Removal.

THE OFFICE of the Pittsburgh Gazette has been removed to the new building on Fifth street, next above Smithfield, and immediately adjoining the Methodist Protestant Church.

THE LEGISLATURE.—It is not long since the Harrisburg Herald, the Know Nothing organ there, intimated to the members of the legislature that they had better go home; they were doing too much mischief there to warrant them in staying. So far as the majority of them are concerned, they are more in danger from an outraged constituency at home than they are at Harrisburg; and so they make it a point to stay there as the safest place—for themselves. Is not the treasury there?

The Harrisburg Item, another K. N. organ, is also severely exercised about the graceless crew. It wants to get rid of them. Hear how it agonizes:

"The fact is, legislation has fallen into bad hands. A set of political scoundrels took advantage of the late revolution in politics[al] sentiment, and, where they did not honestly succeed, fraud was resorted to in order to accomplish the object. The legislation of this session, its glaring absurdities and villainy, to make use of the mildest terms, will be execrated by every honest man in the Commonwealth. The honor of the State is bartered and sold by a secret conclave, as if they had no masters, nor in any way responsible to public opinion. Yorkers are also cluttered amid boisterous merriment, and foreign railroad capitalists are the "lions" who are worshipped at the shrine of Mammon. When will Moses descend from the mount and cast down the golden calf?"

A correspondent of the Chambersburg Whig, which was also one of them, not long since, thus daguerreotypes the Solons chosen by the pure party which was to reform our politics so amazingly:

"—This is one of the legislatures—it emphatically is! In many respects it is without precedent, and but for the fortunate constitutional limitation, would probably be without end of years. In the Senate there is some little care taken in legislation, but in the House there is neither political discipline, ordinary industry or average honesty. It strikes an unsophisticated citizen like your correspondent, as would a loose aggregation of jackasses, with a horse thrown in here and there to break the monotony of the braying. If we do not quite run an institution in some very wooden country, for it can not log-roll any style of log-rolling ever before conceived of. It passes new counties with a perfect yell—all by about the same vote, unless more are asleep, absent, or—oh! I'll never mention it—than usual. It passes new Banks as fast as they are called up—either in or out of regular order—increases the capital of as many as give a respectable wink on the subject, and would run through re-charters for all the banks between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia against time, on a wager of fried oysters against 'suthin' to take.'"

We object, somewhat, to the sweeping recital here made, for, strange to relate! two new county bills were defeated on Wednesday. There was probably nothing in them.

When we reflect that this legislature was chosen by an entirely new party—a party which derived its eclat and its power by harping upon the story that "the old parties were so corrupt!"—hopelessly given over to reprobacy, and which flaunted huge promises in the public eye that it would reform all these things,—would choose men fresh from the people, honest men, free from the taint of demagogueism—when, we say, we call these things to remembrance, and ponder over the fact that the legislature chosen by this new party as its embodiment has had everything its own way, what a commentary is afforded in the fact that this legislature, this honest legislature, fresh from the people and blooming with virgin purity, has turned out the most corrupt, shameless and worthless legislature ever assembled in the State. Its base venality is a matter of notoriety, so much so that even its party friends denounce it as "the essence of corruption;" and besides being mercenary beyond all example, it has ended by being ridiculous, a butt for jeer and mockery, and the laughing-stock of the whole Commonwealth.

If these things be done in the green tree, what may we expect when it comes to bear fruit in its season?

SPRING CROPS.—The papers, east and west, are calling on the farmers to put in large crops of breadstuffs this spring. We join in the call. The wheat crop may be a good and a large one, although much less is growing in Ohio than usual and the intelligence from Maryland, Virginia and eastern Pennsylvania is not favorable, but even if it should be the greatest crop ever grown that should not deter any one from covering the ground with spring crops to the fullest extent possible. The country is fast draining of its breadstuffs; and by harvest time there will be nothing left. This is an event of which we have had no precedent. Year after year we have had the enjoyment of a surplus left over, and we have not known what it is to have every nook and corner overhauled for supplies and hungry eyes turned, forward to the growing grain. An ordinary crop of wheat will not suffice to meet our own wants, much less those of other nations.—We must therefore take advantage of the opening spring and appropriate every available acre to the growing of spring wheat (where seed can be obtained,) potatoes, corn, and whatever else may serve as a substitute for wheat. Corn is the great stand-by of the west, when other grains fail, and there is no lack of seed for that crop. It ought to be planted superabundantly. Farmers need not fear low prices. The next year will furnish abundant demand for all that the soil can produce. It is famine and starvation prices that we have to fear, and not a glutted market.

Our country readers will hardly need to be argued with on this score. They have endured a winter too terrible in its experiences to warrant them in running the risk of another, if they can avoid it. The only remedy before them is to put in plenteous spring crops. The dry fall prevented them from getting in wheat freely, and they must not rely upon what the far west may produce to make up for their lack.—Let them cover every spot they can occupy with something that will do for the sustenance of man or beast, or both.

THE GHOST STORY on our first page is given, not for its verity, but as an illustration of peculiar credulity and hallucination. No doubt the man who swears to the story believes it; but so did those who swore to witchraft in the days when that delusion abounded. This is an age of intelligence and progress, as compared with those preceding it; but in the midst of our intelligence and progress such instances as this remind us that superstition worthy of the dark ages exists all around us.

A FREZE.—At last, and much later than usual, we have a "fresh" in the river. At this all eyes sparkle, faces look joyful, and the hearts of lumbermen grow light and happy. Our village, this morning, (Monday) presents a lively scene. "Hurrying to and fro," is the order of the day. The surface of the river, for some distance up and down, is thickly dotted with lumber fleets, which the merry raftsmen are preparing for the voyage down. A number have already started, and others are soon to start. We heard a raftsman remark that there were seventeen hundred thousand feet of lumber to come down from Olean, N. Y. If the river keeps up, we shall have many new arrivals daily for several weeks to come. We shall also expect steamboats up shortly. Wishing the raftsmen a safe and pleasant voyage—the lumbermen quick sales, large profits, a speedy return, and bags full of money —we bid them a hearty God-speed and adieu.—Warren (Pa.) Ledger.

AMERICAN SYMPATHY WITH DESPOTISM.—The New Orleans Bee publishes an extract from a letter to an eminent foreigner in that city from a Russian friend residing in St. Petersburg. It purports to give the last words of the Czar, or rather the words uttered by him during his last illness. Of course, he made himself out an injured and an innocent man. Among the other sayings attributed to him are the following:

"As for Germany, Austria and Prussia, they would not now exist, if I had not saved them, when they crouched at my feet six years ago—they think to strengthen themselves in the mighty struggle between the other nations of Europe.—But they never have been and never will be more than secondary powers, satraps holding authority by the clemency of my House, or by permission of the Western Powers. Yet, one consolation is left to me in the midst of all this ingratitude and villainy, and that is the silent sympathy of that high-hearted people on the other side of the Atlantic, the only hearts in which I bear an echo of my struggles against united Europe. Never have I forgotten the smallest kindness shown to me by the least of my subjects; let my children never forget what we owe to America, and if ever an hour of danger darkens around the Union, let her find a faithful ally in my family."

Now, we have no idea that the dying Czar ever uttered the words put into his mouth by this letter writer; but if he did, he was mightily mistaken in supposing that he enjoyed the sympathy of the American people, silent or otherwise. The fire-eaters of the South sided with him, naturally, because they love despotism for its own sake; and a small class in the North did likewise from a morbid hatred of England and a determination to think that nation always wrong; but the intelligent masses of the American people look upon the Russian Government as one so thoroughly despotic as to cut it off from everything like sympathy or hearty good will.

Result of Hindooism at the West:

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., Tuesday, April 3, 1855.

We had our Charter Election here yesterday, and I write to inform you of the result, and the effect which "Hindooism" has had here upon the Republican party. As you are aware, we had to elect a Judge for the Supreme Court, Judge Crawford's term having expired. You are also aware that, of the three Judges of which our Supreme Court is composed, Crawford is the only one who admits the constitutionality of the Fugitive Slave act.

The Republican party, last fall, were in a majority in the State; they were in a majority in this city, and elected a Republican Assemblyman. I mention this to show that that party had the power to endorse the decision of Judges Smith and Whiton in the late Booth and Rycroft case. That it was the duty of that party, and that it was of vital importance that they should do so, I need not tell you. Let us see how far they have succeeded in this city—I have heard of no other poll. Judge Crawford was a candidate for re-election—the candidate of the Sham Democracy and the friends of the usurpations of the slave power. Orsamus Cole was the candidate of the Republican party. Well, as I said before, that party had a majority in this city last fall. A majority of the voters here are of foreign birth, and the Germans quite generally went with the Republicans in opposing Slavery. So they would have have done this spring, but for the course taken by a few Hindoos.

About a month since, some men who had acted with the Republican party last fall, began to whisper their apprehensions of the danger of Catholicism and their hatred of foreigners in general. Strange tales were told, with shudders and shrugs as accompaniments, of diamond barrels of bones having been found in our cisterns filled with fire-arms, for the use of the Roman Catholic Church. Secret meetings were held, and threats were thrown out, that the rule of foreigners was ended—that is, that foreigners should no longer hold offices, or, as those owls expressed it, that "America must be ruled by Americans." The demagogues of Locofocoism, of course, knew how to avail advantage of this, and they did so. The result was, that all the Germans who had acted with us last fall were driven back into the ranks of the sham Democrats. They cared more for their own liberties, of course, than for those of the negro race; and after the votes were counted, last evening, Pro-Slavery ism built bonfires in our streets in rejoicing for a "Democratic victory!" Yes, Crawford had a majority of 279 out of about 700 votes cast, and the whole Crawford City ticket was elected by 250 majority.

Emigrants for Kansas still arrive in our city in great numbers, and are leaving by the hundreds on the steamers for St. Louis and thence to Kansas. It is estimated that within the past two months fifty thousand persons, with their movables, have thus passed through our city for the far West. The figures may be relied on as being correct.—*Cin. The Greatest Medical Discovery OF THE AGE.

Mr. Kennedy, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cure every kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates, of its value, all within the last twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth
One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples of the face.
Two to three bottles will clear the system of blotches.
Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.
Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of scrofulas.
One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.
Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.
Three to five bottles are warranted to cure corrupt, and running ulcers.
One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.
Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.
Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of rheumatism.
Three to four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum
Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula
A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Nothing looks so impossible to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing in the pastures, and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system; yet it is now a well established fact. (Certificates can be seen.) There are no ifs nor ands, hums or ha's about it pulling some cases and not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know its effects in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I cure it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, sorry looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to perfect health of health 2d time.

To those who are subject to a sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief to catarrh and dizziness. Some who have been costive for years, have taken it, been regulated by it. There their body is sound, it work quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular results, but you must not be alarmed—they always disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it. On the contrary, when that feeling is gone you will feel yourself like a new person. Heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that man ever listened to. No change of diet is ever necessary—eat the best you can get, and in the quantity you are used to. Has cured some stirred in sweet oil, dissolves Scrofulous swelling of the neck and under the ears. Price 50 cents. Price of the Medical Discovery $1 per bottle.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—In adult, one table-spoonful pe day. Children over eight years, dessert spoonful; children from five to eight years, tea-spoonful. No deviation can be made applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

Also, the Liniment for external application in bad cases of scrofula.

Sold, wholesale and retail, at Dr. KEYSER'S, 140 Wood street, corner of Virgin alley. feb26

A Special Bulletin for the Sick.—Dr. Morse's Invigorating Cordial relieves with wonderful rapidity every disorder incident to the digestive apparatus; restores the appetite; corrects the nervous system; hardens the muscles, braces the nerves, gives elasticity to the spirits, recruits the mental energies, banishes despondency, imparts to the attenuated frame a more robust appearance; allays nervous irritation, subdues the disturbed circulation, builds up the shattered constitution; and may be taken without fear by the feeblest maiden, wife or mother, as it is composed solely of the juices of rare Oriental herbs, potent only to invigorate, sustain and restore.

If the system has become relaxed by improper indulgences, the Cordial will infuse a more vigorous vitality into every organ. The inestimable resulting from its use for one close application to labor of the mind, or body, is quickly removed by its action, and ladies engaged in sedentary occupations, and such as to inconvenience therefrom, will find it a safe and healthy stimulant. Where the circulation of the blood is languid, and the nervous energies prostrated, or any of the secretions are vitiated or imperfectly performed, it will restore the natural action and communicate permanent energy to the secretive and distributive organs.

Those who are bowed down by physical debility, and so feeble as to despair of ever recovering the vigor and vim of manhood, are invited to give this wonderful invigorant a trial. It embodies the elements of their restoration.—Before they have consumed the first bottle, they will be conscious that the recuperative principle is at work in every debilitated portion of their frames, and hope, soon to be realized in their thorough recovery, will spring up in their hearts.

The Cordial is put up, highly concentrated, in pint bottles. Price $3 per bottle, or half a dozen for $12.

Dr. Fitch's Opinion of my Braces.

DR. GEORGE H. KEYSER—Dear Sir: In reply to yours of the 18th inst., requesting my opinion of your Shoulder Braces, I would say that I consider it one of the best ever devised, and would add that I have myself been long in the habit of employing a somewhat similar Brace with the greatest advantage in cases of contraction of the chest by stooping, whether from habit, corruption or debility, more especially where there is weakness or irritation about the lungs, and no or less predisposition to consumption—with the philosophy of its effects in these cases, you are of course acquainted. In some forms of heart disease, or sympathetic excitement of that organ, I have also found the Shoulder Brace of advantage. I do not hesitate to recommend your Braces in all cases where a Brace is required, as one of the most easy and efficient yet in use.

Very truly yours, CALVIN M. FITCH.
