 was beset with great difficulties, and they were of two kinds. It was difficult to maintain the of two kinds. It was uncourt to institution the law as it was, and it was extremely difficult to alter it in a satisfactory manner. Those who said that the maintenance of the fabric of the atter to in the maintenance of the fabric of the object was part of the law of the land should recollect, he said, that by a recent decision there was no power of eaforcing it. Some alteration of the law was therefore desirable, wenn in the interest of the established Church. When it was said that this bill was identical with that of last year, he did not think that quite correct. Some modifications had been shadowed out as contain-ed in the present bill, and he should oppose its ed in the present bill, and he should oppose its Was in December last.
