The old Democratic party was the last political foothold for the slavocracy to operate upon in the North. That has been so shaken by the Nebraska outrage, and so weakened by Know Nothingism, that it is n longer the potent power it once was. The mis-erable Silver Grey faction in the Whig ranks can afford no religing point on which the slave-power can hang a hope. The last plank, that of Know Nothingism, will eventuall be knocked from under the feet of the slavery propaganda, and then, Heaven be praised, will be inaugurated the true American party—the party which will write on more slave states," "no national recognition of, no national responsibility for, the despotic instimion of chattel slavery."

of Tenn.—Successor of Mr. Mason in the French In speaking of the final loss of the Homestea bill I attributed it in part to the hostility of the Know Nothings. I spoke from the best possible authority, having received the assurances of members who voted in the negative to that effeet, and having witnessed the whole proceedings and observed closely the spirit which marked the conduct of members while discussing and voting upon the subject. It is the large immigration late years which is used to alarm conservative rial force was never more effective and better men as to the tendency of legislation which may possibly be construed into an invitation to others. Who is to be Mr. Mason' ccessor, is a question as warmly canvassed as if that venerable embassador were known to be under the sod. Gov. Bigler, Gov. Seymour, Gen. Dix and Gen. Cushing have all been named as aspirants to the cypress shaded chair. The Attorney General has a facility in accommodating self to his situation. He has become settled down in his cabinet office, and means to stay there till ousted by a change of administration or other unavoidable cause. Dix can't get itbecause he is a Free Soiler, though he was only promised the appointment. Bigler is out of the question, because Pennsylvania has atheunted her craffi. There are special political reasons against Seymour, and the place will probably be held to reserve for some actions Virginian upon will fall in the campaign with while, perhaps will latt in the campaign with with perhaps wise himself will be companiated for his labor and sufferings in the conflict of Democracy pure and undefiled with the great dragon of

The Massachusetts Emigration Aid Society, for the settlement of Kansas Territory with persons opposed to slavery, is, if we may credit the Boston Advertiser, likely to prove a profits-ble investment for its stockholders, though not so intended. In an article on the subject, the Advertiser ways.

territories south of the Missouri Compromise line. Should the bill pass, and I see nothing to prevent it, we will have four store Elater asking for admission into the Union before the close of the next Congress. Should the same state of things exist then that existed last Congress, even to a more limited extent, all four of the territories will come in as slave States.

My dear sir, if would not give a cent for platforms, in these and always of political chicanery. What we want is, was of nerve, grit and bottom. With such, no platform is needed."

BUENED TO DEATH.—Alexander Bowman, a medical student, aged 22, from Hagerstown, Md., was burned to death in Philadelphia, on Wednesday morning in his boarding house on Chestnut, above Thirteenth. The house took fire while and the building he became so badly injured by fire that he schortly after died.

by the fathers of the Republic, and still mani-tained by the Democratic party in all the States, that to each State belongs the right to adopt and modify its own municipal laws, to regulate its own internal affairs, to hold and maintain an equal and independent sovereignty with each and every State, and that upon these rights the National Legislature can neither legislate nor encroach.

. DUTY ON IMPORTED WOOL .- Judge N. Ewing DUTY OR INFORTAD WOOL.—Judge N. Ering, one of the heaviest wool-growers in Western Pennsylvania, has addressed a letter to a New York wool dealer, in which he argues in favor of the repeal of the duty on foreign wools. He says he has written to the Hon. John L. Dawson, the Representative of his district in Congress, advising him to vote for the repeal, should the subject come up during the present session. The pith of his argument is contained in the following extract:

the stoject come up turning the greens we saw. The pith of his argument is contained in the following extract:

"If the manufacturer receives a moderate protection by a duty on the foreign fabric, and is not burthened by a tax on the raw material, we may reasonably hope that American energy and perseverance will enable him to compete successfully with his foreign wool. This result will necessarily create a steady demand for wool; and and as increased success shall enlarge manufacturing operations, we may hope that the increased demand will enhance the price. Fluctuations will be less frequent, and the certain—though it may be moderate—profit, will satisfy the woolgrower, and cause him to persevere in a business which he is now so often tempted to abandon."

The district in which the writer of this letter lives is one of the largest wool growing regions in the country, and such an expression from a leading cultivator of the staple—one, too, who has hitherto favored the duty on foreign wool—is of some importance to the trade. Its effect will probably be to accomplish the removal of the duty.

EXTENSIVE EMIGRATION SCHEME.—We have information from a quarter whence the truth may be expected to proceed, that it is in contemplation to establish emigration societies on a very extended scale, in the large cities and towns of this Commonwealth, among the foreign population, for the purpose of mutually aiding each other to emigrate to Canada or the Great West, as it has parties may themselves decide. In this manner it is contemplated to 'reduce the number of the Roman Catholic residents at least one-half, within a brief space of time; and the design, of course, will first move the most unseful among that portion of our population.—We have no direct information of any public steps having been taken to consummate the scheme; but the principles on which it is to be carried out are being discussed, and the project will probable be perfected.—Boston Journal. EXTENSIVE EMIGRATION SCHEME.—We have

THE SWISS IMMIGRATION.—The publication an affidavit alleging that 64 Swiss paupers habeen sent to this country at the expense of the magistrates of their native village, has elicited card from M. de Luze, the Consul at New Yor for the Swiss Confederation. He states that the card from M. de Luze, the Conaul at New Yorl for the Swiss Confederation. He states that the statement is possibly true, but observes that by the customs of Switterland, each Swiss citizen has some rights in the common property of the city or village to which he belongs, and of which he is a burgher. This is called Geneinde recht; and thus by receiving from the corporation of said city or village the means to emigrate, they, in fact, received part of their own property.

The Swiss in question were shipwrecked, and write sent on from Halifax to New York by the way of Boston. About 8000 Swiss emigrants r of Boston. About 8000 Swiss emigran lad on our shores last year.
