Additional Foreign News by the Asia. The Crimen. A letter dated Constantinople, March I, snys: The delay which took place in the distribution of the letters by the last mail from the Crimea did of not allow me to send you an account of a foat of arms which itook place on the night between the 23d and 24th of February. For some time it was known that the Russians were creating important works of counter attack near the Malakoff Tow-er, towards which the French lines were gradu-ally approaching nearer and nearer. As these works were likely to embarrass the French mi-ners and disturt the plan of the ullies, it was re-solved to destroy them. To this effect a portion of the Third Division, under the orders of General Monet, advanced during the aught of the 22d, and stucked the Russians in their entrenchmeats. The Russians, much superior in numbers, made a valiant defence; but, notwithstanding their re-sistance and the irrs of the batteries and vessels in the port which bore upon the battle ground, they were driven out of their position and the works destroyed. This, it appears, was the sole & object of this nocturnal expedition, as flåre was no idea of remaining in a position that could be swept easily by the guns of the port. The French returned after accomplishing their object, hut not without considerable lose, settimated at 100 killed and 300 wounded. Among the former there were seen or eight officers, and some of twenty officers wounded. General Monet had the thumb of his right hand shot off, and receiv ed a shot his arm. The loss of the Russians, which must have been considerable, could not be nacertained. The Journal de Constantinople gives desising, which must have been considerable, or the source of the s

The Journal de Constantinople gives details of a fight which took place on the 22d of Feb-rary before Sebastopol. A batallion of Zou-aves carried by assault the plateau of Malakoff Tower, spiked eighteen guns, and drove the ene-my out of their trenches, retiring qlimately be-fore a body of 8000 Russians. In this heroid istruggie 380 French were put Aors? is combat.-General Monet was wounded in both arms.-The Presse of Constantinople estimates the Russian loss at 1000, and reduces the French loss to $250. Some journals say that den-eral Monet received five slight wounds while dispersing a Bussian column, which attempted to cut off his retreat. The Times correspondent, writing on the 2d instant, says, the silence and calm of the lass if for days are but the comens of the struggle which is about to be renewed very speedily for the possession of Sebastopol. The Russians are using every energy to bring up from Kamalasch and Balakiars the commons mounds of theris officience in conduct and received in their officience in the contest, and are using every energy to bring up from Kamalasch and Balakiars the commons mounds of the required for the service of the new bat-their officience and defensive lines and trenches. Collections bound him to his bro homeless inhabitants of Veencadaal. Collections are being made throughout the whole country for the same benevolent purpose; and as there are many Dutchmen prospering in England, it may be that they will also lend a helping hand in aiding their distressed fellow countrymen in this their hour of urgent need. In North Brabant the flood is not so general, but it has broken down the dykes, so that the damage caused will prove of a farful character. Beveral bridges had been carried away, and the flown of Bois-le-due is a diminutive island amidist a waste of water and ice. The surrounding sul-ages are deserted, but when the dykes are re-paired they will again, for the most part bo hacombination, endeavoring to exalt the vile and to depress the worthy, to put the evil into the place of influence and power, and cut off the good from both. Of Ghristians it is said, "Ye are the sait of the earth," and also, "If the sait bath lost its savor where with shall it be seasoned ? It is neither fit for the land nor yet for the dung hill, but men cast it out." And so in this coun-try when Christianity loses its power and becomes nothing but a name, when it ceases to choose the good and to reject the bad, when it choose the good and to reject the bad, when it elevates injuity and cuts down rightcoaness, when its influence is employed to destroy itself-then farewell to the hope of prosperity, or even the permanence of the institutions of this happy land. ages are deserted, but when the dykes are re-paired they will again, for the most part be ha-bitable.
