PITTSBURGH GAZETTE

PUBLISHED BY WHITE & CO.

PITTSBURGH:

THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 23, 1854

☞ To Advertisers.—Neither the Editorial Rooms or Printing Establishment of the Daily Gazette are opened Sunday. Advertisers who desire their notices to appear in the paper on Monday morning, will please hand them in before 9 o'clock, on Saturday.

☞ Pittsburgh Weekly Gazette.—The extensive circulation of our Weekly Gazette offers to our business men a most desirable medium of making their business known. Our circulation is between four and five thousand, reaching almost every merchant, manufacturer and shop-keeper in Western Pennsylvania, and Eastern Ohio.

☞ Advance Payments.—Hereafter no subscription will be taken for the Daily or Weekly Gazette, unless payment is made in advance. Whenever the time is up to which the subscription is paid, the paper will be invariably stopped, unless the subscription is renewed by advance payment. All transient advertising, of every description, will be required to be paid in advance. The only exceptions will be where special monthly or yearly contracts are made. sep1d&w

☞ Thanksgiving Day.—To enable the persons employed on this paper to unite in the solemn services of Thanksgiving Day, no paper will be published to-morrow (Friday.)

☞ Shall we have a Tariff?—Many of our readers may think it useless, because they look upon it as hopeless, to urge the cause of protection to home manufactures. But is there any reason to despair of so good a cause! If the question were left to the people to-day, we believe they would decide in favor of a Tariff for Protection. Slavery broke down the American system. But for the domination of Slavery, and the gross subserviency of party to its imperious demands, we should to-day be in the enjoyment of the blessings of, a protective tariff, and of good times.—One of the means taken by the cotton planters to break down the free North, was to destroy the tariff, and with it our infant manufactories.—Shall we yield, or boldly assert our right and interests, and not give up until we again acquire them? The importance of a Tariff to our prosperity is well delineated in the following article from the New York Tribune. After describing the constant flow of specie to Europe it says:

"To what quarter does this most valuable commodity go? First, to England, but there it does not seem to stay; for she, like our cotton, is trying a free trade experiment, and forcing her people to eat foreign wheat, as we are forcing ours to wear foreign cotton. It goes to France, Belgium and Germany, and there it stays; and the reason why it stays is, that these countries are steadily pursuing the same policy under which this country was so rapidly and wonderfully prosperous from 1842 to 1847—the policy that tends to place the artisan by the side of the farmer—the policy of protection for the sake of protection, and not as merely incidental to the collection of revenue. In all those countries money is cheap, and manufacturers, farmers, land-owners and house-owners are prospering together: whereas, in all the free trade countries of the world, all are being ruined together—and here, in her revenue protection, that is daily and hourly invaded by means of falsehood and perjury as seem likely soon to be involved in one common ruin.

If we would avoid this ruin we must stop the train of gold. Without that, this paralysis must go on, until it shall result in the same near approach to death that was witnessed in 1842.—Without a medium of circulation there can be no motion in society, and the penny paper must suffer in common with the factory, the farmer to the coal mine and the ship. All prosper together, and must decline together, and the owners of all are called upon to unite their efforts to produce a change in the policy under which all—the moneylender excepted—are now so severely suffering.

Years we have admonished the railroad men that their roads could never be completed—that they determined to look at home for support—and the merchants that their trade could permanently prosper while it rested on the sale of bonds; and the friends of our city that their rents could be maintained under the existing system. Time has always been that we were prosperous, that no change was coming—that we were croakers, and that upon our interest at the exchange predicted bad, would cannot be sold.

Ships command high rates—Iron masters are being discharged—furnaces are being discharged—Nothing is prospering. Why is it that the spirit of

THE WORKINGS OF ROMANISM IN AMERICA.—The extraordinary scenes enacted in Hartford, Connecticut, by the adherents of Romanism, are the direct results of resistance to the tyranny of the church. Implicit obedience—unreserved, unreasoning degrading obedience, is the great law of the church. Obedience to superiors is as rigidly exacted as of an army in the field.—There must be no demur, no question, no resistance. Father Brady had been left to his own discretion until he had learned that manly independence so natural to the American character. He had built up a large congregation, and erected a splendid cathedral by his own exertions and his influence over a flock which loved him. Then the Bishop came to live in Har-ford he required the Priest to give up his house and to reside in the Episcopal family, and to surrender himself unreservedly to the control of his diocesan, not only ecclesiastically, but we understand this obedience to extend to his manhood and to his independence, which must be sacrificed. He refused; and was consequently removed from the ministry, and when his death followed, he was refused Christian burial; thus, according to Catholic views, shutting him out of Heaven.

Father Brady came to Hartford some eighteen or twenty years ago, when lay members of his denomination were few in number and uninfluential in position, and from that time to nearly the day of his death, he ministered to a constantly increasing flock. By his exertions and influence a handsome cathedral has been erected. He was universally respected, scarcely less in other denominations than his own. It was by the exercise of his personal character that he was enabled to exercise the influence necessary for the building of the cathedral, and the funds were raised the more readily, probably, from the understanding that the finances of that institution would be overseen by himself. Indeed, one paper says that he held a mortgage upon the property to the amount of twenty thousand dollars. It is certain that the title to the property was not vested in the Romish Bishop of the Diocese, but, no doubt, gave rise to the difficulty between the Priest and the Bishop. This is asserted in the following extract from the New York Commercial, a very cautious paper. In an article giving an account of the difficulty, that paper says:

"The Bishop, acting in accord with the Romish episcopate generally, desired to have the property vested in him; the venerable priest, who had lived long among a free people who are accustomed to manage their own affairs, was unwilling to make the transfer, as were probably the trustees also. It appears that when Father Reiley came to reside at, Hartford he required Mr. Brady to leave his own residence and live with him. Suspecting the Bishop's motives, he refused to obey the summons. They commenced the estrangement. Mr. Brady was deposed from his pastoral and ministerial office by the determined Bishop, and one appointed in his stead who might prove more manageable. This the flock resented, and the breach was widened, the Bishop's animosity being carried so far that the rites of the church at Mr. Brady's burial were prohibited, and even his interment in a spot in front of the cathedral, designated by a flag and chosen by him, when the cathedral was built, was forbidden.

Such were some of the antecedents of the popular commotion at Hartford on Saturday. The members of the church set at defiance the Bishop's cruel and insulting prohibition, obliterated, built a vault in the place selected by their late pastor, opened the church, removed the impediments which had been thrown in the way of celebrating mass, procured clergymen to perform that ceremony, and then in solemn procession carried the corpse to the door of the cathedral and gave it honorable interment.

The key to this difficulty is no doubt the same as that to the disagreement between the Romish Bishop and certain trustees of St. Louis Church, Buffalo—the determination of the Bishops of that denomination to have exclusive possession and control of church property, and the resolve of the people to retain the control of the finances in their own hands. From the course pursued by Bishop O'Reiley we infer that at the Provincial Council lately held in this city the Romish hierarchy resolved to execute their determination at all hazards. The result has certainly been commenced with a high hand. An aged clergyman, one universally esteemed, and by his people earnestly beloved, who had done perhaps more than any other Romanist minister in the United States to advance the local interests of the church to which he was attached, is the first victim. He is deposed, ingloriously, and is thereupon summarily deposed from his pastorate and ministry. This does not sever the attachment which twenty years of intercourse with his people had secured to him. It prostrates him, however, and there is little room for doubt that it was the provoking cause of the sickness that so suddenly carried him off.

One would have supposed that here the controversy would have ceased, and the Bishop would have sought rather to conciliate and console the sorrowing congregation than to convert their grief into desperation. Not so however. The course has been the Bishop's course. And what has been the consequence? Time was when even such a gratuitously cruel Episcopal edict as that which condemned a useful, laborious and consistent priest to such ignominy and degradation, would have been received by his flock as something that must be obeyed, however lacerating to their hearts such obedience might be: when the laity dared not dream of. rebellion against any branch of the priesthood; when no Romanist clergyman could have been found public to show sympathy with the unfortunate brother-and when especially no one could be persuaded to celebrate a forbidden mass, after effecting forbidden entrance to the church and altar.

Now the scene is reversed. On Saturday all these things were openly done, and no less than four Roman Catholic clergymen took part in the prohibited service, the first of the Bishop to the priesthood notwithstanding. The Hartford Times says:

"A solemn requiem Mass was celebrated at the church, commencing at 11 o'clock. Celebrant by Hugh J. O'Reilly, of Norwalk, assisted by Rev. Leslie Healy, of New Brunswick, as Deacon, and Rev. Mr. Cody, of Hartford, as Sub-deacon. Rev. E. J. O'Brien, of New Haven, was master of ceremonies. The responses were sung, and the usual prayers proper for such occasions were intoned by the associated priests. Conspicuous, as choir, of the Rev. Thomas Quinn, of Providen, and Rev. Peter Kelley, of Falls Village, Connecticut.

Among the clergymen present we noticed the Rev. Mr. Brady, of Middletown, nephew of the deceased; Rev. Mr. Hart, and Rev. Mr. Cullen, of New Haven; Rev. Mr. Lynch, of Birmingham; Rev. D Kelly, of Norwich; Rev. Mr. Sunnot, of Bridgeport, Rev. Mr. Egan, of Manchester; Rev. Mr. Lynch, of Chester; Rev. Mr. Curry, of Seabush, New York; besides a number of others whose names we could not learn."

There can be no doubting the severe symptoms of Romish hierarchy are exceedingly if they expose that in this country they can exercise such a species of control as that at which they aim. The laity will not become the blind and scrupulous abettors of such cruelties as that enforced by the Romish Bishop at Hartford, and bad enough for Romanism to be the exclusive object of execration.

☞ Improvement of the Ohio.—The Louisville Journal comes to the support of the project for the improvement of the Ohio river with a hearty one, and that the present is the tho time for action. The paper says:

"It is with pleasure that we transfer to our columns the following article from the Pittsburgh Gazette. We endorse it, contents and all.—Notwithstanding all the abuse that has been cast upon the Ohio river, it is worth, in its present unimproved state, half a dozen railroads, and if it were improved by means of locks and dams, judiciously located, and the works permanently constructed, it would be worth a dozen railroads. It is emphatically the highway of the people."

We again appeal to the Board of Trade of this city to take the initiative in this important work. We know that the times are hard, and that every man is engaged in watching over his own affairs—nevertheless there is shrewd policy in turning public attention toward an improvement which will place Pittsburgh on vantage ground as a great commercial city for all time to come. We shall be emphatically the "head of navigation," permanently, and a business that will concentrate here hitherto unthought of.

The St. Louis Intelligencer says that the election for a delegate to Congress from Kansas will take place soon, and that there are at present three candidates: Col. Whitfield, of Tennessee, now acting as Indian agent in the Territory; Col. Wm. H. Russell, of Independence, Mo., and a Mr. Burns, of Platte county. These gentlemen are all Southerners, and would doubtless prefer to see Kansas a slave State. Mr. Russell is said by the Independence Agrarian, to be "surpassed by no one in rational attachment to the interests of the South," while Gen. Whitfield "yields to none in his devotion to Southern interests." Of course, all this goes to prove that there is no danger of Kansas becoming a Slave State, and that all its settlers are opposed to Slavery.—These candidates, and all pro-slavery!

OUR BOOK TABLE.

BEAUTIFUL BERTHA: By Mrs. Tuthill. New York. C. Scribner.

This is a domestic tale, narrated in an artless, natural manner, and illustrating sundry phases of our home life. It enlists the interest of the reader from the start and maintains it to the close.

THE RAT CATCHER: Or the Magic Fife. A tale of the Olden Time. By Gustave Nieritz. Translated from the German by Mrs. Conant. New York: Charles Scribner.

This is another of the charming German stories which Mrs. Conant is engaged in bringing to public notice. It relates the story of a Rat Catcher who taught rats and mice to perform sundry pranks as he played to them upon the fife, and all the wonderful events which befel the old magician in his peregrinations. It is a story full of attraction for the young, and is certain to be popular with them.

For sale by J. S. Davison, No. 67 Market st.

Messrs. Phillips, Sampson & Co., publishers of the new novel entitled "Ida May," announce authoritatively that Mrs. Stowe is not its author, as was generally reported.

The General Missionary Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church (North) has appropriated $260,000 for the Missionary service during the year 1855; for Foreign Missions $75,907 and domestic, $184,093. Of the domestic fund $46,700 is for German Missions; $17,850 for missions to the other foreign population; and to the native domestic Missions $103,203.

Correspondence of the North American and U. S. Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.

Up to yesterday morning the Secretary of State had received no letters from Mr. Mason furnishing a specific account of the mode in which the interdict against Mr. Soule had been removed: but a despatch which arrived the day before, briefly stating the fact that permission had been officially given to the minister to pass through France. Mr. Buchanan has written that the matter has been adjusted in a manner honorable to both the French and American governments. It is stated in a private letter from a well informed source in London, that immediately on the occurrence of the difficulty, Lord Clarendon, the Foreign Secretary, had despatched a relative, his son or nephew, to Paris upon a mission supposed to be connected with the affair, and earnestly deprecating any action of which the effect would be to create or prolong a misunderstanding with the United States. It is presumed that the French government will deny the existence of a position order for the expulsion of Mr. Soule, and attribute his arrest to a misconstruction of his authority by the officer who obstructed his progress at Calais. The President and Cabinet did not expect so early or so easy a settlement of this disagreeable affair.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The train from Harrisburg, due here at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was detained a couple of hours by an accident that occurred near the watering station, about 24 miles from the city. Two passenger cars ran off the track in consequence of a loose rail, and one of the cars rolled down the embankment. The passengers fortunately escaped with their lives, though several were severely bruised. The Rev. Mr. Wheat of the Second Baptist Church of this city, was in the car, and was struck by the water-tank in the back, completely disabling him. On the arrival of the train he was removed to his home. It is feared that his spine is injured.—Phil. Ledger.

THE RULE OF THE MINORITY.—The result of the election of New York city, says the Tribune, is encouraging to minorities, whom, it is said, constitutions and laws—especially the Plurality Law—were made to protect. On looking over our returns, the following singular result is shown:

Candidates elected.	Votes for	Votes against.
Mayor—Wood	20,002	39,655
Recorder—Smith	25,243	33,800
Register—Doane	20,727	36,694
City Judge—Stuart	21,969	37,061
Dist. Attorney—Hall	24,431	34,810
Com. Streets—Elting	23,458	42,909
Surrogate—Bradford	31,152	27,944

Mr. Bradford is the only one of the seven who has a majority. Of the six members of Congress two have small majorities:

Candidates elected.	Votes for	Votes against.
Pelton	3,902	4,197
Kelly	2,972	5,253
Whitney	3,136	6,683
Wheeler	4,800	5,933
Childs	6,557	5,083
Wakeman	4,866	4,668

Of the Members of Assembly, twelve out of the sixteen are chosen by minorities; and of the eleven Aldermen, eight are in the same category. So, from Mayor down to Alderman we find, of 88 officers (excepting Alms-House Governors) only ten received a majority of the votes of their constituents. Certainly the reader will have to go no further than this time to complain of the tyranny of majorities.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Special Meeting of the Temperance Association of Allegheny and vicinity, will be held THIS (Thanksgiving) EVENING, at 7 o'clock, in Rev. Dr. Hodge's Church. A large meeting is desired, as business interesting the whole community will be before the meeting. nov23-1t

☞ McLane's Vermifuge.—No remedy ever invented has been so successful as the great worm medicine of Dr. M'Lane. All who have used it have been equally astonished and delighted at its wonderful efficacy and efficacy. To punish all the testimonials to its favor would fill volumes; we must therefore content ourselves with a brief abstract of a few of them.

Jasper C. Allen, Amory, gave a dose to a child 6 years old, and it brought away 83 worms. He soon after gave another dose to the same child, which brought away 59 worms, making 142 worms in about 12 hours.

A. drew Downing, of Cranbury township, Venango county, gave his child one tea spoonful, and she passed 177 worms. Next morning, on repetition of the dose, she passed 113 more.

Jonathan Hunghman of West Union, Park county, in writes that he is unable to supply the demand, as the people in his neighborhood say, after a trial of the others none is equal to Dr. McLane's Vermifuge.

Messrs. D. & J. W. Colton, of Winchester, In., happened last spring to get some of this Vermifuge. After selling a few bottles, the demand became so great for it that their stock was soon exhausted. They state that it has produced the best effect wherever used, and is very popular among the people.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, and take none else. All other Vermifuges, in comparison, are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States and from the sole proprietors.

To Persons who are Sloop Shouldered—Shoulder Braces.

DR. LANE, author of the Manipulative Transcript, under date of St. Louis, 18th inst., says of these Braces, earlier friend, Dr. GEO. H. KEYSER submitted to our inspection a very fine specimen of the "Washington Suspender," the manufacture of which he has in the course of two or three months past established himself in Pittsburgh. It seems admirably the purposes for which it is intended, is light and easy, and altogether free from the inconvenience attached to the many other articles of the kind in use. As an overall Suspender, while at the same time, it preserves the shoulders in a healthful position, without at all restraining the natural movements of the body. The fit will suit them, from size, or posture, to any part of the Union.

[From the Pittsburgh Daily Dispatch, Feb. 20, 1852.]

☞ CHEST EXPANDERS—SHOULDER BRACES—AN EXCELLENT ARTICLE.—Persons who have acquired a stooping position, by following a sedentary occupation, will experience great relief by the use of the "Washington Suspender Brace," made and sold by Dr. KEYSER, corner of Wood st. and Virgin alley. It answers for a brace and suspenders, the weight of pantaloons is so placed as to counteract, and tend to bring the shoulders to their natural position, and retain them. We purchased one ourselves some days ago, and have been pleased with it; and considers it a most useful, gratis.

Persons, thousands of whom are annually injured by the weight of their onerous habits should also procure those braces. In particular in procuring the blind mentioned as many of these will are humbugs.

NORRIS LOCOMOTIVE WORKS.
Schuylkill Sixth street, above the Railroad, Philadelphia

ENGAGED for many years exclusively in the manufacture of LOCOMOTIVES, have recently been considerably enlarged, by additions of large buildings and numerous steamers and tools, which will enable the proprietors to furnish, with despatch, any description of Locomotives, on liberal credit.

RICHARD NORRIS & SON.

There are few things which afford us greater pleasure than sitting down to write a notice of the celebrated Hoofland German Bitters, because we are fully conscious we are conferring a public benefit, and our heart tells us that by our notices many have been induced to take these Bitters, and been restored from death by dyspepsia, liver complaint, &c., for the cure of which it is certain. It is prepared and sold by Dr. C. M. Jackson, at the German Medicine Store, No. 120 Arch st., Philadelphia.—See advertisement.
