Accident on the Penna. Railroad.

A SUKRER OF PASHLORIS ECADED AND OTHER TRAINERS INTERD.

We are indubted to Geo. P. Bmith, Eq., of the city, who was a passenger on the Express train which left Pittaburgh for Philadelphia on Wednesday evolute, for some particulars of the late secident. Mr. Smith, we are glad to say, excaped unbart.

The catastrophe occurred at a point called Jankson Narrows shout five miles below Mill Creak and about ten mires below Heitingdon.—A faw minutes before the arrival of the express train, which left Pittaburgh on Wednesday steming, a rock became detached from the mountain side, which is at that point very steep, and roled into the middle of the Railroad track. Geo. King, who attends a lock on the canal, about two or three rods, and was unable, without a light, to make any signal understood. The locomotive struck the rock, knocking it about two or three rods, and was thrown off the track, but ran on without becoming detached yards, when it was overturned against a bank between the track and the care of the locomotive, and the former them overturned, while the baggage car, avery long one, was thrown iransversed across the track, and lay with one and against the stone wall at the "side for the road, with the other end was thrown alightly to the right against the stone was thrown alightly to the right against the stone of the persons injured, as for the persons injured, as for the persons injured, as for the persons of the persons injured, as for a large that the work of the persons injured, and have the Pa., scalded.

Two gentlemen badly scalded in the face—names unknown. It is probable that all of the persons scalded will soon recover, and that none of them will be disfigured. Prompt medical aid was rendered to them soon after the accident, and all but two or three were able to go in the cars of the evening express train from Philadelphia, which could come no further than the scene of the disaster returned.
The escape of Mr. Martin, the baggage master, was almost miraculous. The car was crushed in on both sides, and the bottom was completaly shattered. He seems to have saved himself by clinging to the bar on the top.—
The decreation of the seems to have saved himpletaly shattered. He seems to have save this self by dinging to the bar on the top.

The locomotive, Atalanta, is the same one that not with an accident not long since, below Altoonsai. This is the third and probably the last adventure of the kind; for the engine is now in toosa. This is the third and probably the last adventure of the kind; for the engine is now in fragments.

We are not able to state whether negligence can be imputed to the officers of the Company. The rock having lain but a few minutes on the track, it is hard to say that the accident was not unavoidable. Two watchmen are kept on that part of the road, whose duty it is to walk over the ground immediately before car time. Whatever delinquency there may have been, would seem to have belonged to Mr. Lougery, the watchman on the part of the road where the rock descended. The Company, if at all in fault, are punished pretty severely in the loss of locomotive and cars, to the amount of probably $12,000—Union of Festeday.

The Jeyferson College Confert.—"Contest" and "Commencement" are to Canonsburgh what Fourth of July and Christmas are to the "rest of mankind." The little town is semi-annually stirred up to the fever-heat of excitement, growing warmer and warmer to the culminating point and then dropping down heavily, to its usual insumate condition. Last Wednesday night was the occasion of this year's contest between the Franklin and Philo Societies, and we are informed the usual large audience was present. The result must be gratifying to the members of the Franklin Society, and particularly to the successful contestants themselves.
