THE INAUGURAL .--- We had not room, yester day, to express any opinion upon the Inaugurs Address of Gov. Pollock, and may therefore b excused for recurring to it, now.

We perused it with much pleasure, and are glad to be able to say that it meets with our hearty approval, generally. It is a little ver-bose and labored in its style, but this is the fault of all American documents of this nature and leaving out of view the attempts at display which it presents, and the rather prevalent tone of glorification which characterizes it, its view of glorification which characterizes it, its views are such as will commend themselves to a very The spontation while characterities it, is the set in t and his claim for protection against the immi-gration of foreign convicts and paupers does not strike us as either unresponsble or objection-

Altogether, we think the Governor has laid Altogether, we think the upsterior has hid down a very substantial, comprehensive and generally proper platform, in which we see but little that can possibly be excepted to. It is not reddent of Nativiam, as was that of his brother Massachusetts, and gives no indications of th fanaticism which has grown current on that sub ject, lately, in some quarters. Let the Gover nor adhere firmly to the ground he has marked out for himself, maintain in his administration the spirit with which he has set out, and cu a from the control of those who would ma age the affairs of the State for him, in secret and he will not only achieve success; but de

It will be a pleasure to us to supp ort the Gas ernor in every right position which he may as sume, and to sustain him with heartiness an zeal. Endorsing his Inaugural, with such slight exceptions as we have noted, and anti a fature course in strict harmony with it, we look forward to his administration with no small degree of confidence, that its general results will be favorable to the State and honorable to him.

OUR DISTINGUISHED REPRESENTATIVE .--- OU county has not always or often been bles such a representative in the legislature as abe now possesses in Mr. David L. Smith. That sa is and profound individual, in the following ed by him, has put his best foot fo ward and astonished the body of which he is a member by the tremendonsness of his stride: As Act to confer upon Colored Persons the right of Courses of Conciliation.—Mr. Clapp, of Venange, has introduced into the Honse a bill for the establishment of Couris of Conciliation, for the establishment of Couris of Law. In the gen i eral principle of the bill we concur. It would be a happy thing if the tribunals of justice could which now afflict the tribunals of justice could be afforded the opportunity of settlement clase where, to mutual setification. Many heart-burnings and neighborhood feuds might be pre-tiented. But Mr. Clapp's bill is too cambrous and too carelessly drawn. The matter can be provided for in smaller compass; and, being now before the legislature, it will doubtless receive that stitution be put in unexceptionable shape. Be it curves, and colored male after the passage of this act, all colored male persons of African or mixed extraction, who are persons of African or mixed extraction, who are after the passage of this set, and the set of the persons of African or mixed extraction, who are now or may hereafter become residents of this Commonwealth, be freemen, and are hereby en-tidled to all the civil, religious and political rights, as fully and amply, to all intents and purposes, as the same are enjoyed and held by any person or persons, citizens of this Common-wealth. Bection 2. That so much of any law or laws as may be incompatible with the provisions of this set, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Oh, ye constitution makers, where be your fundamental laws, now? Go to! Here is a man who will set you aside with a statute. Spermaati is no longer the all-prevailing panacea; a simple statute is become the sovereignet thing on earth to cure the evils of the body politic .----All that is necessary, now, to set the world to rights is a mere "Be it enacted," &c. Bear witness, Smith.

Constitutions have been conside and aforetime constitutions may been constant of motions as of some value in defining citizenship, securing public rights and hedging in the power of the legislature and government; but that time is tegratatures and government; but that time is clearly goue by. We are fallen upon a new era. With the advent of Mr. Smith at Harrisburg comes the dawn of another day. Acts of As-sembly are the thing, now. Civil, political and religious rights are the gift of the legislature and not of the sovereign neonle, and may be enand not of the sovereign people, and may be en-soted and repealed at pleasure.
