WM. H. SEWARD.—The senatorial election in has yet been mentioned is WM. H. SEWARD, the with so much honor to the state and nation for Mr. SEWARD's opinions and antecedents are too well known to require any elucidation. He has given his name to certain political principle which have obtained extensive currency and in fluence in the free states of the Union. He i the head and leader of "Sewardism," which term is understood to define the principles of the great majority of the opponents of the ex-tension of slavery living in the North and affiliating with the Whig party. "Silver-Greyum," which is understood to represent the pro-slaver sentiment of Northern Whigs, is antagonist to "Sewardism." Silver-Greyism has been merged in Know-Nothingism, and its opposition to Mr. Seward has been intensified on account of that gentleman's liberal views in relation to foreign immigration. Mr. Seward, then, is the candidate for re-election supported by the antislavery sentiment of the Whig party, and he is opposed by the "Silver-Grey Know-Nothings" and by the Democratic "Hards." The interest manifested in the result of the contest is by no means confined to New York. It is scarcely less out of the State than in it. The whole South looks on with intense anxiety, which it makes no attempt to conceal. No other Northern man is so much hated and feared. His independence of character, his transcendant abilities, which are not disputed by his bitterest enemies, his incorruptible integrity and his undoubted possession of that rare Northern qualitv. "BACKBONE," have caused him to be both dreaded and hated by Southern slaveholders.

As an evidence of Southern feeling in relation to this question, we take some extracts from the New Orleans Bulletin, a moderate Southern paper of great influence, and edited with manly ability, Whig in politics and utterly opposed to fillibusterism and Southern pullification expressing its joy at hearing that the Know Nothings had determined to prevent the re-elec-tion of Mr. Saward, and declaring that "in its heart of hearts it experienced a throb of gratitade to the mysterious order for the credit of having the will and power of effecting "a consummation so devoutly to be wished," it proceeds:

mation so devouily to be wished, "it proceeds:

"Stward is the impersonation of sectionalism, abolitionlam, and antagonism to the South.—
There is no true Southern man but must deprecate his success in any of his sepirations. Should be succeed in his candidacy for the United State Senate the road is open to him to a still higher elevation, with fair prospects of success; and should be reach the object of his restless and should be reach the object of his restless and should be reach the object of his restless and should be reach the object of his restless and should be reach the object of his restless and should be reach the object of his restless and should be reach the object of his restless and should be reach the object of his restless and should be reach the object of his restless and should be reach the object of his restless and should be reach the object of his restless and the floorer what the matter. H. Skwarp be placed in the Presi-dential chair, the able and intreplic chief of the abolition party—the man above all others most formidable to the South, because to eminent mental endowments he adds consummate tact, sonsigned to a sealed and inaccessible tomb, from which there is no resurrection.

The way, if the Know Nothings should be the instruments, by and through whom this con-numentation should be affected, they will have won lar idiosyncracies, their imputed errors of doc-trine, of theory and of practice, will be over-shadowed and eclipsed by the brilliant and effec-tive services they will have rendered the South."

short time previous to the last election, it says: The Fillmore Silver Grey Whigs—as true na-tional patriots as ever breathed—eaw nothing but utter discomfure before them. The Hard-shell Demograts, good and reliable men in all reshell Democrate, good and reliable men in all reaspects, could discover nothing but defeat ahead. The Union men, of both parties, were about giving up in despair; and it seemed inevitable that the "black waves of fanaticism/would roll over the Empire State unimpeded by any formidable obstacle, when the orker of Know Nothings rushed out from their seoret lodges like the sudden emerging of Roderick Dhu's armed men from the topse and heaths of Benlodi:

The Bulletin is now clamorous for the rewards.

VINE

The Bullatin is now elamorous for the rewards of a rictory so nearly obtained. The South demands that Seward shall be sacrificed, solely because he dares to represent the free sentiment the United States must be promptly made. of a free people, and as a natural consequence, is obliged to resist the untimely, never-ending ents of slavery. It appeals to New York Know-Nothings as follows:

"A great issue is offered; the Know-Nothing party of New York profess to be a national conservative party; they arowedly abjure all allegiance with or affinity to sectionalism of any and every kind, whether Secessionism or Abolitionism. Their sincerity is about to be tested; the great agitator of sectionalism and abolitionism, the such enemy of Southern institutions, and the most formidable enemy of peace and good order, is a candidate for an high and honorable office, his election to which his opposed by overy conservative or national Know-Nothing. The political destiny of Wa. H. Sawaho is in the hands of the Know-Nothing party of New York—they absolately and unqualifiedly control this as all other legislative elections—in the House they have a working majority of 22, which places the choice of United States Senstor entirely state of the Stoty of Wa. It was immediately accepted, and Mr. S. was superseded by Breckeridge of Kentucky. York Know-Nothings as follows:

The Bulletin, we doubt not, is greatly mistaken in supposing that the Know Nothings have a majority in the New York Legislature. If they had Mr. SEWARD would stand but little chance. Athough he is opposed with bitterness and zeal by the Silver Grey and Know Nothing press; and no pains are spared to accomplish his defeat, we believe he will be re-elected near Tuesday, and of the public has so long been occupied respect. that a wall of disappointment and rage will go ing a notoriously unattainable object. There is up from the whole slavocracy of the Bouth. but little reason to believe from the past course up from the whole slavocracy of the South.

Jone G. Saxs.—This witty gentleman, our pay much attention to the new demands for in readers will bear in mind, lectures on Monday evening. Subject—"Yankee Land."

There it is. The old game of the old parties thus re-enacted—one face for the North and from them since 1848! Why, he presided at the Abolition National Convention held here in 1852, and was, up to November last, the candidate of the party for Governor of Massachusetts! It is the fulfilment of a contract, and therefore no to be regarded as evidencing anything as to the proclivities of the Order on the Slavery question If "Sam" did not "hate abolitionists" he never could succeed as he is doing in the South.

NORTHERN HANGMAN. - Foote, of Mississippi, was for a while the great hangman of the Union, having acquired that distinction by the expression of his ardent desire to hang John P. Hale on the highest tree in that State, if he should ever be so fortunate as to catch him there. Foote has probably got ever that desire, and his vocation in anything of the facts it states, or concurring in all its views:

and unquestionable!
We think Congress did right in this particular mental endowments he adds consummate tact, unfinching moral courage and indominable energy, and the South will rally round a common standard as one man; and what every lover of the Union must prayerfully deprecate, a purely sectional party is at once organized, embracing in its ranks every Southern man. On the other hand, if Saward is defeated in limine, in his intiatory step to the Presidential chair, he is for ever shelved; he is not merely killed off, but gress to annul its action with that freedom and manimity with which the present Congress has

FROM WASHINGTON. Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Dally Gazette

Washington, Jan. 30. It is announced on competent authority that the resignation of Mr. Soule was the consequence of a serious disagreement with the president and cabinet. He was instructed to present a dispatch to the Spanish Ministry, stating to that government that the United States entertained no hostile designs against Cubs, and would caus all the rights of Spain to be respected. But this These questions related to the insults offered to the American flag by the Captain General of Cubs and his subordinates, to the imprisonment of American citizens, the seizure and detention of vessels and depredations upon American property.
The object of the dispatch was to disconnect the question of the acquisition of Cuba from that of indemnity for outrages and injuries. This certainly tive proceeding. But it amounted to a complete change of policy; at least to an abandonment of that policy which Mr. Scule had adopted in conthe choice of United States Senator entirely at their disposal. Printers by keeping a strong solution of this scap on hand, will find it invaluable in the cleaning of type forms, &c., as it removes the ink readily, and without injury to the type.

fig. as it removes the ing resulty, and without laint; to the type.

By the use of this soap, the dimenty heretofore experienced with the hard waters of the South and West, is en-tirely obvisted, and the water needs no "breaking" or "cleaning." It possesses excellent properties for use in salt water, and is therefore rendered a valuable marine scap.

The proprietors offer this in a neat and merchantable style, being put up in pound bars, and each bar stamped with the proprietor's name, and warranted equal to the recommendation, when used according to directions.

The best fiaunels may be washed with this scap without being full dat awith other scape. Traders and the public generally are requested to give the Chemical Erasive Scap a fair trial.
