The foneral procession moved from the house about 3 o'clock, P. M. The escort preceded by Didworth's full band, consisted of the Forest Lofe Guard, the Hynder's Grenadiers, the Hancock Chapter of the Order of the United American, the Poole Association and the Poole Guard. After these followed the hearse, and the mourners in carriages. The coffin was covered by the American flag, and the hearse, npon which was semblasoned the words, "I die a true American, was drawn by four black horses, appropriately decorated. The procession moved down Christopher street to Bleeker, down Bleeker to Broadway, and down Broadway to the Hamilton avenue ferry. It was after five o'clock when it reached the latter point. Stanwix Hall, where the decessed received his fatal wounds, and the Bank Exchange, his late place of business, were draped in mourning.

The Journal of Commerce remarks:

"To our mind, the spectacle was darkly portentous, not only foreshadowing the subversion of Sabbath institutions, but evils it would be unwise to predict."

The Peach Crop.—The temperature falls in Connecticut and Massachusetts to 12° to 15° below zero every few years, without injuring the the peach crop. In 1834, at Windham, Connon morning, on the high hills the thermometer indicated 18° below, while on the plains and valleys it was 22°; yet there were plenty of peaches the following year on the hills, and none in the plains and valley. A year or two after, the temperature, one windy night, was exactly reversed] The next year there was not a peach on the bills, but a full crop in the valleys; the tree buds were not injured. Who will inform the public where not injured. Who will inform the public where the exact frost-line of the peach is? Another question to the curious is, at what temperature the peach-tree is killed by frost. The writer thinks it at 30° or 32° below.

The rowdy murder is continually presenting new developements. A seat in the Council Chamber was vacant last night; Councilman Kerrigan was in the tombs as an accessory. A policeman, Daniel Linn, Harvey Young, Geo. Burns, Johnny Lyng, and one McLaughlin already keep him company. Others follow. The police especially are implicated to an almost unlimited extent in the escape of Baker. It is asserted it is almost certain that he is a passenger on the Isabella Jewett to the Canaries. The Magnolis a new steamer, started at 7 o'clock last night, in pursuit. But the murderer has 500 miles the start. If the Isabella Juwet makes a coasting voyage—stops at Savannah or Charleston before going to Palmas, the authorities all along the coast should be well warned by telegraph. Meantime people in Amboy and along the railroad, are expecting him to be arrested among them.—N. Y. Trib.
