taking imagina tion for fact, a very unfortunate habit as Mr Gradgrind would say, especially where facts are the subject of discussion. An illustration of thi unfortunate habit is given in the Post of yester day, in which it is editorially asserted, that the "New York Tribune is a failing concern," and that the "proprietors lately announced that they loss money on it every week;" and that "the public is appealed to to bestow a more liberal patronage sustain it." and that ."it is now sinking mon ey and begging for support." Most extra Ty as these declarations are in relation to the Tribune, which are wholly imaginary, they are no

We learn from several friends who have just re-turned from Columbis, that on Friday evening last, about six o'clock, the cholera suddenly made its appearance in that town, and with so much virulence that during that night no less than thirty cases and ten deaths occurred. Up to yesterday morning, the total number of deaths reached forty-five: which, in a population of 4500, is in the ratio of one per centum. This extraordinary mornility is a firthbuted to the heavy minama engendered by the low stage of water in the Susquehanns river, and to the pre-alence of southerly winds. Dr. James Power, Rev. James Finley, Rev. John Clark, Rev. Dr. James Dunlap, Rev. Joseph Patterson, etc. There are lithographic portraits given of Rev. Joseph Patterson, Rev. Charles Beatty and Rev. John McMillan, and one on wood of Rev. James Hughes. There are also lithograph views of carly log churches; Sacrament mes in the woods; Dr. M'Millan's Log Cabin, lence of southerly winds. and one plate which presents in separate com-FAILURE OF THE PROTECTION INSURANCE COM partments, the original Log Cabin meeting house; the Meeting House of the second class, also logs; the Meeting House of the third class, of frame or brick, such as are now to be found i many country places, and the First Presbyteriar Church now creating in this city. The work is designed and executed with judg-ment, and evinces much research and labor.— The author deserves the thanks of the public, and especially of the friends of the Presbyterian ohurch in this region, for he has presented their with a most invaluable memorial of past times, and of pious and noble hearted men, the pion-eers of Presbyterianism in Western Pennsylvania. The following extract, giving an account of the origin of Presbyterianism in Pittsburgh, will be new to the most of our readers, and will be read with interest by all. The tribute it pays
