PRESENTATION

Of a set of silver to the Superintendent, and of a Watch to the Master of Transportation, of the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad, by the Employees of the Company.

This presentation took place on Friday evening, Dec. 29th, and was the occasion of much good feeling.

A splendid silver pitcher and pair of goblets were presented early in the evening to Solomon W. Roberts, Esq., the Chief Engineer and Superintendent, at his house, by a committee consisting of D. Cornelius, R. H. Lecky, and John Kelly; and at 9 P. M., after the express train had arrived and the business of the day was over, a fine watch was presented to the Master of Transportation, in his office at the depot, in the presence of a large number of the employees of the Company.

Brief addresses were made on each occasion, which we give below; and the ceremonies were concluded by an address from the Superintendent on the early history, present position, and future prospects of the road.

On the presentation of the Silver the following address was made by the Committee:

We have the honor, Mr. Roberts, on behalf of the Employees of the Ohio & Pennsylvania Railroad Company, of presenting you with this beautiful Salver.

It is designed as a testimonial of the high regard and esteem in which your are held by the donors, not only as an Officer of the Company, but in your private relations as a gentleman.

It expresses their admiration of the able and dignified, yet friendly manner in which you have always demeaned yourself toward them, as well as their pleasant recollections of the amicable relations which have always existed between you and them, while it is an earnest of their most heartfelt wishes for your future welfare.

Please accept then this Set, and be assured that the donors feel satisfied that your fine sensibilities will enable you more fully to appreciate their motives in presenting it, than any language of our's can portray.

D. CORNELIUS,
JOHN KELLY, } Committee.
R. H. LECKY.

To which Mr. Roberts replied as follows.

GENTLEMEN—In accepting the beautiful gift presented to me by you, as a Committee of the employees of the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad Company, as a mark of their esteem, I desire to express to you, and through you to the other donors, my deep sense of the kindness which prompted this spontaneous and unexpected act of good feeling.

More than twenty five years of my life have been passed in the management of Public works in various capacities, since the time when, a lad of sixteen, I began in the lowest grade of my profession. I have been in the service of many companies, and in that of the commonwealth, and it is a source of heartf elt satisfaction to me to know, that whenever I have resigned one place for another, those with whom I have served have shown their regret.

I attribute this fact, so grateful to my feelings to my earnest desire in every case to do justice in the spirit of kindness, and never to show either favor or disfavor, from any favoritism but always with a willingness to hear both sides to treat every man as truth and right might require.

All of us are liable to err, and I feel this deeply in my own case; but if I have done wrong to any one, I desire to right that wrong, so far as may be in my power.

A great railroad is like the human body, composed of a multitude of parts and members, the disorder, of any one of which may produce disastrous consequences. It is not that one is above another, but that each is necessary for the good of all. Each in his station may be said to be responsible for the safety of every other, and the best means of this end, is the constant incentive to temperance, vigilance and activity.

The narrow means of our American Railroad Companies, and our changeable and inclement climate, often make it necessary to overwork and unduly expose the men; and I may truly say that, from the Master of Transportation and Master Machinist, down to the watchmen and switch tenders, I have never found any shrinking from duty under such circumstances.

My influence has been exerted, in concert with the President and Directors, to enable you to enjoy the Sabbath as a day of rest, to be at home with your families, improve your minds, and worship your Maker.

We have reason to be glad that we have labored together to useful ends. My intercourse with you has been pleasant, and whether it may hereafter be short or long, which is entirely uncertain, I trust that the gift presented to me this evening may remain with me during my life as a beautiful memorial of it.

With my best wishes for the present and future welfare of all the men in the Company's service, and with the compliments of the season at the close of the year, I again express my sincere thanks to yourselves and to the donors whom you
