The votes in those Wards caunot be counted, because they have been destroyed. If they could be, the chances arse that Mr. Faran would be declared elected, though it is doubtful whether any one else would be. We are certain that no man on the American ticket would choose to accept of an office for which he did not receive a fair majori-y of the votes of his fellow-citizens. It begins to appear that the reports we have received at various times during the past three months, touching the preparations for a descent on Cuba, were not exaggerated. We not-only continue to receive ascounts of the organi-ration of a great Fillbuster Enterprise, under Gen. Quitman, but the discoveries lately made in Cuba itself confirm the idea that the conspiracy is a very formidable one-here, as well as there. As will seen, by reference to our tolgraphic dispatches, there is reason to expect that the ex-pedition from New Orleans and the Southern ports will soon set sall-or at least attempt to do so. The above extract from a California paper contains a hint at one of the saddest histories it has been our fortune to encounter. Col. Sutter, the old pioneer Californian, the friend of the in-terpreter, sgent and go-between of the Ameri-cans, was, in 1848, one of the happiest and most cheerful of mea. With an ample fortune in hads, enjoying the perfect respect and love of call to whom his isclated life permitted an ac-quaintance, he was spending the evening of his days in an unostentations, benevolent and kindly manner. The first gold found in California was i discovered in the race of his mill, and soon thous-ands of squatters had "prospected" upon his possessions, and turned the soil of his broad do-main. Ever willing to assist the wanting, the hungry or the weary, his "Fort" became the cen-tre of a vast circle of dependants, and during the "scarce times" in the lands of Ophir, his magazines and granaries famished food and com-fort to the indigent whites, as they had for years before been freely opened to the poor Indians.— Beit unlike the ignorant sarages, the Americans for upon the old man's bounty only to repay the kindness with logratitude. The aged patriarch, guileless as a child, and totally wasting commer-cial tact, unsuspectingly confided his secrets, has bisfored acres alipped from his grasp; he placed his affairs in the hands of an agent who deceir-ied, deladed, and finally robbed him of some hun-dreds of thousands of hard dollars; his property dwindled down to merely a tithe of what it had been, and the old man's sorrows were heavy upon him. Bath estill had a large property remaining, which, by careful husbandry and strict business mhangement, might have brough him a compe-tiney for his declining years. He placed this premast homestead, to await the result. The sign proved traitor to bis father's interests, and by a cruel act, as base and unfillin at hose which, by careful husbandry and strict business mhange BOOTS & SHOES, WHOLESALE AND BETAIL, FANCY STOVES. How often must we learn, over and over again, the lesson that Slavery can never be satisfied?—When the Government was first framed, it begged and prayed to be suffered to exist—only exist—for a few years. If that were granted it would never ask or claim another privilege. It was granted. And in less than thirty years it stole half the territory that we had bought from France and consecrated to Freedom.
We remonstrated. But Slavery plead and threatned and reasoned us into the belief that if we would only let it have what it had got, and draw a line between us and it, it would never—never Gross the line, nor beg another favor as long as it should live—which, with hyporities. And in greated this boom also. And in return, it picked our pockets of Trans, which came to us free from Mexico—made it into a Slave Territory and then swore, till all was blue, that if we did not give it California also, it would abatter the Union to stoms.
We appeased the monster by promising that our Courts should perform the duties which, till then, had devolved on its bloodhoods. It ratified a solem agreement with us, that there should not be another claim put forward on its part for ever. Four years afterwards, it broke down the line for, which it had begged and blustered in 1820, and declared that where it should go was a question, not for us, but for the "settlers" to docide.
Forced lato reluctant compliance, we stood by to await the issue. The issue comes, and Slavery thirks it! It now tramples on the "popular tovereignty" in Kansas for which it was o clamorous ten months ago. First prayers, then entereties, then argument, then bargaining, then usurfation, then take kansas, shall we make another compromise with it—to be observed by us with religious devotion; and to be tossed by it to the winds?—AB. Large numbers are still wending their way to the promised land. Mr. J. Floyd Jones, the Indian Agent at the Reserve, arrived at Los Augeles on the 25th.... He met, on the day previous, upward of 200 peo-ple, and informa us that parties are constantly passing the Reserve on their route to the mines. The mines are rapidly making their mark in Los Angeles. The dust begins to roll in to our merchants, who have onco mere drawn forth from their half forgotten larking-pinces the scales that did such good service in the baleyon days of '49 and '50. Miners and speculators are buily en-gaged in selecting the stocks of our merchants to the mines. Scarcely a day passes without wit-nessing the departure of heavily loaded wagons and mule trains, or the rapid flight of the stage ocach, with its crowd of passengers.
