he was discovered and the knife taken from him. He was then removed to another cell.

On Saturday last, jailor Crawford suspected that Swazey was about making a similar attempt to escape, and he accordingly caused a watchman to be placed near the cell where Swazey was confined. At a late hour on Saturday night, the watch defected sounds as of a saw operating on an iron bar. Jailor Crawford being informed of this, entered the cell on Sanday morning and found that Swazey had succeeded in partially, severing the iron foot rail of his bedstead. Had he succeeded in cutting it entirely through, it would not have been very difficult to pry off the iron plate which guards the window of the cell and then removing a stone-or two of the wall, the prisoner would have been, by the aid of a long jump, in the yard of the jail, from which no doubt, he would have escaped without much difficulty.

Mr. Crawford on searching the cell found doubt, he would have escaped without and ficulty.

Mr. Crawford, on searching the cell, found the saw which Swarey had used, concealed in a broom. He was immediately removed to another cell, where Mr. Crawford very properly put her cell, where Mr. Crawford very properly put the rough of the will be the any further opportunity of destroying knives and spoiling bedsteads. He will be tried at the next term of the U. S. Court, which meets next month.

The Cartival of Saow.—Sleighbeils is an unaccustomed sound upon our streets. Snow storms usually reach the "top of their bent" when they sprinkle the pavements and barely hide the coal-black shingles on the house tops.—But by some special dispensation of the Storm King, we are now enjoying the unusual blessing of four or five inches of very respectable snow. Sleighs and cutters are no longer in quarantine and fast horses have an opportunity to prove their mettle. The snow began falling on Thursday last, and has fallen slowly and at intervals ever since. The atmosphere not having grown any milder, all that has fallen has remained on the ground, and the sleighing is consequently better than we have seen in our city for some years.

Of course areay one is taking advantage of the Sanday Liquor Law. He made known his some determination to enforce law, and his better than we have seen in our city for some years.

Of course, every one is taking advantage of the unusual visitation. Every vehicle that has runners is pressed into service, attached to such available horse-power as offers at $2 an hour, and away they go "like mad!" Antiquated outters that have rotted in obscure stables for years are hurriedly dragged from oblivion to glide along the snowy streets at railroad speed. Our streets, on Monday, musical with the tinkling and jingling of cheerful sleigh-bells, presented the appearance of a carnival.

Enjoy it while you can, good reader, for the Almanao says February will come in mild as a lamb. The Almanac you know, always tells the truth.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—A German farmer named John Fisher appeared on Monday morning before Mayor Adams, of Allegheny, and made coult, charging William M'Girk and James Meyleg the facts of the case to be as follows: On Sunday last he was driving some cattle from his farm near Harmony to the Allegheny Cattle Market; when about four miles from the city, and some cattle from his farm near Harmony to the Allegheny Cattle Market; when about four miles from the city, on the Perrysville Plank Road, he observed two on the Perrysville Plank Road, he observed two on the Recommendated is the food of the Farmer's Mechanics and the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the police to the fact that lives are hours and of the fact to the hard of the market and the lives are hours and of the fact that lives are hours and of the fact to the late. It is fact to the late of the fact to he have of the late of the fact to the late of the la Market; when about four miles from the city, on the Pertysrille Plank Road, he observed two men borrying after him; they caught up with him, and began to question him as to how much he would sell his cattle for; he replied that he did not desire to make a tale until he reached Allegheny; they insisted on his fixing a price, and he as stoutly refused, until the two men, (William M'Girk and James Meyler.) caught hold of him; and said he must sell the cattle. He, becoming very much alarmed, as he alleges, then agreed to sell two of his cattle for $46; they handed him a lot of bank bills; he wanted to go into a house near by and see that the money was right, which they refused; they then proposed to buy the other two cattle and pay him $23 therefor; he hesitated; they insisted and forced him to take several pieces of gold, which they said amounted to $23; the old man then started off in terror, and arriving in the city made oath substantially to the above facts. The gold he recived amounted to only about $20, and one of the bills was a $20 broken bank bill. The accused were arrested together as they were The accused were arrested together as they were entering Allegheny with the cattle. On exam-ination, they were fully committed to await trial.

The Mayor's Police was vigilant in their efforts. No crowds were to be seen around the corners and not a grog stop could be found open. Long may this continue! The only difficulty seems to be in the pertinacity of liquor sellers who live just out of the city limits. We are authorized to say, however, that such co-operation will be had with the Township authorities as will put a stop to all liquor selling on Sunday.

WE are requested to call the immediate attention of the police to the fact that lives are hourly endangered on Fifth st. by boys who clide down the side-walks on their sleds with a most culpable recklessness.
