SUPREME COURT.—The following business was transacted in this Court yesterday:

Callender's Administrator vs the Keystone Life Insurance Company.—The following decision was given in this cause: "This cause came on to be heard at the last term of this Court at Harrisburg on a writ of error to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin county, and was argued by counsel. And now on mature deliberation, it is considered and adjudged, that there is error in the exception, that the same issued against the plaintiff to be levied out of his own effects, when it ought to have been in the form directed by law; against the assets in his hands as Administrator; and therefore the said execution is set aside at the costs of the defendants in error, and the cause is remanded to the said Court of Common Pleas."

Opinion by Justice Lowrie—Chief Justices Black and Knox dissenting.

John S. Riddle, Complainant, vs. the City of Philadelphia and the North Western Railroad Company.

John Graham, Esq., Solicitor for the North Western Railroad Company moved the Court to fix and appoint Monday, the 2d day of October next, for the hearing of the argument on the motion for a preliminary injunction. The Court ordered the hearing of said motion for that day at Pittsburgh, and direct immediate notice of the same to be served on John S. Riddle, or his Solicitors; and further order the Prothonotary of the Supreme Court for the Eastern District, to certify the record of the above case to the Prothonotary of the Western District, without delay.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—An accident of a most distressing nature occurred about half past five o'clock on Wednesday, at the second pier of the St. Clair street bridge. It appears that a lad named Samuel Carey, whose parents reside Anne street, in Allegheny city, was walking down the pier, at the upper side of the bridge, when he unfortunately lost his balance, and was precipitated on the stones at the base of the pier. His skull was crushed, his arm broken and his leg fractured so that he died almost immediately from his injuries. The deceased was about eighteen years of age, and was a sprightly boy. The practice of sliding down the pier to the river is very common among the boys of the two cities; it should be stopped immediately ere another death results from it.
